Eugene Area Leads In Lumber Production

Salem — (U.P.) — More than half of the lumber produced in the United States comes from forests within a 300-mile radius of Eugene, according to the State Forestry Department.

Softwood lumber production, comprised largely of Douglas fir and Ponderosa pine, approaches some 15,000,000,000 board feet. Douglas county is the leading log producer with 1,500,000,000 board feet in 1953, and exceeds by 50 per cent all of the timber cut in Texas.

Lane county is second leading producer with 1 1/3 billion board feet and furnishes more lumber to the nation's economy

YOU CAN'T IGNORE THE STATISTICS

A familiar device of every ready operators working up business for themselves and the hospital is this:

"The child will probably continue to have one cold after another until those bad tonsils are removed."

This shabby trick disarms countless parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts, big brothers or sisters who might otherwise save the child from a major operation.

Notice, please, the tonsil snatchers give no guarantee or commitment of any kind. They leave it to the gullible guardians to draw the inference that tonsillectomy will put an end to the usual childhood illnesses.

Well, now, what can parents, grandparents, uncles, aunts, etc. who have gotten beyond the third grade in school learn from the most authoritative statistics available today concerning the effects of tonsillectomy? I'll cite these statistics for you, or, if you'd rather study the question first-hand, you may find in your public library the book from which I quote: Children's Tonsils In and Out, by Albert D.

Around Hollywood

By ALINE MOSBY

United Press Correspondent

Editor's note: Aline Mosby is on vacation. Today's guest columnist is director Budd Boetticher, Hollywood's only real bullfighter. He tells why he risks death in the ring.

By BUDD BOETTICHER

Written for United Press

Hollywood — (U.P.) — Several weeks ago I was celebrating the fact my picture "The Magnificent Matador," was ready to be shown, so it seemed logical to accept an invitation to go to the border city of Tijuana, Mexico, to fight the brave bulls.

A handful of years have passed since I was in a bull ring, an arena that has fascinated me from the moment I first stepped into one as a torero at the tender age of 19. That was more than 15 years ago. Since then whenever opportunity has arisen between pictures, I've tried to block out time for bull fighting.

Many people have attempted to explain that fascination of the bulls for the audience as well as the fighter. When it was announced I would actually be going into the ring again, I knew many of my Hollywood friends would be in the audience looking for the answer.

No Psychiatrist

Now it's true a man can get killed fighting bulls. And many of them do.

Why do I do it then? Making pictures in Hollywood can be an exciting, highly profitable and quite frequently, an ulcer-provoking business. I don't have ulcers. Nor do I visit a psychiatrist.

I fight bulls instead. I trimmed down to 176 pounds for the fight. I never felt better in my life. I became a different man, a man with a purpose. And though this was, I believe, the 28th time I'd been in the ring, it was the first time I felt no fear at all.

I was going to do something I was not at all sure I could do and if I failed the penalty would be tougher than one connected

West Coast-Europe Air Route Sought

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Trans World Airlines announced yesterday that it has filed application with the Civil Aeronautics Board in Washington to establish direct service between the West Coast and Europe.

The company asked approval of Los Angeles, San Francisco, Oakland, Portland Seattle as co-terminals on TWA international routes, thus permitting use of the shortest and most direct course from the Far West to London and Paris.

TWA said its aircraft may or may not fly a so-called "polar route," but will be free to choose the most advantageous high altitude course depending upon winds and pressure patterns.

The airline presently operates one-plane international service to Europe from Chicago, Detroit, New York, Philadelphia and Boston.

Soviet Union To Return American Naval Vessels

Kiel, Germany — (U.P.) — The Soviet Union will return 62 American naval vessels, received during World War II under the lend-lease agreement, to the U.S. Navy at this north German Baltic Sea port starting next month, it was announced Wednesday.

The Schleswig-Holstein state government said the vessels, 56 torpedo boats and six small ships equipped to hunt submarines, are currently stationed in Soviet and Soviet-occupied ports in the Baltic Sea area. The announcement said the ships would be returned in groups of 10 to 15 vessels during the next three months.

Kaiser, M. D., published by Lippincott, 1932. Dr. Kaiser's statistics are the most authoritative we have today, and I do hereby solemnly promise to make public apology, retraction, correction, or amendment if any reputable physician or group of physicians can show that there are today any more authoritative or more carefully compiled statistics on the effects of tonsillectomy on the frequency of so-called "colds" in childhood than Dr. Kaiser's.

Information obtained from parents of 4,400 Rochester school children between four and seven years of age showed that 42 per cent were subject to three or more "colds" a year. For various reasons physicians advised removal of the tonsils and adenoids of the 4,400 children.

Among the 2,200 children whose tonsils and adenoids had been removed 22 per cent (484 children) were still subject to repeated "colds." Among the 2,200 whose tonsils and adenoids were not removed 31 per cent (692 children) still had repeated "colds."

In view of these statistics I must say I don't see how any
