Bruce Cudd Meets Conrad In French Quarter-Finals

Paris, France—(U.P.)—Lt. Joe Conrad of San Antonio, Tex., who hopes to complete an international "grand slam" this weekend, played compatriot Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., today in the quarter-finals of the French Amateur golf championship.

Paris—(U.P.)—Bruce Cudd of Portland, Ore., gained the quarter-finals of the French Amateur golf championship by defeating Rene Cartier of France 5 and 3 and Kim Hall of Britain 3 and 2.

Joe Black Saved From Farm Trip

Brooklyn—(U.P.)—Pitcher Joe Black of the Dodgers was saved from the minors today by a broken bone in another man's wrist.

Black was traded to Cincinnati Thursday for about $15,000 in cash and a minor league player to be delivered later to one of the Dodger farms. The Redlegs, already desperate for pitching, decided to gamble on Brooklyn's hero of the 1952 campaign, when they learned that Bud Podbielan, a starting hurler, had smashed a small bone in the wrist of his pitching hand sliding into a base on Tuesday.

Black had been up for sale for some time but nobody had made a satisfactory offer for him until General Manager Gabe Paul of the Redlegs closed the deal.

Conrad surprised the golfing world last Saturday by winning the British Amateur crown at St. Annes, England, and earlier teamed with Cudd in leading the U.S. Walker Cup team to victory over Britain at St. Andrews, Scotland.

Campbell Plays
Bill Campbell of Huntington, W. Va., captain of the Yanks' Walker Cup squad, also held down a berth in today's quarter-finals, along with Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., and Lt. Jim Gray of Jacksonville, Fla.

Campbell was pitted against A. H. Perowne of Britain, Bisplinghoff met K. G. Thom of France, and Gray played Henry de Lamaze of France, the defending champion.

The semi-finals also were scheduled today, with the winners meeting Saturday in a 36-hole final.

CP-MEDFORD LEGION TEAM LAKEVIEW HOST ON SUNDAY

Three members of the Central Point-Medford American Legion junior baseball aggregation will be missing Sunday but there'll be boys ready and willing to take their places when the locals tackle Lakeview in a district doubleheader at the Medford senior high field.

First Baseman and outfielder Ed Reinking will be absent because of Beaver Boys State. Outfielder Paul Eckel and Third Baseman Lyman Stubbs head for National Guard camp tonight.

With the three gone the outfield probably will be picked from among Eldon Francis, Dennis King, Ron Pruitt and Henry Putney. In the infield Dick McLaughlin may be at first base, Larry Perkins at second and Jim Putney at third with Gordon Owsley or Dick Paup at shortstop.

Hermann, Sides Named
Fred Herrmann, who tossed a one-hitter at Ashland last week, and Duane Sides are expected to get mound call again with Henry Putney and Jim Darland available for relief. Laval Meunier may catch both games.

There is no way to actually compare the Central Point-Medford and Lakeview teams. However, Medford won 4 to 3 and 1 to 0 last Sunday from Ashland while Klamath Falls was pasting Lakeview 22 to 3 and 7 to 1. Klamath Falls vies at Ashland today.

Game time here Sunday is at 2 p.m.
Manager Alva Perkins heads for a Lions club convention this week end and Cliff McLean, who has resumed coaching duties, will be in charge of the CP-Medford team.

Oak Knoll Host To Crescent City

Ashland—Oak Knoll Men's Golf club will be host on Sunday to about 25 men from Del Norte Golf clubbers of Crescent City, Calif.

Matches will begin at 9 a.m. Oak Knoll members have been requested to sign up by Saturday night.
Ashland linksmen are returning hospitality for a trip to Crescent City last year.

Club Slates Cycle Meet

Mount Ashland Motorcycle club will hold a field meet and hill climb on Sunday, June 12, starting at 1 p.m.

Participants are asked to come to the clubgrounds from noon to 12:30 p.m. to register for the meet. There will be a small fee for riders.

Eleven events are planned with slow and fast races and runs requiring skill and riding ability. The climb will be a separate event with a trophy going to the rider with the fastest time up the hill.

A trophy will be presented to the high point men in the field events with merchandise awards for runner-up and third place winners.

The public is invited and the club will have a refreshment concession. Clubgrounds are on Coleman Creek rd. about 2½ miles west of Phoenix. Those wishing to see the meet are advised to "follow the signs."

Fourmile Lake Now Accessible

Another Cascade mountain lake in Jackson county is now accessible for anglers, it was reported today.

The road to Fourmile lake was open and should be all right for passenger cars, it was said.

The Sid Bloods said that the boat concession will be in operation.

Fish Lake Routes In Good Shape

Roads to Fish lake are in excellent shape this week end, Lloyd Morris, proprietor of the angling resort has reported.

He said that the forest service and loggers have graded both the route from Butte Falls and the one by way of McAlister springs.

Fishing was listed as having been "very good" at Fish lake during the past few days. Angling was fair at Willow lake.

KLEFFNER SIGNED

Moscow, Ida—(U.P.)—Flip Kleffner, star third baseman of the University of Idaho baseball team, has been signed by the Philadelphia Phillies of the National League. Danny Regan, the Phils' West coast scout, said Kleffner will report to Philadelphia this week end and probably will be assigned in two weeks to Schenectady of the Appalachian league.

The northernmost point in the United States is the Lake of the Woods projection in Minnesota.

Fanfare

By DICK JEWETT
Mail Tribune Sports Editor

Southern Oregon golfing fans will see two of the top touring professionals at Rogue Valley Country club on Monday, June 20. Billy Maxwell, Odessa, Tex., and Bo Winger, Oklahoma City, Okla., will oppose Pro Al Williams and Manager George Harrington in an exhibition match. A clinic will follow. The two will be en route from the U. S. Open at San Francisco to the eastern Open at Portland. No gallery fee will be charged for the afternoon affair.

PHIL QUALIFIES
Phil Getchell, Stanford university student and ex-Medford high player, qualified for the U. S. Open at San Francisco with a 72-74-146 card, according to a San Francisco report. Getchell was runner-up last year in the Western Amateur and the Southern Oregon tournament and has been a standout for Stanford.

PLACES IN MONEY
Have received a note from Fred Anderson, Medford Bowling lanes proprietor, who is attending a school for kegling alley operators at Chicago. He, Fred Stevens and Bud Wilson, Medford, rolled in the American Bowling congress tourney at Fort Wayne, Ind. Anderson and Stevens were on a Grants Pass team entry. He said that the quint placed in the money. Some of the Grants Pass "boys" placed in singles but the Medfordites couldn't compile scores good enough.

Anderson enclosed a newspaper picture of Glen Gorbous, 1949 Medford Nugget baseballer now a Philadelphia Phils outfielder. Gorbous is shown sliding into second base against the Cubs. Also enclosed was a yarn mentioning Gorbous' single as a part of a five-run uprising against Chicago.

REPORT GAMES
Now that there is no formal softball play this year, this department would appreciate having scores and highlights turned in in tussles involving local teams. Unless someone makes an effort to let us know about them, we may not hear about them.

LEADS HARDTOPS
Another note, signed by one D.B., comes from Redding, Calif., and mentions that Mrs. Bonnie Waterston, former Medford resident, is putting up point lead in Shasta Racing association hardtop auto meets. She has won two of three starts.

200 FEET FORECAST
Prediction: Eldon Francis, Medford high's javelin star, will hit the 200-foot mark frequently next year.

SEVEN STRAIGHT GAMES
Wire service report concerning Ray Perry, former skipper of the Redding baseball club in the Far West league; Perry, now managing Cedar Rapids, Ia., of the Three I League, got seven hits in seven games. All were home runs.

GET UO AARDS
Several Medford preppers recently received spring athletics awards at University of Oregon: Terry Maddox, baseball; Ed Bingham and Jack Moad, varsity track; Justin Smith, golf; Jack Morris, Burt Williams and Norm Chapman, freshman track.
