Bo Winger, Bill Maxwell To Play Here

Two of the top professional golfers this season will display their prowess to valley links enthusiasts on Monday, June 20. The special attraction brings Billy Maxwell and Bo Winger to Rogue Valley Country club for 18-hole four-ball competition with two home club players.

Maxwell, who hails from Odessa, Tex., was at last tabulation, this season's fifth ranking money winner on the professional circuit. Winger, from Oklahoma City, Okla., is eighth in winnings.

Play Local Men
The rivalry here puts the two visitors against RV Manager George Harrington, one of Oregon's leading amateurs and Club Pro Al Williams. Best ball action is to begin at 1 p.m. Maxwell and Winger will conduct a clinic starting at 5 p.m.

Both the exhibition and the clinic are open to the public. No charge will be made to spectators.

Maxwell was the 1951 national amateur champion and won the Willington open this year. Winger won the Baton Rouge open and holds the record for 18 holes in a Professional Golfers association tournament with a 60. The two will come here en route to the Western Open at Portland following the U. S. Open at San Francisco. Both performed recently in the Tournament of Champions at Las Vegas, Nev.

Al Kader Temple Headquarters for Shrine Grid Mix

Portland — Headquarters for the eighth annual Shrine Hospital All-Star football game, scheduled for August 20 in Multnomah stadium here, have been established in the Al Kader temple, 1119 S.W. Park ave., Eugene. W. Ferguson, deputy police chief and managing director of the game, announced. Mrs. Jo Ryan is in charge of the headquarters again this year, and mail orders for reserved seats are being accepted, Ferguson reported.

Ferguson has written to players and coaches of the State and Metropolitan teams, advising them to report here Saturday night, August 6. The State team will be quartered at the Washington hotel and the Metro squad at Lewis and Clark college.

Participants were advised that there will be a luncheon meeting of both squads on August 7 at Multnomah Athletic club, at which time tickets and playing equipment will be issued. Picture-taking will follow the luncheon session. Actual practice will get under way August 8.

The Metro team will work out at Lewis and Clark but no field has been selected as yet for the State team.

Hollingberry to Head Northwest B League

Yakima, Wash.—(U.P.)—"Babe" Hollingberry has been named president of the class "B" Northwest baseball league succeeding Art Pohlman of Wenatchee who resigned due to the pressure of business.

Al Molgren of Yakima, designated to contact Hollingberry in San Francisco, said Hollingberry accepted the position in a telephone conversation and would assume office June 15.

BASILIO GAINS WELTER TITLE; STOPS DEMARCO

Syracuse, N. Y.—(U.P.)—Hatch-faced, sail-eared Carmen Basilio—who battered the welterweight crown off Tony DeMarco's head—said, "I want to defend the title as soon as possible."

The new king of the 147-pounders declared, "I want to be a fighting champion. I want to make money. I'd like to defend within three months, possibly against Johnny Saxton. But that's all up to my managers."

Basilio, a former onion-farmer, who was so disgusted with his prize-fighting career that he retired temporarily four years ago, was admittedly "tickled pink" by his technical knockout victory over stocky DeMarco of Boston Friday night in the 12th round.

Bonus Given As Reason For Failure

By BILL FERGUSON
United Press Sports Writer
Atlanta—(U.P.)—Seven years ago Hugh Frank Radcliffe was considered one of the brightest baseball prospects south of the Mason-Dixon Line, a prospect worth the price of a bonus.

Today Radcliffe is finished with baseball, probably forever, a 26-year-old "has been."

And Hugh thinks the fact that he was worth a bonus is the big reason he never made the grade to the big leagues.

Radcliffe was 19 when the Philadelphia Phillies gave him a $40,000 for inking a Philly contract in 1948, and just as eager as any teen-ager to get to the top as fast as possible, particularly on a "earn as you learn" basis.

Would By-Pass Bonus
If he had it to do over again, he would have by-passed the bonus, Radcliffe said, but at the time it seemed tailor-made for his plans.

A Philly scout first spotted Radcliffe playing with an American Legion team. The youngster had everything needed to make him a big league pitching prospect, a blazing fast ball, good control and a cool head.

Radcliffe posted a respectable record of seven wins and three setbacks in his rookie year at Wilmington, N. C., in the Class B Interstate League.

Next he was sent to Toronto of the Class AAA International League in 1949, a big jump for any youngster. At Toronto he pitched only two games because of his inexperience. He asked to be sent back to the "bush" leagues so that he could get in some work, but he remained at Toronto.

The handsome "bonus baby" reached the end of his disappointing career in 1952 with Binghamton, N. Y., in the Eastern League. He said he was called off the bench during a chilly night and went to the mound without a proper warm-up. His arm went bad and it's never been the same.

Hugh, who lives with his pretty wife and three children in Commerce, Ga., and works as a lineman with the telephone company, is not bitter about his experience.

NW League Batters Led By Lundgren

Wenatchee — (U.P.) — Chuck Lundgren of Wenatchee paced Northwest League hitters with a .389 mark in games through June 7, latest league statistics showed today.

Herman Lewis of Yakima reigned as the loop's hit specialist, however, with a total base mark of 105, a three-base record of 8 and a total of 59 hits—all tops for the Class B circuit.

Bob Duretti of Wenatchee ruled the power department with eight homers and 54 runs batted in while teammate Lloyd Jenney scored the most times—46, and had the most walks, 51.

14 Doubles
Millie Layne, Lewiston manager, with 14 doubles led in that department and Joe Jacobs of the Lewiston club had stolen a high 15 bases. Jack Steinagel of Salem fanned the most times—32.

In the pitching department, Bob Roberts of Wenatchee posted the most victories, 10, although Berlyn Hodges of Eugene still was undefeated at 6-0.

Roberts led in strikeouts with 53, in walks with 59 and in innings pitched with 89. Bill Franks of Lewiston had appeared in the most complete games, 8. Doug Reid of Yakima and Gene Hayden of Wenatchee had uncorked eight wild pitches apiece and four hurlers were low on the totem pole with six losses apiece.

The two Spokane-Tri-City games of June 5 and the Salem-Wenatchee game of June 7 were not included in the statistics.

Gum Habit May Have Been Help To J. Dempsey

Atlantic City, N.J.—(U.P.)—The chewing gum habit may have been partially responsible for Jack Dempsey retaining his world heavyweight title in the 1921 bout with Georges Carpentier.

British Dr. James Hamilton . . . Duggart told the American Medical association convention that jaw muscles developed by chewing gum saved the champ from being knocked out when Carpentier hit him near his mandibular symphysis.

Duggart told the American Hospital, London, verbally flailed boxing as a sport and told the convention pounders the brain with fists is "barbarism."

The English physician said the Dempsey-Carpentier 1921 fight illustrated how gloves "protect the striker not the receiver." He said old bareknuckle fighters "would have pounded their knuckles to pulp" if they knew how to punch.

"Perhaps Dempsey was saved by extra layers of jaw muscles which he had assiduously cultivated by chewing resin gum," but "the impact broke Carpentier's right thumb in spite of the glove and Dempsey dispatched him two rounds later," he said.

Yale-Army Track Team, English Squad Tie

London—(U.P.)—The combined track and field team from Yale and Army raced to an 8 to 8 tie against an Oxford-Cambridge team today in their international meet at White City Stadium.

The Britons led going into the final event, but the Yale-Army team tied the match by winning the 440-yard relay. The scoring of the meet was based on winners only in the 16-event meet.

STEPMOTHER DIES

Klamath Falls — (U.P.)—Mrs. Irvin Weiser, Beatty, was killed shortly before midnight Thursday night when struck by a car on Bly mountain about 30 miles east of here, state police reported. She was the stepmother of Ralph Weiser, a boxer who died a few months ago after a local prizefight.

Fangio Withdraws From Marred Le Mans Marathon

Le Mans, France — (U.P.)—Pace-setter Juan Manuel Fangio of Argentina was forced to withdraw from the 24-hour, non-stop Le Mans auto race early this morning on orders from the German owners of his Mercedes racer.

The directors of the Mercedes auto company in Germany telephoned racing manager Alfred Neubauer at Le Mans and ordered him to withdraw the two Mercedes cars remaining in the race as a gesture of mourning to the persons who were killed when one of their entries crashed into the crowd.

As a result of this action, a Jaguar driven by Mike Hawthorn of England took over the lead in the tragedy-marred race, but it was reported the Jaguars also planned to withdraw.

Neubauer said the whole Mercedes team wished to express "sorrow and sympathy" for the families of those killed. When the Mercedes cars were withdrawn, Fangio, regarded as the world's greatest driver, held a two-lap lead over the rapidly-dwindling field.

The Argentine speed demon gained an early lead and was speeding along at a record-breaking pace through the early stages of the gruelling marathon.

Track officials reported Fangio was averaging 186 kilometers per hour, a record for the jagged course.

Fangio completed 83 laps in five hours, 57 minutes, 15.8 seconds, while Hawthorn was clocked in 5:57.074 for 81 laps.

Phil Hill of Santa Monica, Calif., teaming with Italy's Umberto Maglioli, remained in a contending position through the early stages but his Ferrari was beginning to show signs of strain.

Another American entry, driven by Phil Dalters of Palm Beach, Fla., and William Spear of Westport, Conn., dropped out before the end of the sixth hour. (See Story on Page One)

Home runs in a cluster brought life back to the collapsed Cleveland Indians Saturday after they handed the first place Yankees five runs in the first inning, then went on to win 7-6 in a tenacious uphill battle climaxed by Bobby Avila's game-winning single with two out in the ninth.

But the big lift came in a cannon-ball fourth when Al Rosen and Vic Kertz drilled two-run homers off Lefty Ed Lopat and Jim Hegan made it an equalizing five-run rally with a bases-empty blast.

The opening Yankee rally was sparked by Ed Robinson's three-run homer.

Art Houtteman, who pitched eight innings of five-hit relief ball, found his fifth triumph in the ninth when Avila brought in the game-breaker after Hegan singled.

Trucks' 4th Straight

Virgil Trucks won his fourth straight game and his sixth of the year, pitching the White Sox to a 10-0 triumph over Washington. In achieving his 23rd victory against only nine defeats in his career over the Nats, Trucks scattered seven hits. Chicago pounced on Dean Stone for four runs in the first inning and breezed to a 14-hit triumph.

Detroit ended Boston's five-game winning streak after the Red Sox scored four runs in the opening inning, finally taking the decision, 7-5, on splendid relief pitching by rookie Werner Birrer and timely hitting by Ferris Fain and Al Kaline.

Vic Raschi's comeback pitching job, a five-hitter, gave the Kansas City Athletics a 2-1 triumph over the Baltimore Orioles. Joe Demaestri brought home both K.C. runs with a double in the fourth inning off loser Duane Pillette, making his first start after overcoming an elbow ailment.

Two Homers Win

The Braves, acting much like their fellow Indians of the American League, also rallied late for a 7-4 triumph at Pittsburgh on homers by Billy Bruton and Johnny Logan in the ninth. Bruton's homer came with a runner on base and assumed Gene Conley of his eighth victory. Pittsburgh scored all of its runs in the first inning.

The unbelievable Dodgers cashed in on another home run spree to make it two straight over the Cubs, beating them 4-3 on the margin of Duke Snider's 18th homer in the seventh. All their other runs were on homers by Junior Gilliam, Gil Hodges, and Roy Campanella, giving them a total of 86 for the year. Jim King hit a three-run homer for all of Chicago's runs.

Wes Wins 880; Falls Short of Own Record

Stockton, Calif. — (U.P.)—Wes Santee of Kansas beat University of Pittsburgh star Arnie Sowell in the half mile run of the Pacific Association AAU track and field meet Friday night, but fell short of his own recent time that bettered the recognized world record.

Santee covered the 880 yards in 1:49.1 and hit the tape about three strides in front of Sowell to hand the Pitt star his first major defeat in the half mile.

The Kansas runner surprised the track and field world three weeks ago in the California Relays at Modesto by shifting from his favored mile distance to the half mile and beating the recognized world mark with a time of 1:48.5. The official world record of 1:48.6 is shared by Mal Whitfield of Los Angeles and Gunnar Nielsen of Denmark but Lon Spurrier of San Francisco ran a 1:47.5 half last March.

William (Bumper) Watson of the University of Florida tied a stadium record by winning the 100 yard dash in 9.6. He also took the 220 with a time of 20.9 and was voted the outstanding performer of the meet.

The Oklahoma A&M mile relay team, which got little competition from the Santa Clara Youth center in a two-team race, failed in its bid for a mile relay record. The Aggies were clocked at 3:15.6, nearly eight seconds off the record mark.

Parry O'Brien of Travis Air Force Base won the shot put with a toss of 58 feet 7 inches, but fell more than two feet short of his own world mark. He also won the discus with a throw of 170 feet, 3 1/2 inches.
