Colvig Picture Illustrates Article

A picture of Pinto Colvig, who lived in Jackson county as a boy and young man, illustrates an article in the June 4 issue of Saturday Evening Post. In the article Author Keith Monroe reviews the career of Alan Livingston, executive of Capitol Records who produces records for children; which sell in enormous numbers.

Mr. Livingston produced the first album of records about Bozo, and the article tells of its sensational success and of the pattern it set for future production of records for children.

Mr. Colvig has lived in southern California for many years and has also helped to make Walt Disney movies. He is a brother of Mrs. W. J. Warner, 519 South Oakdale avenue.

Union Pacific Sets Opening of Local Office on June 16

Union Pacific railroad will open a traffic office in Medford June 16, according to an announcement by J. E. Atherton, general agent, Eugene.

Heads New Office

Appointed to head the new office as district freight and passenger agent is John C. Stromberg, former traveling freight agent, Portland. His office will be at 207 Medical Center building and his southwest Oregon territory will include the cities of Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland, Coquille, Coos Bay and North Bend.

Stromberg started his railroad career in the traffic department in Portland in 1937. He has served the company in both Seattle and Portland in various positions until he was appointed traveling freight agent in 1946 in Portland. He attended Oregon State college and Portland schools.

Chief Clerk

His chief clerk here will be Albin K. Reiss, former clerk at Eugene, who has moved to Medford with his wife and two daughters. They are living at 527 South Central ave.

Mr. and Mrs. Stromberg and their four children also will live in Medford.

Las Vegas Official Sees Gambling Ban

Honolulu, T.H.—(U.P.)—Las Vegas City Manager George Roundthwaite predicts gambling "some day" will be abolished in Nevada and indicates there would be very little unhappiness when it goes.

"Gambling is overestimated as a tourist attraction and with all the money it brings it also brings hoodlums, easy-money men, big and small time crooks," he said Sunday.

He said the big fight in Las Vegas now is to keep such elements out and that Vegas is paying $1,500,000 yearly for police protection out of a $4,000,000 city budget. He warned Hawaii not to legalize gambling, saying, "you would not be happy with it."

Detroit—(U.P.)—Jack Clapp, 70, a painter retired by the Board of Education because he was overage, said today he would make a parachute jump into Lake St. Clair June 19 to prove "I am still a good man."
