White, 443 Haven st. While here Miss Parker is employed at the White's cafe, the Clock, on East Main st. at Bartlett st.

River at Vancouver Above Flood Stage

Portland — (U.P.) — The Columbia river at Vancouver was 3.7 feet over flood stage today and was expected to rise another foot by Thursday, River Forecaster Elmer Fisher reported. The Columbia's reading at 8 a.m. was 18.7 feet, same as the Willamette in Portland. Flood stage in Portland is 18 feet and at Vancouver 15 feet. The streams rose four-tenths of a foot yesterday in the local area. However, Fisher said the Willamette above Oregon City was falling today. Tributaries east of the Cascades in Washington also were reported falling. Only minor lowland flooding has been reported along the Columbia.

HUMAN CANNONBALL—Hugo Zacchini, the "human cannonball," provides one of the spectacular moments in the Clyde Beatty Circus when he is shot from the mouth of a huge cannon. Zacchini, who travels the length of the big tent, is said to gain a speed estimated at 100 miles an hour as he leaves the cannon's mouth. The circus, sponsored by the Allied Veterans Council, will be held at the county fairgrounds at 2:30 and 8 p.m. Thursday.

Portland Contractors To Stick To Demands

Portland — (U.P.) — Members of the building contractor industry in Portland declared today they would stand pat on their dispute with AFL Carpenters over wages and charged that leaders of the union were seeking "extraordinary personal power."

Clell Harris, secretary of the Portland district council of carpenters, countered that contractors were trying to "get him" at a forthcoming union election. Carpenters have struck two divisions of Associated General Contractors and the Portland Home Builders Association, halting some 100 million dollars worth of construction in the Portland area.

Employers charged that Harris' conduct of wage talks marked "a complete perversion of honest negotiations and morality in labor-employer relations." They added that they had no intention of "buckling under."

Prosperity Seen From Automation

South Bend, Ind. — (U.P.) — Play-right Emmet Lavery says the spread of automation, with "the three or four-day week" will bring new prosperity to the American stage.

He said when that time comes "people will find in the theater which they create themselves a key to the understanding and enjoyment of the new leisure which will be theirs."

Lavery, former president of the Screen Writers Guild of Hollywood and author of "The Magnificent Yankee," was keynote speaker yesterday at the biennial convention of the Catholic Theater Conference.

The theater of the future, he said, will be "an acute social necessity." He said it will be found "in every town and city where people of imagination have the courage to face the challenge of the new era."

BUDGET APPROVED — Portland school district No. 1 last night approved a budget for 1955-56 of $26,830,010. Of this, $21,119,031 is for instruction, operation and administration and the rest for new building.

TEXT FOR TODAY — Minneapolis — (U.P.) — Pastor Elmer Hjordland made his final remarks to the large Eastern Sunday throng that attended services at Central Lutheran Church here: "We also are having services here next Sunday."

CHEESE NEWS — Plymouth, Wis. — (U.P.) — R. W. Leffler, president of the Wisconsin Cheese Exchange, reported that 5,000,000 more pounds of cheese were traded on the exchange in 1954 than in any previous year.

Retiring Railroad Superintendent Honored at Lunch

L. P. (Hoppy) Hopkins, retiring superintendent of the Portland division of the Southern Pacific railroad, was honored at a luncheon meeting here yesterday.

The gathering was attended chiefly by fruit packers and shippers, lumbermen, and others who have used the freight facilities of the SP, and who have known Hopkins for years.
Hopkins spoke briefly in appreciation of the tributes paid to him. He was presented with a "hatful" of money for the purchase of a gift for himself or Mrs. Hopkins for a trip to South America the couple is planning after his retirement takes effect at the end of this month.

49 Years With SP

Hopkins began with the railroad "sweeping out the shops" in San Francisco almost 49 years ago, and has worked in various divisions of the railroad through the years. He has been a frequent visitor to the Rogue Valley since becoming superintendent of the division.

Brief talks in his honor were made by B. L. Nutting, representing lumber interests; H. B. Murphy, representing fruit men; Bob Holmes, representing Southern Pacific employees, and Mayor Earl Miller, representing the city of Medford. Raymond Reter was master of ceremonies. About 40 persons attended the luncheon at the Medford hotel.
