Central Point-Medford will try to keep its record unblemished and Klamath Falls will attempt to get back in the win column this Sunday when the two American Legion junior baseball contingents clash on the Medford senior high school field.

A twinbill is scheduled with the starter planned for 2 p.m. Outcome of the tussles is rated a toss-up. Although the Cokes of Klamath dropped two frays to Ashland last week end and CP-Medford has tripped the Lithia nine, Klamath Falls has slightly more impressive victories over Lakeview than the locals.

Both clubs may be somewhat stronger than they were for action last Sunday. CP-Med. will have Dennis King and Ed Rein-king back from Beaver Boys State. Mickey Carney, one of the Cokes' top twirlers, may be back after missing the Ashland games.

Other probable starting hurler for Klamath is Darrell Rusth. Don Taucher and Butch Kimp-ton could see hill duty for the Cokes. Jerry Burke and Ken Bell could divide the catching.

The Medford and Central Point club's moundsmen will be picked from among Duane Sides, Fred Herrmann and Henry Put-ney. All have performed credi-tably so far. However, Herr-mann hurt his arm last Sunday. His availability for this week end has not been reported. La-val Meunier is likely catcher.

The locals still will be minus the services of two players, both attending National Guard camp. They are Paul Eckel, outfielder, and Lyman Stubbs, third base-man.

In another Sunday doublebill, Lakeview will be at Ashland.

Net Classes Will Start On Monday

Registration for summer tennis classes sponsored by the Medford public school system will be held at 9 a.m. Monday, June 20, Instructor Warren Brenner announced today.

Four classes will be con-ducted at the senior high Mon-day through Friday over a five weeks period ending July 22. They will be free of charge.

The instruction is for both boys and girls. It is planned mainly for junior and senior high school-age students. How-ever, younger boys and girls who are interested may enroll. Over 11 a.m.

Classes are planned for 7, 8, 9 and 10 a.m. and will be over by 11 a.m. Brenner pointed out that with the morning sessions heat can be avoided. If enroll-ment demands, there will be other classes with members of Medford high's title tennis squad helping out.

Only requirement is that the pupils have their own tennis shoes and racquets. However, there will be a few racquets available to borrow, Brenner stated.

A total of 48 boys and girls were enrolled last year.
