Young GOP To Map Campaign Strategy

Detroit—(U.P.)—Delegates were scheduled to map strategy for the Young Republican phase of the 1956 presidential campaign at their convention today before listening to a speech by Vice President Richard M. Nixon.

The campaign strategy meeting, one of the high points of the convention, was expected to endorse a resolution to "draft Eisenhower for re-election" and then work out plans to achieve that goal.

Nixon will deliver the principle speech of the convention tonight.

Gov. Fred Hall of Kansas sounded the call for Eisenhower support last night in a speech before the 1600 delegates at the opening day general session.

Not City Crew — The city Public Works Department reports that yesterday's incident, when Leonard Weaver's car was sprayed with white paint while parked on West Main st., did not involve a city crosswalk painting crew. Apparently a state highway department crew was to blame, as the city crew has not been out for over a week, Thorpe said.

Sparks from a trash fire ignited the grass.
