On The Side

By E. V. DURLING

Sally Rand. The very daring danseuse. Her maiden name was Helen Gould Beck. Made her debut at the Palace, New York, about 27 years ago as a toe dancer. Attracted no special attention until she became a fan dancer. She is not the "original fan dancer." Faith Bacon was the first to do the fan dance.

Says She

"That criticism of long hair styles by a woman featuring the closely clipped fashion was catty and ridiculous," writes a Baltimorean. "Long hair is woman's crowning glory. Those who have long hair wear it that way and those with a skimpy supply of hair wear it short, the poor things. Anything that makes a woman look more like a woman and less like a man adds to her charm, seductiveness and desirability. That closely clipped short hair-do decreases a woman's sex appeal about 99 per cent."

That Record

Nancye Burt, world's champion typist, is credited with a speed record of 113 words a minute. Seems typing speed should not be figured by number of words. Should be number of letters a minute. After all, do is one word, so is dogmatic. One has two letters, the other eight. So there is no sense to the "words per minute" angle.

Literary Note

Robert W. Service, who wrote "The Shooting of Dan McGrew," is now living in happy, healthy retirement on the French Riviera. He is 81. Despite the fact that his most celebrated poem had a saloon background, Mr. Service has never been in a saloon in his long life. He is a nondrinker and a non-smoker. . . . Which is the most profitable profession, law or medicine? The average annual income of lawyers in the United States is $9,375. That of doctors is $14,000.

Right Girl

Quite a few young women consider Gregory Peck as their idea of the "right man" to marry. Therefore, it may be interesting to them to know what is Mr. Peck's idea of the "right girl." He once described her as one "who has the athletic body of a Scandinavian, the keen mind of the Englishwoman, the Italian's love of music, the industry of a German hausfrau and the Frenchwoman's understanding of love.

Asking

Queries from clients. Q.—Is there really a town in the United States named Double Trouble? A.—Yes, sir. It is in New Jersey. Q.—What is the size of the principality of Monaco? A.—The tiny country you refer to has an area of only 375 acres. To give you an idea how small that is, Central Park in New York City has an area of 840 acres. Q.—Why do you persist in using the term "female" when so many women object to it? A.—There is no persistence involved. I use the term "female" when it seems apt. Any objection to that is ridiculous. If men are constantly referred to as "males" what's wrong in referring to women as "females"? Not so many women object to it, anyhow. Only those who are habitual correctors of other people's pronunciation, grammar, etc. It is a type of nagging.

MEN RESCUED

New Orleans —(U.P.)— The tug Delilah today picked up 43 men in the Gulf of Mexico after a drilling barge capsized about four miles south of Grand Isle, La. The Coast Guard said there were no drownings.
