

State Auxiliary Names Medford Woman to Office

Mrs. G. A. Dierdorff was elected president of the auxiliary to the Oregon Osteopathic association and Mrs. J. S. Heatherington was elected secretary of the group at a state convention June 13 through 15 at Portland.

Other officers are Mrs. Luceo Mossman, Oswego, president-elect; Mrs. D. B. Bond, Eugene, and Mrs. David Reid, Lebanon, first and second vice-presidents, respectively; and Mrs. E. L. Burnham, Oregon City, treasurer.

Mrs. Dierdorff also was elected to represent the group as a delegate to the national convention of the auxiliary to the American Osteopathic association to be held in July at Los Angeles.

Mrs. George S. Jennings and Mrs. W. W. Howard also attended the recent convention.

Mrs. Paul Van Allen, president of the auxiliary to the American Osteopathic association was there from Indianapolis, Ind., as the honored guest. She is a registered parliamentarian and conducted a class on parliamentary procedure.

In talking to the convention group Mrs. Van Allen said, "If you are not willing to stick your neck out in a meeting, don't stick your tongue out afterward. The time to express your views is when it will do some good and that is when the decisions are being made."

She further said, "That's one thing that the majority of women in public life has yet to learn; they can't take defeat as gracefully as men. Men can argue most vehemently, getting pretty hot under the collar, but when the meeting is over, they leave the council hall good friends."

The auxiliary program includes health and welfare problems and scholarships for young men and women entering one of the six osteopathic colleges in the country. The auxiliary also raises money for a research program of the 12,500 osteopathic physicians and surgeons of the country.

Mr. and Mrs. Donald Edward Gardner

Miss Jean Arden Kyle Wed To Donald Edward Gardner

The wedding of Miss Jean Arden Kyle to Donald Edward Gardner was an event of Sunday, June 12. The ceremony was held at First Methodist church at 2:30 o'clock in the afternoon, with Dr. Raymond E. Balcomb officiating at the double-ring rites. About 80 guests attended.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert F. Kyle, 42 South Keene Way, Medford, and the bridegroom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Gardner, Bend, Ore.

For the ceremony the bride wore a bridal gown of white lace and net over satin, ankle length, and her elbow-length veil was held by a coronet. She carried white roses and stephanotis, and a handkerchief loaned by Mrs. Ada Neal which has been used by several brides. Mr. Kyle gave his daughter in marriage.

Miss Caroline Matter of Salem was maid-of-honor, and Miss Sidney Smith, Medford, was bridesmaid. Their waltz length frocks of coral colored crystal-ette were fashioned with long bodices and very full skirts and worn with short bolero jackets. They carried white carnation bouquets.

Miss Sharon Woods, Portland, lighted the candles and little Jacalyn Lee Brown, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Brown, was flower girl. Miss Woods' dress matched that worn by the attendants and her flowers were white carnations worn as a wristlet. The flower girl wore a frock of aquamarine nylon over full skirt of white and her little bouquet of carnations matched the blossoms in her hair.

Lawrence Carroll, Bend, was best man for Mr. Gardner and ushers were Harold W. Gardner, cousin of the bridegroom, and Robert F. Kyle Jr., brother of the bride.

Mrs. Ralph Matlack was soloist, and Mrs. Gerald Sherman was at the organ. The altar bouquets and other decorations were of white gladioli and white asters, and satin ribbons marked the pew ends.

For the wedding and reception the bride's mother wore a jacket dress of white lace over black taffeta with black velvet picture hat and corsage of gold-colored orchids. The bridegroom's mother wore a dress of lavender paisley with small matching hat and white orchid corsage. The bride's grandmother, Mrs. Edith Pulley, Corvallis, wore a grey-blue print with corsage of peppermint carnations.

The reception which followed was in the church parlor. Mrs. Robert Kyle Jr., cut the cake and Mrs. Richard Kyle, another sister-in-law of the bride, poured punch. Miss Marjorie Sandfort took charge of the guest book and Miss Jerilyn Smith the gift table. The cake was cut with the heirloom knife which Mrs. W. J. Warner has loaned to many valley brides, and was also used for the weddings of the bride's two brothers.

Mr. and Mrs. Gardner are traveling in Canada for their wedding trip and their home will be at 1030 Cascade street, Redmond. Mrs. Gardner, who taught drama in Bend High school last year, will soon take up her duties as director of Christian education for Community Presbyterian church in Redmond.

The bridegroom is serving in the United States Navy and is stationed at San Diego. This fall he will be on sea duty.

The bride is a graduate of both Medford High school and Willamette university, and is a member of Alpha Chi sorority. The bridegroom is also a graduate of Willamette university and his fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon.
