

USC Wins NCAA Track Meet; Oregon Scores 29 For 4th

Los Angeles — (U.P.) — University of Oregon runners dominated the distance events here Saturday as the University of Southern California won its seventh straight National Collegiate Athletic Association track and field championship.

The Trojans picked up the crown with a total of 42 points. They were followed by UCLA with 34, Kansas with 30, and Oregon with 29.

Five new records were set and another was equalled in the two-day meet.

Oregon's Jim Bailey, a surprise entry, won the featured mile run by beating out his teammate, Bill Dellinger, the defending NCAA champion. Bailey won in 4:05.6, and Dellinger took second with a time of 4:06.1.

Close to Lead

Bailey stayed close to the lead most of the way, and moved out in front with about three-quarters of a lap to go. Dellinger, who had been running ninth, made his move as they rounded the last turn, but couldn't overhaul Bailey.

Bob Seamans, of UCLA, who had been timed in 4:01.4 last week at Compton as he finished second to Wes Santee, same in third Saturday.

Ken Reiser, Oregon's ace two-miler, took his event with a time of 9:04.5. Reiser didn't move until well into the last lap, when he used a tremendous finishing kick to defeat Jim Beatty of North Carolina, who had led all the way. Beatty was second, and Alan Frame, Kansas, placed third.

Fernando Ledesma, of USC, who broke the nine-minute mark last week at Compton, was a distant eighth yesterday.

Oregon picked up its final point when Martin Pedigo placed sixth in the broadjump with a leap of 23 feet, 3/4 inches made in Friday's preliminaries.

Church's Record Broken

Jerry Church, of Oregon State, who set a new NCAA javelin record Friday in the preliminaries with a toss of 232 feet, 6 inches, saw his record shattered Saturday. Church's short-lived mark was broken by Les Bitner, Kansas, who hurled the javelin 246 feet, 1 inch. Church ended up in third place.

Villanova's Don Bragg became the fifth athlete in world history to clear 15 feet in the pole vault with his mark of 15 feet, 1 inch for a new NCAA record. He broke the old figure of 14 feet 9 3/4 inches set by Don Laz, of Illinois, in 1951. Others who have cleared 15 are Dutch Warmerdam, world record holder at 15 feet 7 3/4 inches, and Bob Richards, Laz and Don Cooper, of Nebraska.

New Records

Other new marks were set by Ernie Shelton, of SC, who leaped 6 feet 11 1/4 inches in the high jump; Tom Courtney, Fordham, who ran the half-mile in 1:49.5, and Jim Golliday, Northwestern, who galloped the 220 in 20.9.

Milt Campbell, Indiana, equalled the meet record with a time of 13.9 in the high hurdles.

Golliday and Bill Watson, of Florida, equalled the meet record of 9.5 in the 100-yard dash.

Golliday's mark in the 220 was set during preliminary heats. He was the only double winner, taking both sprints today in 9.6 and 21.1 after his faster times in preliminary heats.

The Trojans, heavy pre-meet favorites, found the going rough Saturday, with UCLA holding the lead right up to the final event. After 13 events, with only the pole vault remaining, the Bruins led with 33 points to USC's 32. Two Trojans collected 10 points in the last event to give SC the victory.

Hotel Corporation Backed by Chamber

Portland — (U.P.) — The board of directors of Portland's chambers of commerce voted Friday to sponsor a corporation composed of local interests to negotiate with any potential builders and operators of a convention type hotel in the business district here.

Chamber President R. L. Clark said the action was taken "to advance as quickly as possible negotiations with Leo Corrigan and all other qualified hotel people who have expressed an interest in operating new hotel facilities in Portland."

"Some funds have been tentatively subscribed by local people," Clark said. He added that he hoped the corporation would be able to help advance the hotel project to a satisfactory conclusion.

Women's Golf

Rogue Valley Country club women placed third in the Willamette Valley-Southern Oregon golf tournament last week at Roseburg. Mrs. William Miller and Mrs. Fred Conrad, Medford, were net winners in their groups.

Roseburg was first place team with 299. Bend's 314 shaded the Rogue valley 315 total.

Mrs. Miller had a 77 in the A group and Mrs. Conrad headed D participants with 79.

In Thursday's ladies' day specc action at Rogue Valley Mrs. C. R. Elbert and Mrs. Mahr Reynolds tied in Class A with 23. Mrs. H. D. McClure led B entries with 19 and Mrs. Ed Radzewicz had the same number for Group C laurels. Mrs. Lee Bauman won D with 21 and Mrs. Lawrence Buonocore took the nine hole prize with 15.

Portland City Golf Course Will Be Zoo

Portland, Ore. — (U.P.) — Golfers will cease treading the sod of Portland's West Hills municipal golf course Wednesday when bulldozers move onto the site to create a new $3,800,000 zoo.

Soil testing will begin immediately and contracts for grading will be let soon after July 1, according to City Commissioner Stanley W. Earl.

KABLER DEFEATS DEVOE IN JUNIOR GOLF FINAL

Portland — (U.P.) — Gary Hval, Carole Jo Kabler, David Munro and Fred Taylor wound up champions here yesterday in the 25th annual Oregon junior golf tournament.

Hval, a 17-year-old Portlander, defeated Ron Weber of Prineville, 6 and 5, in his second trip to the junior finals.

Carole Jo Kabler, 17, Sutherlin, took the girls' title for the second year running. She scored a 3 and 2 victory over Sue DeVoe of Medford. The match was a replay of last year's finale.

Munroe gained the boys' championship with a hot third nine which gave him a 4 and 3 victory over Portlander Bill Lovett.

In the pee wee class, Fred Taylor of Portland halted Gary Snelgrove of Salem 4 and 3.

"TREMENDOUS BOOST"

Paris, France — (U.P.) — Alexander C. Cushing, president of the California Winter Olympics Committee, Saturday cited the awarding of the 1960 Winter Olympics to Squaw Valley, Calif., as "a tremendous boost to winter sports" in the United States.

"I am very glad we won," Cushing said after the little known California resort was named as the site for the 1960 winter games Friday by the International Olympic Committee.

Squaw Valley was awarded the 1960 winter games after Detroit lost out to Rome, Italy, in a bid to gain the 1960 summer games. The California resort was awarded 32 votes on the second and deciding ballot against 30 votes for Innsbruck, Austria.

SEEKS NEW LAURELS — Amateur Harvey Ward of San Francisco, winner of the British Amateur in 1952 and current Canadian amateur champ, sinks a putt on the eighth hole at the Olympic Club Lakeside course as he prepares for the USGA National Open. He is rated a top contender to win the tourney.

Moore Defends Title Against Bobo Olson

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

New York — (U.P.) — In the year's most significant fight, 38-year-old Archie Moore will defend his light heavyweight crown against middleweight champion Carl (Bobo) Olson, Wednesday night, and try to clinch a September shot at the heavyweight title.

The crowns of three divisions are involved in the 15-round "battle of champions" at the Polo Grounds.

An impressive victory by Moore, the 175-pound champ, unquestionably would make him the September challenger for Rocky Marciano's heavyweight diadem. But if ancient Archie can't beat Olson, the 160-pound boss, he must give up his year-long pursuit of Marciano.

Olson Title Loss

Olson, 26, is not risking his middleweight title in the nationally televised and broadcast fight. But if he wins Moore's crown, Olson's middleweight championship will be vacated automatically and immediately under New York state rules. An elimination tournament would be held to determine the new 160-pound champion.

A victorious Olson would not consider challenging Marciano for the heavy crown until 1956 because of their current weight differences. Accordingly big Bob Baker of Pittsburgh probably would get the September shot.

Promoter Jim Norris expects at least 25,000 fans and $250,000 for the first light heavyweight title fight ever staged in the New York Giants' ball park. The TV-radio contract yields another $100,000, although the New York area will be blacked out on TV within a 90-mile radius. The ticket range is from $5 to $30.

Moore Favored

Following the fistic axiom that "a good big man can always beat a good little man," Moore is favored at 7 1/2 to 5 over Olson. Bookies are offering 4-1 that Archie goes the distance, but only 2-1 that Bobo lasts the route.

Moore—a well-travelled "ring gypsy" who now lists San Diego as his home—would be a much longer favorite were it not for the fact he may be handicapped by age and weight-making.

At 38, he is parring down from the 196 1/2 pounds he weighed on May 2 against Nino Valdes in an elimination round of 175. He claims he will have no difficulty because of a reducing secret he learned from an aborigine in Australia.

Minnie Minozo Makes Public Apology For Hitting Slump

New York — (U.P.) — Minnie Minozo of the White Sox, deep in the throes of his worst slump ever, made a public apology today because he feels "I no give fans their money's worth this year."

The hustling Chicago left-fielder, whose batting average has tailed off to .230 following last year's brilliant .320, insists he has let down both the fans and White Sox.

"People pay to see me hit and when I no hit, they get right to say something," Minozo declared. "But they don't... they all very good to me... I apologize to them, though, because I so bad at plate this year."

Competitive Spirit

Despite Minozo's slump, Manager Marty Marion claims the colorful Cuban is still a vital cog in the White Sox' machine because of his tremendous competitive spirit. Minnie doesn't see it that way, however.

"If I be hitting good, like I should, you know, we'd win four-five more games and be in first place," he declared, gritting his teeth.

"All the time every day, I try to keep chin up. People ask me how I feel and I say, 'Hokay.'"

Minozo suddenly looked at his shoes and seemed absorbed in deep thought.

"Yes," he said, "I smile and make believe I happy on outside, but am sad inside... sometimes I feel so bad I no eat after game."

The 30-year-old outfielder, whose skull was fractured when Bob Grimm of the Yankees hit him with a pitch on May 18, spread his hands in a gesture of helplessness as he talked in front of his locker.

"I cannot understand why I no hit," he sighed. "I feel strong... I no play around after game... I swing same way as before but ball all the time go to shortstop or second baseman. I don't know why, honest."

Iowan Ties Hogan In National Open; To Play Off Today

By HAL WOOD
United Press Sports Writer

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Slender Jack Fleck, an unheralded professional from Davenport, Ia., sank a curling, seven-foot putt on the 18th green Saturday to tie Ben Hogan for the National Open Golf championship.

Waging an uphill battle after Hogan already had turned in an even par 70 for a 287 total, the 32-year-old Iowan, who has never won a major tournament, went around in three-under-par 67 for the final round to gain the deadlock.

Fleck's final hole birdie threw the 55th annual renewal of the open into an 18-hole playoff today.

With Hogan already in the dressing room announcing his retirement if he won this tournament, Fleck pulled off one of the greatest upsets in the National Open since Sam Parks won in 1935.

Needed Two Birdies

Bantam Ben looked as if he had an unprecedented fifth

National Open title in the bag when it became known that Fleck had bogeyed the 14th hole and needed two birdies on the last four holes to gain a tie.

Before more than 10,000, that joined him after Hogan completed his round, Jack sank a birdie on the 15th. He parred the tough 603-yard 16th with a five, and then the par four, 461-yard 17th.

Fleck's tee shot on the 18th hooked into the rough, but he played a recovery shot to the green to within seven feet and right of the pin. Fleck calmly stroked the ball into the cup.

Hogan and Snead Watch

Among those watching were Hogan and a disillusioned Sam Snead, who finished in a tie for third place with the first-day leader Tommy Bolt. They each had 292 totals.

Fleck had a mediocre first round of 76 but he qualified by shooting a 69 on the second round.

It appeared he had shot himself out of business on the morn-

Salmon Fingerlings Will Be Released

Portland — (U.P.) — Some 377,000 fall chinook and silver salmon fingerlings will be liberated this month by the Oregon Fish Commission.

The project is an experiment to evaluate hatchery and natural stream production, and to determine how long young salmon should be reared in hatcheries. The fingerlings will be finger-marked.

ing round when he took a 75. But he hadn't given up — and his play under pressure this afternoon was the equal of anything ever produced by Hogan or any other top-notch golfer. Fleck was the only man in the tournament to break par twice.
