

Giants Lose, 5-3, For 5th Loss; Cards Beat Phillies

And what is so rare as a day in June—when the world champion Giants win a ball game? Maybe panic hasn't set in yet with the skidding New Yorkers, but it would be mighty risky for anyone to holler "fire" in the Giant dugout because it might start a stampede.
What makes it so depressing for Manager Leo Durocher's departing heroes is that June in 1954 was their hottest month when they compiled a 24-4 won and lost record and took command of the National League race for good. This year their mark is a sad 7-11, including the most recent five defeats in a row, and you can't convince even an old crap-shooting expert like Durocher that there's anything lucky about that kind of a natural pass.

Monday night, resurgent Cincinnati, cashing in on an error by starting pitcher Jim Hearn, put over four runs in the fifth inning, and went on to win a 5-3 decision behind the eight-hit pitching of Art Fowler. It was Fowler's first complete game of the year after eight previous starts in which he was kayoed.
Gates Open In Fifth
There were singles by Gus Bell, Bobby Adams, Roy McMillan, and Johnny Temple and a double by Stan Ralys in addition to the throwing error by Hearn that opened the gates for Cincy in the fifth. Dusty Rhodes had put the Giants out front with a homer earlier and they made it close for awhile when Bill Taylor pinch-hit a two-run homer in the seventh. However, Cincinnati added a final run in the eighth on singles by Hobie Landrith, McMillan, and Fowler.

Lefty Luis Arroyo, who is bidding to win "rookie of the year" honors for the St. Louis Cardinals for the second season in a row, gained his eighth victory, a 4-1 seven-hitter over the Phillies. In the only other major league game scheduled, lean Gene Conley of the Braves bested Vernon Law of the Pirates, 2-1, in a duel in which both teams made only four hits.

Mentor Doubts Amateur Status Of Russians Under Olympic Rules

Moscow — (U.P.) — Bob Hoffman, coach of the United States weight-lifting team, believes many star Russian athletes are not amateurs "under Olympic rules."
The U.S. team tied a Russian team, 3-3, in six weights competed in at meets in Moscow and Leningrad during a 10-day stay in Russia.
The Americans were guests at a lavish farewell party in the Hotel Metropole Sunday night. Both American and Soviet sports officials asked in speeches for increased sports relations between the two nations in the interest of friendship.
Hoffman, of York, Pa., expressed high praise of Soviet teams but also doubt as to their compliance with Olympic amateur rules.
"I don't think the Soviet athletes are amateurs," said Hoffman. "I think they are devoting all their time to sport and they are being paid. I don't think they qualify as amateurs under Olympic rules. They train two or three times daily and never have less than three months of competition, frequently six. And if they do that, I don't see how they can work."
Lots of Money
"They seem to have lots of money," said Hoffman. "Each one says he is a student, plumber or mechanic, but they don't work at a trade."
"The Soviets were surprised

Golfers In Practice For Western At Portland Club

Portland — (U.P.) — The golfer who can keep his driver and wedge hot will be the winner of the $15,000 Western Open Golf championship here June 23-26, the host pro said today.
Larry Lamberger, professional at the Portland Golf club who is familiar with every blade of grass in the lush, rolling course, also said he didn't believe the 261 fired by Ben Hogan in winning the 1945 Portland Open over the same course would be equalled, or even threatened.
That year Hogan chalked up 18-hole rounds of 65, 69, 63 and 64, a record which still stands for a par-72 course.
Hogan, who played in the National Open in San Francisco, was not expected to compete here.
275 May Win
Lamberger said he believed a score of 275 would be good enough for the title. He said possible winners are Gene Littler, Ed (Porky) Oliver, Sam Snead and Julius Boros.
Of course, any one of those fellows is apt to win any time, anywhere," he added.
The Portland course will measure a little more than 6000 yards for the four-day event. The rough is not too devastating and the greens are excellent. Lamberger predicts good putters will have a field day in dropping in lone ones.
Lamberger figures the good drivers will reach most of the par-fours with a drive and a

Frick May Nullify Trade Of Pope and Westlake

New York — (U.P.) — Commissioner Ford Frick may nullify the Cleveland-Baltimore deal of last week because of the refusal of infielder Billy Cox to report to the Indians.
Frick was asked by General Manager Hank Greenberg of the Indians to adjust the deal.
"I don't want to make any official comment at this time until I review the entire case," Frick said. "But the baseball rules on such a situation are pretty definite. Under the rules, if a player in a deal does not report to a

Brenn Improves After Accident

Portland — (U.P.) — Bruce Brenn, young football prospect at the University of Oregon who was injured in an auto accident in southeast Washington Saturday, was reported in improved condition in a local hospital today.
Brenn, who transferred to Oregon from Boise Junior College where he was a star end, suffered a mild concussion, a fractured nose and several scalp lacerations when the truck and trailer he was driving jackknifed near Paterson Ferry on a curve. He was brought to Portland from Umatilla yesterday.

Americans Are Favored in Wimbledon

Wimbledon, England — (U.P.) — The spotlight shifts to Women's singles and men's doubles today in the Wimbledon tennis championships with America's title favorites, Doris Hart, Tony Trabert, and Vic Seixas, all booked to appear on the historic center court.
Miss Hart, the plucky U. S. singles champion from Miami, Fla., is top-seeded and heavily favored for the women's singles crown. Maureen (Little Mo) Connolly of San Diego, Calif., champion for the last three years, married recently and retired from tennis.
Trabert and Seixas are frankly regarded as the best amateur doubles team in the world, but observers are wondering if their recent surprise defeat by an obscure Italian team in a minor tournament means they are off form.
PITCHER SIGNS
Philadelphia — (U.P.) — The Philadelphia Phillies today assigned Bob Frederick, a high school pitcher from Cheltenham, Pa., to Bradford (Pa.) in the Pony League.

Olson May Use Oxygen

New York — (U.P.) — Bobo Olson wants an oxygen tank to help win the light heavyweight title from 38-year-old Archie Moore Wednesday night at the Polo Grounds.
Dr. Sam Sherman of San Francisco, personal physician to middleweight champion Olson, will ask the boxing commission for permission to administer oxygen to Bobo between rounds.
Trainer Fred Bianchi explained today, "The oxygen will give him a lift. Yes, we've used it before in a few fights, including the one with Joey Maxim on April 13."
Dr. Vincent Nardiello of the commission's staff said today he believed permission would be given although oxygen hadn't been used in a New York ring for years—"not since the late Pete Reilly used it on some of his fighters."
Meanwhile, it appeared the oxygen might be necessary, for Moore became a 2-1 betting favorite, and bookies said he probably would go into the ring at 3-1. A poll of 26 sports writers resulted in 19 picking Moore to win and only seven selecting Olson. Eleven of the 19 Moore voters predicted a kayo.

Seattle Is Host To Portland

Portland — (U.P.) — The Portland Beavers, on a six-game winning streak, run into the red-hot second place Seattle Rainiers tonight in the opener of a seven-game series at Vaughn street ball park.
Seattle has won nine straight and 14 out of its last 17.
Ewell Blackwell, the former Cincinnati "whip," will pitch for Seattle tonight against Southpaw Royce Lint of the Beavers.
There were no games in the Pacific Coast League last night.
Other games tonight find Hollywood at Oakland, San Francisco at Los Angeles and Sacramento at San Diego.

Seeks New World Mark In Sprint

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Jim Golliday, Northwestern University's great sprinter, will be seeking a new world record in the 100-yard dash when the Pacific Coast Conference and the Big Ten tangle in their 14th renewal of their track and field feud today.
Golliday tied the world record of 9.3 earlier this year and on the fast track at Edwards field may be able to better that. He also is given a very good chance of erasing a 13-year-old mark for the meet, the 9.5 set by Hal Davis of California in 1942, and equalled by Willie Williams of Illinois in 1953.
The Pacific Coast Conference, with an 8-5 lead in victories, again is favored to win this meet—with the major portion of the help coming from the USC Trojans, recent winners of the NCAA championship.
Young Bobby Seaman of UCLA, who recently was clocked in 4:01.4 for the mile, has announced he will run in the half-mile, instead for this meet, so there isn't much chance of a world record there. But Bill Dellinger and Jim Bailey of Oregon and Sid Wing of the Trojans both have bettered the meet mark of 4:09.4 set by Don Lash of Indiana in 1937.
