

Dodgers Widen Gap To 13 Games; Sure of Front Spot on Holiday

By CARL LUNDQUIST
United Press Sports Writer

Shoot off a premature fire-cracker today for those booming Brooklyn Dodgers because they now are certain to be in first place on the Fourth of July, the date which means an eventual pennant according to tradition.

Since 1900 teams in first place on July 4 in the National League have gone on to win the pennant 35 times and lost out 20 times. But could there be one bad omen? The last time a July 4 leader failed to win the pennant was in 1951 when the Dodgers blew the flag to the Giants in the playoffs.

The Dodgers assured themselves of the lead on the holiday Wednesday when they again defeated the second-place Cubs, 3-2, to go 13 games in front. The Cubs have 12 games to play before July 4 and if they won all and Brooklyn lost all of the 11 it has before that date, the Dodgers still would be in front.

Five-Team Fight
Any of five American League teams conceivably could lead the pack by July 4 but the Yankees, as of now, still were in command by two games after another victory, 6-1, over the Athletics. If the Yankees hold their margin they will be an even better bet to win the flag on past performance because in the junior circuit the July 4 leader has gone on to finish on top 38 times as against 17 failures.

Whitey Ford scattered nine hits for his eighth victory and Mickey Mantle hit another long homer in the Yankee triumph, but runner-up Chicago and third-place Cleveland kept pace with shutout wins.

Chicago topped Washington 3-0 on a four-hitter by Dick Donovan. It was Donovan's ninth win, pretty good for a pitcher who never had a major league triumph in four previous years in the majors.

Cleveland defeated Baltimore 5-0 on Early Wynn's six-hitter in which he also accounted for two tallies with a double. It was his ninth victory and third shutout and Baltimore's sixth shutout in nine games.

The Red Sox moved to within a game of fourth place with a 12-7 triumph over Detroit in which Ted Williams smacked three doubles and Norm Zaichin hit a three-run homer. Jim Piersall and Sammy White also hit Boston homers and Al Kaline hit two for Detroit while Ray Boone got one.

Giants End Losing Streak
The Dodgers picked up an unearned run in the eighth to defeat the Cubs and hand Hal Jeffcoat his second straight defeat as a reliever after he had won six in a row. It was Jeffcoat's throwing error that set up Brooklyn's winning run. Rube Walker, subbing for Roy Campanella, homered for Brooklyn.

The Giants finally ended their six-game losing streak behind "stopper" Sal Maglie, beating Cincinnati, 4-3, on the margin of homers by Hank Thompson and Bobby Hofman in the ninth. It was Maglie's eighth straight triumph.

Warren Spahn pitched a six-hit shutout for his fifth victory to give Milwaukee a 6-0 decision over Pittsburgh. It was Milwaukee's sixth straight win and Spahn and catcher Del Crandall contributed homers. Spahn drove in three runs.

Robin Roberts stuck it out for his 10th victory, 9-6, over the Cardinals even though he was tagged for two homers and a triple by Stan Musial plus homers by Red Schoendienst and Rip Repulski. Stan Lopata homered for Philly.

Tribe Given Settlement For Bill Cox

New York—(U.P.)—The Cleveland Indians may have a hard time fitting a "satisfactory sum" into their budget, but that was what they settled for today from the Baltimore Orioles instead of Billy Cox.

The Indians, counting heavily upon Cox to shore up their porous infield, gave up outfielders Dave Pope and Wally Westlake plus cash before the trading deadline last week and received Cox and outfielder Gene Woodling in return.

When Cox went home to Newport, Pa., and retired from baseball, General Manager Hank Greenberg of Cleveland, laid the matter before baseball commissioner Ford Frick.

Wednesday Frick settled the issue in a conference here attended by Greenberg and Art Ehlert of the Baltimore front office. It involved a cash settlement to Cleveland believed to be about $15,000.

Before Frick stepped in as the peace-maker, Woodling also threatened to get into the quiting routine. It had been reported that Frick would nullify the entire deal and send all players back to their original clubs if a satisfactory settlement for Cox could not be reached.

When Woodling heard that he blew up.

"If they cancel the deal I'll quit like Cox did," he said. "I'm tired of being pushed around. I've moved my family once and I'm not going to move them again. I didn't mind playing for the Orioles before and I wouldn't mind playing for them again, but I've got my family to think about. I gave up one home there and I'm not going to look for another."

He calmed down when the announcement was made from Frick's office.

Merson, Rain Assist Pads In Regaining Lone Lead

By NORM RITTER
United Press Sports Writer

The San Diego Padres could thank John Merson's big bat and a rainstorm in Portland for their clear title to the Pacific Coast League today.

The Padre infielder smacked a three-run homer in the eighth inning last night to bring his mates from behind for a 6-4 win over the Sacramento Solons. Meanwhile the Seattle Rainiers, who had climbed into a tie with the Pads after winning their 10th straight Tuesday, were rained out at Portland.

Bobby Del Greco blasted a two-run home run in the ninth to give Hollywood its second in a row over the Oakland Oaks, 4-3.

San Francisco replaced Los Angeles in the No. 6 spot as the Seals enjoyed a three-run ninth frame while Don Fracchia was shutting out the Angels on seven hits for a 3-0 triumph.

Big Eighth
It was a big eighth inning, which produced five runs in all, that put the long-time league leading Padres back in front by half a game.

With the Pads trailing, 4-1, Milt Smith started off the rally with a single. He was safe at second on Earl Rapp's single, second on Jerry Streeter's error life on Streeter's miscue, scored when Eddie Kazak singled. That set the stage for Merson to power his third homer in four games.

Al Lyons, who came in for the Pads in the eighth, was the winner, Bud Daley the loser.

ARCHIE MOORE FLOORS OLSON; EYES TANGLE WITH MARCIANO

By JACK CUDDY
United Press Sports Writer

New York—(U.P.)—Light-heavy-weight champion Archie Moore, elated at Wednesday night's quick defense of his crown, said today, "I believe I'll knock out Rocky Marciano when we fight in September."

The 38-year-old Negro from San Diego, Calif., who belted out middleweight champion Carl Bobo Olson in the third round at the Polo Grounds Wednesday night, added, "I know it sounds as if I'm talking big. But I've got a lot of dynamite left I didn't use last night."

Charley Johnston, Moore's manager, said he had been invited to confer with promoter Jim Norris about a probable September 22 fight at Yankee Stadium.

Moore, top heavyweight contender as well as king of the 175-pounders, has been yelling on Marciano's heels more than a year for a title fight.

Playing With Dynamite
Archie, who floored 26-year-old Olson with a final left hook for the full ten count at 1:19 of the third round, said with a grin today:

"When Rocky and I fight, we'll both be playing with dynamite. And something's sure to happen to some one. I'm pretty confident it'll happen to Rocky. I believe he'll go out because I'm punching sharp and I'll be at my natural weight of about 185 or 186 pounds."

Promoter Norris and manager Weill were also slated for a conference today.

Norris estimated that the September match would draw about $750,000. But Moore's pilot, Johnston, declared "it will go more than a million."

Moore's fourth defense of the 175-pound crown against Olson, ruler of the 160-pound division, drew only 27,435 fans and $206,784 last night because of yesterday's showers and last night's threatening weather. Also because the public had come to regard the "battle of champions" as a mismatch.

Bobo Forces Fight
Speedy, 26-year-old Bobo forced the fight in the first round and landed more leather than the stalking Archie. Bobo bobbed in with combination hooks to body and head as they felt each other out. All three ring officials gave Olson the first round, and Referee Ruby Goldstein also gave him the second.

But it was in the second that the smart, hard-hitting light-heavy champ took command. Using his unusually long 78-inch reach, he shook Bobo with left jabs and left hooks to the head and landed three hard right smashes to the body. Near the close of the round, he knocked Bobo back on his heels into a corner with a left jab. Bobo had a slight cut on his left brow when he went to his corner.

In the third round, the stalking Moore knocked Olson off balance with a left-right-left. Then he staggered him with two hard straight rights to the head, hit him with a left hook that started him backwards and landed a terrific left hook to the face that dropped Bobo on his back in Moore's corner. Bobo rolled over onto his stomach and tried to lift himself up, he almost made it at "nine" but failed.

To Continue Career
Manager Sid Flaherty said the fighter would continue his career, but would fight only among the middleweights. He hopes for Bobo to defend his 160-pound crown against the July 15th winner of the Sugar Ray Robinson-Rocky Castellani fight in San Francisco.

Although the gate Wednesday night was a disappointment, both fighters drew the largest purses of their careers. Moore's purse was estimated at $76,500; Olson's at $70,025.

In their career records, Moore registered his 21st straight victory and his 82nd kayo for 120 triumphs in 144 fights in 20 years. Olson's winning string was snapped at 21 as he suffered the second knockout of his 10-year campaign and the seventh defeat in 70 bouts. Only ex-middleweight champion Robinson had stopped him before.
