Wooton, Kelly Shine As Studs Nip Eagles

Sparkling performances by Medford's starting and finishing pitchers took the limelight last night as the Cheney Studs skipped by Mt. Shasta, Calif., 4 to 3 in a non-league semi-pro baseball game at the fairgrounds.

Starter Derald Wooton struck out 11 of the 14 batters he faced in the first four innings. Only two batters got on base against him, one on a hit and one on a dropped third strike.

Jim Kelly toiled the last four innings, whiffed six batters, was tagged for a two-base hit and gave nary a walk and only two men got on base during his turn on the hill.

Big 5th for Eagles Mt. Shasta's Eagles got all their runs in the fifth inning when Kay Kelley was on the hill for the Studs. Kelley, who couldn't shake off his tenseness, yielded four walks and a single to Bob Stockton in the frame.

Medford had to wait until the sixth inning to tally. In that case, Tossler Art Anderson gave up singles to Clarence Mellybe, Derald Wooton and Jack Cooney. A passed ball let in one of two runs.

Howard Morris smashed a rousing triple into right field in the seventh inning. Bob Selsor attempted to squeeze him home but missed the ball on the bunt try.

For the winning marker, Terry Maddox led off the eighth inning with an infield single. Derald Wooton sacrificed him to second. Bill McLean then hit a ground ball that Second Baseman Bob Cottini mishandled.

While the Medford pitchers were combining for a three-hitter and Wooton and Jim Kelly were compiling 17 strikeouts, Hurler Anderson, regularly first baseman for the Eagles, was tagged for eight hits. He struck out four men, walked three and hit one.

Anderson hit Selsor with a pitch and walked Ed McCullough and Mellybe in the first inning. But quite a bit of the scoring danger was removed when McCullough, lead off man for the Studs, was picked off first by Anderson. The Eagle flinger caught Harvey Tonn the same way in the third inning.

Dick Wooton was catcher for his brother, Derald. HARRINGTON PRAISED Rogue Valley's George Harrington is a better golfer than Bruce Cudd and Dick Yost.

Business Manager Bill Askwith and Clarence Mellybe said that some Cheney Studs' squad changes — addition of some players and release of others — will be announced in a day or so. The Studs thereby hope to be strengthened for a pair of Southern Oregon League clashes with Bend this Saturday and Sunday at the fairgrounds park here.

Bend, with break-even record of 2-2 in the circuit, is now in front of Medford in the standings and will stay there this week unless the Studs can take both games of the series. Medford with a 3-5 mark has played twice as many as the Loggers. There is a heavy representation of Oregon State collegians on the Bend squad.

The Studs have non-league scrapes next Tuesday at Grants Pass and Wednesday here against Fort Jones, Calif.

Derald Wooton, who really blazed the ball past Mt. Shasta, Calif., batters in recording 11 strikeouts in four innings for the Cheney Studs baseball nine last night, came up with an unusual feat in the second inning. Wooton struck out four batters in that count.

His third KO did not retire the batter and the side because Dick Wooton, catching for his brother, dropped the third strike pitch. Batter Bob Stockton raced to first and beat out Dick's late throw.

Derald fanned eight consecutive batters starting with his second strikeout of the second inning.

While not elaborating yet, player manager Clarence Mellybe and Business Manager Bill Askwith of the Studs have indicated some roster changes are forthcoming for the Cheney team. Mellybe said that there may be further cuts and replacements if the Studs don't show more hustle.

Eddie Simmons, 1954 Oregon Golf association match play champ, has been troubled by a back ailment over the past couple years and reports have been out that he would not defend his title because of it. However, latest info is that the Rogue Valley Country club star will enter the OGA event next week at Riverside Golf and Country club in Portland. The back hasn't bothered him much for the past couple of weeks and Eddie will enter and see how it goes.

P. Getchell Defeated in NCAA Meet

Phil Getchell, Stanford university and Medford, Ore., lost his first round match yesterday in the NCAA golf tournament at Knoxville, Tenn. He was beaten 5 and 4 by Joe Turner, Wake Forest.

Knoxville, Tenn. — (U.P.) — The NCAA golf championships went into second-round match play today with at least a dozen favorites already eliminated, including defending champion Hillman Robbins of Memphis State and medalist John Pott of Louisiana State.

The only "name" player remaining in the tournament, which opened Monday, was Earl Moeller, 1953 champion from Oklahoma A & M Moeller, who defeated Ray Ferguson of North Texas State, 1-up, yesterday, met John Gerring of Wake Forest in his second-round match.

Robbins, who won the Sunnehanna Invitational earlier this month, was eliminated by Chuck Briggs of Seattle, 1-up on the 20th hole. And the 19-year-old Pott went down, 2-up, at the hands of Bob Geotz, 22-year-old ex-serviceman from Oklahoma A&M.

Chieftains Blast Berlyn Hodges

The law of averages and Berlyn Hodges met in a head-on collision at Wenatchee last night and the eight-game winning streak of the Eugene lefty was badly bruised.

Wenatchee bombarded 23 hits off Hodges and two successors to salt away an 18-10 decision to throw the Northwest League race into a dog fight among three clubs.

Wenatchee tallied ten earned runs in an inning and a third off Hodges who up until last night had a shiny 8-0 slate. The Chieft got two in the first and added eight in the second.

Other league games were rained out.

Bend Area Stream Falling Rapidly Bend — (U.P.) — Little River, an upper tributary of the Deschutes, has dropped 90 second feet of its flow this week, according to A. E. Perry, Deschutes watermaster.

Perry said the flow dropped from 258 to 168 in four days. He said he believes the heavy snow melt is evaporating under the summer sun before it reaches smaller streams.

However the watermaster said the Central Oregon, Arnold and Lone Pine districts should have enough direct flow for this year's needs. The only possibility of shortage he foresaw was in the 50,000-acre North unit in Jefferson county.

The unit, he said, was drawing heavily from storage in Wickiup reservoir which has already been lowered some 70,000 feet.

Babe Has Surgery Galveston, Tex. — (U.P.) — Mrs. Babe Didrikson Zaharias was reported "resting comfortably" at John Sealy Hospital today after undergoing surgery for the removal of a spinal disc.

Tony Trabert Advances at Wimbledon

Wimbledon, England — (U.P.) — Tony Trabert, the top-seeded Cincinnati star who is favored to win the men's singles title in the Wimbledon tennis championships, entered the fourth round today with an easy, 6-4, 6-3, 6-1 triumph over Hugh Stewart of San Marino, Calif.

Louise Brough, three-time Wimbledon singles titleholder from Beverly Hills, Calif., easily reached the fourth round in the women's play by defeating Janet Morgan of England, 6-0, 6-0.

The top-seeded Trabert was a heavy favorite, but then so was Vic Seixas in another All-American match in Wednesday's second round.

Seixas, 31-year-old U. S. National champion from Philadelphia, who teamed with Trabert to recapture the Davis Cup last December, ripped off the first set easily and then stunningly became the first major upset victim of the tourney as young Gil Shea of Presidio, Calif., rallied to win, 3-6, 6-4, 6-4, 4-6, 6-4.

Shea was matched today against veteran Adrian Quist, star of Australia's 1939 Davis cup champions.

Seixas still is in the tournament as Trabert's doubles partner, a combination generally regarded as the world's best and top-seeded here. Today the Philadelphia and the Cincinnati, O., ace, were to be tested by the British team of Tony Pickard and Bobby Wilson.

Two Men Arrested In Alice Lon Case

Van Nuys, Calif. — (U.P.) — Police today questioned two young men arrested on suspicion of robbing singer Alice Lon, 27, "the Champagne Lady," and forcibly photographing her with her clothing disarranged.

The suspects, Philip W. Irwin, 22, and Allen A. Amadri, 20, denied the charges and described themselves as private investigators. They were arrested in front of a North Hollywood home yesterday after a maid at the house became suspicious and called officers.

Police said they found two pistols, silk stocking masks, rubber gloves and several pornographic pictures — not of Miss Lon — in Irwin's car.

Miss Starr, 19, was serving a term for transporting a stolen automobile across state lines. Shortly after the time of the barber shop incident, she became involved in lengthy court fight to escape being extradited to California to face false check charges.

Coon Says John Day Dam Plan Endorsed

Washington — (U.P.) Rep. Sam Coon (R-Ore.), said today that all recommended passage of a bill he introduced for partnership development of John Day dam.

The bill would have local organizations, public or private, pay the entire power cost of the Clumbia river dam. In return, they would get contracts for its power output.

Coon said an Interior Department report said the bill would provide "an avenue for avoiding any critical power shortage in the area in 1960-61, at a minimum outlay to the federal treasury."

A Federal Power Commission report described the bill as an "effective and desirable" means of accomplishing development on the river, he said. Favorable reports were submitted earlier by the Budget Bureau and the Army, he said.
