

PARTING IS SWEET sorrow as bride spends wedding night in Meade County, Kansas, jail. Arrested for driving while intoxicated, former Fern Alton, 26, of Dodge City, Kan., is sentenced to 30 days. Explaining she and Carmen Crossley, 41, of Beaver, Okla., were en route to be married, they obtained permission to marry in visiting room of jail. Sheriff Arlie Johnston (left) waits during parting kiss, then sends Mrs. Crossley to her cell and Mr. Crossley home. (International)

Sen. Bridges Predicts Ike To Be Candidate

Washington — (U.P.) — President Eisenhower may have teased his New England audiences about his 1956 intentions, but the tour only strengthened Sen. Styles Bridges' belief that he'll go for a second term.

Mr. Eisenhower was back in the White House today after a six-day New England trip during which he kept the country guessing with off-again, on-again hints about 1956. But Bridges thought the Chief Executive was already acting like a candidate.

The New Hampshire senator, chairman of the Senate GOP Policy Committee and a veteran in Republican politics, traveled with Mr. Eisenhower on the New Hampshire leg of the three-state tour.

Salzburg, Austria — (U.P.) — India's premier Jawaharlal Nehru traveled to this Alpine resort Tuesday for two days of secret talks with Indian diplomats before carrying his European swing toward the West.

RAF Jet Bomber Sets Ottawa-London Mark

London — (U.P.) — An RAF Canberra twin-engine jet bomber established an Ottawa-London record of 6 hours, 42 minutes, 12 seconds Tuesday in a harrowing transatlantic flight that almost ended in disaster.

The plane which had raced the sun across the North Pole in an Arctic flight last week ran into unfavorable winds on the flight across the Atlantic. The fuel supply was down to less than five minutes when the three crewmembers headed into a landing in a pea soup fog.

The dense pre-dawn fog blacked out West Malling Air Base minutes before the twin-jet "Aries IV" roared in for a landing but with disaster threatening a hole appeared in the fog 50 yards from the runway and the landing was "uneventful."

Salem — (U.P.) — Attorney General Robert Y. Thornton has ruled that state employees and officials are prohibited from obtaining oil and gas leases on state-owned lands.

Pickin' Pears News and Notes From Camp White

By L. J. "TICK" MALARKEY

New standard beds with box springs have been installed in the lower dormitory of Building 207, replacing the 24 folding metal cots, acquired in an earlier day. The hard beds are gradually being disposed of in favor of more modern and comfortable accommodations for sleeping. Acting Domiciliary Officer Ken Black and Capt. Hugh Martin of Company 1 had their hands full in making the switch. As a result the regular Friday inspection was dispensed with.

George Mitchell is now employed as a member clerk in the administration office. Mitchell has been a member of Camp White upon several occasions and returned to the station about six weeks ago. When he was here before he was employed as a stencilist on the staff of Dominews and at the same time helped out around Special Services. "Mitch" is one of the younger veterans.

J. F. O'Brien, is a contact supervisor from San Francisco, spent part of last week at Camp White. After inspecting the office of Veldon J. Diment, contact representative here, he spent some time getting acquainted with the domiciliary. This was O'Brien's third trip to Medford. As he covers 10 states, he sees many VA installations and he spoke highly of the continued improvement at Camp White.

A capacity bus load went to Prospect to root for the Camp White baseball club Sunday. However, the rooting didn't do much good as the "Whites" came home on the short end of a 15 to 11 score, their first setback of the season in league play. Many of those who stayed at home went out to watch girl soft ball teams play on the Camp White diamond. Butte Falls was the winner against Camp White team.

"Vitamin" Harry Knox, morning messenger at the admissions office, is gaining other distinctions in addition to his vitamin love and his blackberry picking activities in the fall of the year. Postmaster Arthur Scarseth declares that Harry can make the finest vegetable salads served anywhere, and when Art's cook is absent he turns "Vitamin" loose in his kitchen to do the job. Results are "out of this world."

For many years Knox was employed by the Portland postoffice. He was retired several years ago on a medical disability and is one of the "old hands" at Camp White.

Jim O'Connor is packing up and making preparations to leave after July 1. He will visit with his two sons in California and plans to spend a great deal of his time with one of them who now has shore duty with the Navy at San Diego. O'Connor has been at Camp White since 1950. It is worth an admission price to hear Jim and his words of advice to 8 ball players in the pool room.

Another brother team here is Ed Calhoun and his brother Carl. We had thought that the brothers Walker, Fred and George, had the sole distinction but the Calhouns have now come along. Carl Calhoun arrived in May. Ed Calhoun works as an assistant librarian to Dortha Glass, chief librarian. Charlie Smith, another member, is also employed and is a veteran in the library, having been there for several years.

Bob Wilhelm has returned to the station. He had a lot of surgery performed while a patient at Barnes VA hospital and is now beginning to feel pretty good. Bob entered Barnes from Shady Cove where he had purchased a home after a discharge two years ago from Camp White. He has sold his place and will make his home here for a while at least. When he was here before he was employed as a member in the arts and crafts department.

Gene Lower and his camera are keeping busy. Since Logan Hughes left here Lower does most of the "picture taking" around Camp White. In addition to this hobby he is hospital chairman for the local World War I Barracks and make daily infirmary calls. Gene tells that a recent letter from Logan Hughes who is now in the Walla Walla, Wash., VA hospital states that he is a bed patient. Lower is a great hand to publicize Camp White and will send out issues by the dozen of Dominew as well as clippings from The Medford Tribune that tell of domiciliary activities.

Telecasts of major league baseball which come in every Saturday morning on two sets, one in the theater and in the Green Room, are very well attended. These games are pretty nearly as popular as the fights each Friday evening.

Painting of the nurses', managers, and officer quarters has been completed. It is a pure white and a big improvement. Painters are now moving to the chapel and library and they will be similarly decorated as well as the other frame buildings which house civil service employees. It breaks up the monotony of the brick color which predominates.

Yreka

Yreka — The Klamath River Sportsmen's association will hold its regular meeting at 8 p.m. Friday, July 1, at the Yreka Inn. All members and interested persons are urged to attend. Applications are now being accepted for new members, and additional information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Marjorie Fraga, 428 Jackson st., Yreka.

One of many projects of the past year was building pheasant pens south of town and raising some 500 birds which were released for better hunting in and around Siskiyou county. The project proved successful.

The Babe Ruth league doubleheader was played at Hibbard field in Yreka Sunday. Peter's Yrekans scored a lopsided 18-0 victory over Scott Valley Colts in an exciting game. In the second game, the Daily News was defeated 7-10 by the Grenada-Gazelle team. The Daily News and the Yrekans are now tied for first place in the league.

The Yreka National Guard armory was the scene of initiation of charter members of the Benevolent and Protective Order of Elks, Yreka Lodge 1980 last Saturday afternoon. Officers of Ashland, Ore., Lodge 944 conducted and sponsored the meeting at which 328 new members joined. The committee on organization includes: Edward Doyle, chairman; John Kinstry, co-chairman; and Fred Burton, Gino Trevisan, R. D. Baumback, Joe Correia, Jerry Conrad, Charles Harris, Joe Lema, and Jerry Morrison.

Fred R. Garrison, California north district deputy grand exalted ruler, was director of ceremonies. Ladies enjoyed a social hour held in their honor at Yreka Inn between 6 and 7:30 p.m. Saturday, and later joined Elk members for dinner and dancing at the armory.
