Portland—(U.P.)—Phil Getchell of Medford upset fellow-townsmen George Harrington yesterday to move into a favored position in today's 36-hole semifinal other Portlander. The women were idle yesterday.

In the first 18-hole men's matches yesterday, Getchell defeated Leighton Tuttle of Eugene 3 and 2; Millette ousted Don Bick of Coos Bay 3 and 2; Atkins defeated Lou Tobin of Tualatin 2 and 1; Dichter took George Inglis of Riverside 1-up; Stearns whipped Bud Applegate of Portland 2 and 1; Swan won from Matt Hatala of Portland 2 and 1 and Beechler defeated John Boyd of Portland 1-up.

Even at Turns
Yesterday afternoon Getchell and Harrington were all even after 36 holes and were even par with five then Getchell took 11 with a 15-foot putt for a third. The two split on 12 and Getchell got 13 when Harrington took a bogey. Rest of the holes were halved and the match ended on 17.

Millette and Atkins were all even at the turn. Harry took 10 with a bird and 11 with a par. He had a birdie four to take 15. Harrington pulled one of the biggest surprises in recent OGA history when he spilled Cudd, a Walker Cup star. The Rogue Valley Country club manager playing terrifically, had even pars on the first 14 holes of the hassle. Cudd conceded him a seven-foot putt for an eagle on 15 and the match ended when Harrington got a six-foot g'im'e putt on 16. George had a 2 up lead at the turn. He won the third and eighth holes. Cudd won the 10th but Harrington took 12.

The Medford linksman was three under par for the match. He was also three under in beating Dusty Woods, McMinnville on Wednesday.

Crocker Leader In Women's Golf

Wichita, Kan.—(U.P.)—Leader Faye Crocker of Montivideo, Uruguay, had no complaints but 46 other entrants were hoping for better weather in the second round of the $7,500 Women's National Open golf tournament here today.

A 45-mile per hour wind whipped the course Thursday during the first round of play and ex-champion Louise Suggs of Sea Island, Ga., described the playing conditions as the third worst she had encountered in her long career.

Miss Crocker shot a 37-37—74, two-over par, to lead the field. Miss Suggs was five strokes back in fifth place.

Jackie Yates Third
Jackie Yates, 19-year-old women's intercollegiate champion from Honolulu, was second in the field at the end of the first day's firing. Miss Yates, who earned $80 as a caddy in Honolulu to pay for her first set of clubs, went around in 38-38—76.

Third place went to Mary Lena Faulk, Thomasville, Ga., with a 77. In fourth at 78 was Patty Berg of St. Andrews, Ill., a former winner.

Together with 79s were Miss Suggs, Gloria Armstrong, Oakland Calif., and Mrs. Jackie Lung, Honolulu.

Junior Legion Baseballers Vie at Klamath on Sunday

Victories which could virtually clinch the District 4 championship will be sought by the Central Point-Medford American Legion junior baseball squad Sunday when it goes to Klamath Falls.

An afternoon double bill is planned. If the CP-Medford crew can get by the Cokes, it will need just a single triumph over Ashland to wrap up the pennant. Klamath Falls and Lakeview already are out of championship contention but the only losses suffered by Ashland were to currently unranked CP-Medford.

The CP-Meds could have their hands full Sunday. Their previous wins over the Cokes were by just 4 to 2 and 6 to 5 margins.

Laval Meunier, Eldon Francis and Ed Reinking have been the big men with the bats for the locals so far into the campaign. Among those who have played the most Meunier heads the pack with a .500 hitting average. Francis is clubbing the horsehide at a .450 clip and Reinking has a .428 mark. Paul Eckel has a .667 record but has only six at-bats.

As usual, the pitching choices this Sunday will be among Fred Herrman, Duane Sides and Henry Putney with Meunier doing the catching. The infield will be picked from among Dick McLaughlin, Larry Perkins, Jim Putney, Lymann Stubbs and Gordon Owsley and the outfield from among Eldon Francis, Ed Reinking, Dennis King, Paul Eckel, Stubbs and Ron Pruitt.

Ashland, host Sunday to Lakeview, is heavily favored to lick the cellar team and set the stage for a title twinbill with CP-Medford next week. The Ashlanders have four victories over Klamath Falls.

No Rival Tiffs This Sunday

No action is slated Sunday in the Rogue Valley Baseball League. An open-date is listed in the schedule.

While there is at least a couple of make-up games that could have been taken care of over the holiday week end, holiday plans of the individual players apparently are the factors which will prevent clubs from getting together.

Some question as to the position of Camp White and Grants Pass in the standings has come to light this week. When Camp White and Grants Pass contested on June 5, it was agreed before the tussle that the game would count in the loop standings, according to CW Manager Ivo McKinney. However, Stars' Skipper Don Newman, without quoting a source, told the Grants Pass Courier that the fracas had been ruled out as a league counter.

McKinney said yesterday that that he has not been notified of any such action.

Counting the game, which the Whittens won by a lopsided score, Camp White is in second place alone in the circuit. If it formally declared king's-x, then CW and GP are tied in the standings.

Phil Sanders and John Smock will be instructors. Red Cross certificates will be given for successful completion of the course.

A second series of lessons will begin on July 18.

CONTRACTS SIGNED

Chicago—(U.P.)—George Brancato and Bruce Schwager, both of Brooklyn, have signed 1955 contracts with the Chicago Cardinals, managing director Walter Wolfner announced today. Schwager, a graduate of Kings Point, N. Y., College, was the Cards' 27th draft choice this year. Brancato joined the Cardinals last year and played defensive halfback. Coach Ray Richards said he plans to use Brancato at right half on offense this season in addition to defensive chores.
