When Phil Getchell, of Rogue Valley Country club and Stanford university, whipped Dom Provost Jr., Portland, Wednesday in the Oregon Golf association tourney, he gained a measure of revenge. Provost nipped Getchell for the Southern Oregon championship last year on the Rogue Valley links. Provost, a Rogue Valley standard bearer then, now plays out of Columbia-Edgewater course.

UNCERTAIN WAGER
Heard at the Medford Studs-Scott Valley Stars baseball game Wednesday night after the Studs scored 10 runs in the first inning:

First voice—"I'll bet the Studs don't score 10 runs this inning."

Second voice—"I'll take that bet."
(Second voice lost. The Studs scored only four runs in the second frame.)

TIGHTER SHOES HELP
Like clothes make the man, shoes may make the pitcher in baseball. Success of Lefty Jim Kelly on the mound for the Medford Studs his last couple of times out has been attributed to his shoes. Jim recently switched from size 12 to size 10 and the snuggler fit for his tootsies apparently has paid off. He struck out 21 batters against Scott Valley on Wednesday night.

APPRECIATION CHANCE
When the outstanding young aggregation, the Washington Cheney Studs battle the Medford Cheney Studs at the fairgrounds on July 9 and 10, the games, themselves, should be attraction enough. But it would be a fine sort of gesture if Medford fans would turn out in large numbers and make the dates a sort of "appreciation week end" for Ben and Francis Cheney of Cheney Lumber company and their right hand man, Bill Askwith. It is interesting to speculate on what the status of semifinals baseball here would be if I were not for their enthusiasm for the sport and for their efforts. It might be that there would be no semi-pro ball here at all.

GOUGED IN MIDDLE
In a story earlier this week concerning a Rogue River Retriever club picnic trial, parts of two paragraphs right in the middle somehow were left out and the works were really fouled up. At least one dog was listed for the wrong owner.
The part skipped told that Cindy, a Labrador female owned and handled by Lee Skaggs, won the puppy stakes and that derby honors were taken by Rip, a Labrador male, owned and handled by Gene Hunt. Cindy is one of four dogs in the race for the club's puppy trophy for season performance in picnic trials. The others are Lucinda, a Labrador female, owned by Otto Spores; Joe a golden male owned by Mary Lou Skinner, and Chief, a Labrador male, owned by Sid Menasco and handled by Carl Newell.

DREAM BECOMES REALITY
An event Medford Gun club members have worked and planned for over many years will become a reality on July 20. That is the date that the Grand Pacific shoot of the Pacific International Trapshooting association begins at the Medford layout. It runs through July 24 and will be the biggest trapshoot in importance, in the history of the club here. The Grand Pacific is expected to draw at least 300 shooters from British Columbia, Washington, Montana, Idaho, Nevada, California, Utah, Arizona and Oregon.

The Gun club and Jackson County Chamber of Commerce have cooperated in mailing out some 1,500 letters with lists of motels and hotels here to shooters in BC and seven of the states. Two carloads of clay targets, a total of more than 200,000 "pigeons," have arrived here.

July 10 will be a clean-up day at the club in preparation for the tourney. PITA President Ed W. Pease said that it is hoped to have a membership party or dinner session at the clubhouse some night next week to make general plans for the shoot and outline the July 10 work.

Brovia Eyes Regular Job With Reds

By SCOTT BAILLIE
Oakland, Calif. (U.P.)—When Joe Brovia, the Pacific Coast League's favorite hitter, joins the Cincinnati Redlegs today he will try and talk General Manager Gabe Paul into letting him play regular in the outfield.

"Signed as a pinch hitter only?" Brovia exclaimed yesterday while discussing his purchase from Oakland. "Gee, I dunno. Maybe I'll go on back to the Coast League if that's no. I've been waiting to get into the majors for 16 years so guess it's okay. But I'm going to do a little talking to Mr. Paul about the setup anyway."
Paul said yesterday in Cincinnati that Brovia had been bought only for use as a pinch hitter and that he was a poor fielder. Joe has had his bad moments in the outfield but doesn't go for the idea of being rated with Smead Jolley, the PCL fence buster of 20 years ago whose catastrophes in the outfield still have 'em chucking around the big leagues.
Will Show 'Em
"I'm an all-around ballplayer and I think I'll show them that," the 33-year-old Brovia said.
The intense, moody slugger—who wears the knee-bands of his pants in the general vicinity of his ankles—never has seen a major league in his life but shows no fear.

"I'm looking forward to hitting against big league stuff," he said. "I'm so excited about it I haven't eaten for two days. Who do I want to face most? Robin Roberts of the Phils. All you hear about is the great stuff he has and now I want to see for myself."
Brovia is deserting his right field spot with Oakland sporting a .332 batting average. Outside of short hitches in the Western International League and Pioneer League he never has played away from the PCL since 1941. His first year in professional baseball was at El Paso of the Arizona Texas League where he hit .383 in 1940. His lifetime PCL average is .302.

Ted Gray Dons Yankee Uniform

New York (U.P.)—Lefty Ted Gray, twice cast adrift by American League teams this season, hoped for the magic of the pinstriped Yankee uniform today to make him an effective pitcher once again.
Gray was signed by the Yankees as a free agent Thursday to replace Bob Grim, last year's rookie of the year, who is suffering from a sore elbow and was placed on the disabled list. Apparently it was a "last chance" assignment for chronically sore-armed Gray, who was given his unconditional release by the Cleveland Indians last Friday after all other clubs waived on his services.

Tony Trabert Triumphant In Wimbledon Tennis Final

Wimbledon, England (U.P.)—Top-seeded Tony Trabert of Cincinnati, Ohio, won the men's singles title at the Wimbledon championships today with a 6-3,

TONY TRABERT
Wimbledon Champ

and was a 7-5 choice to defeat the unseeded Nielsen.

Nielsen gained the title round with a surprising victory over Australia's Ken Rosewall. In the women's singles, Beverly Baker Fleitz of Long Beach, Calif., and three-time champion Louise Brough of Beverly Hills, Calif., marched into the finals Thursday. Mrs. Fleitz upset top-seeded Doris Hart of Miami, Fla., 6-3, 6-0, and Miss Brough downed Darlene Hard of Montebello, Calif., 6-3, 8-6.

In the men's doubles semifinals, Rosewall and Neale Fraser also sprung a surprise by turning back Trabert and Seixas, 6-2, 1-6, 6-1, 4-6, 6-3, while the Aussies' No. 1 team of Lew Hoad and Rex Hartwig defeated teammates Mervyn Rose and George Worthington, 7-9, 6-4, 6-4, 2-6, 6-1.

Painter Throws No-Hit Pee Wee Baseball Victory

Dennis Painter hurled a no-hit no-run decision for the Medford Tigers and Lone Pine knocked Central Point out of the unbeaten ranks yesterday in Southern Oregon Junior Baseball League pee wee combats.
Painter whiffed 11 batters and walked just three as the Tigers thumped Jacksonville 18 to 0. Lone Pine toppled Central Point 10 to 8 and the Medford Wildcats nipped Ashland 3 to 2. Results placed CP, the Wildcats and the Tigers in a three-way deadlock for first place. Each has three wins and one loss.

Eleven Jacksonville errors contributed to the Tigers' big score. The Wildcats had to go into an extra sixth inning to win.

SHORT SCORES:

Medford Tigers	18	13	1
Jacksonville	0	0	11
Painter and Anderson; Ronnie and Bray.
Medford Wildcats	3	4	4
Ashland	2	5	2
Bob Quinney and Criswell; Bud Quinney; Hardy and Johnson.
Lone Pine	10	9	3
Central Point	8	4	1
Greene and Griffin; Anhorn and Warren.

Trabert wound up his drive through the men's division without losing a set while defeating seven opponents.

Last year the crew-cut youth from Cincinnati, Ohio, quit college in order to shoot for the Wimbledon crown and recognition as "the world's best amateur player." However, he developed hand blisters during the 1954 championships and eventually bowed out in the semifinals.

In this year's tournament, Trabert has waded through six opponents without the loss of a set. He has been playing some of the best tennis of his career

Bob Rosburg Pace Torrid In BC Open

Vancouver, B. C. (U.P.)—Easy-going Bob Rosburg of San Francisco was setting a torrid pace today as the field moved out for the third round in the British Columbia Open golf tournament.

The ex-Stanford star followed up his opening round 65 with a five-under-par 67 in his second round around the Shaughnessy Heights course Thursday. That gave him a 36-hole total of 132 and a three-stroke lead over Dow Finsterwald of Bedford Heights, Ohio.

Pre-tournament favorite Mike Souchak of Durham, N.C., held down third place with a 136, one stroke ahead of Sam Sneed of White Sulphur Springs, W. Va.

Bracketed with Sneed at 137 were Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., Tommy Bolt of Houston, Tex., Ken Towns of Fort Lewis, Wash., and Mike Fetchik of Yonkers, N.Y.
Marty Furgol of Lemont, Ill., who was among the first round leaders, slipped into a tie with four other golfers at 138, while former U.S. Open champion Julius Boros of Mid Pines, N.C., had a 109.

Vancouver, B. C. (U.P.)—Two Portlanders, Bob Duden and Larry Lamberger, headed the Oregon contingent in the British Columbia Open Golf Tournament today but both were far off the 132 pace set by Bob Rosburg of San Francisco.

Duden shot his second straight 73 yesterday for a two-day total of 146. Lamberger had a 73 for a total of 147.

Chicks Owner Thinks Radio, Video Can Be Blessing to Baseball

By RUSS DALEY
Memphis, Tenn. (U.P.)—Leo Burson, who bought the ball park where he once peddled peanuts, figures that television and radio can be the salvation instead of the death of minor league baseball.

Burson, the new owner of the Memphis Chicks of the Class AA Southern Association, said today that baseball is in for a "boom" and that it will be partly because of and not in spite of radio and television.

"The more channels we can use to feed baseball and make it felt in the American home will eventually work in our favor and bring more fans," he said.

"We want to make fans want to come out and see games. The old idea was like an iron curtain. If you cut off radio and TV, how are you going to educate people as to what the spirit of baseball really is?"

Rocky, Arch Matched in Title Bout

By Jack Cuddy
New York (U.P.)—Unbeaten Rocky Marciano and 38-year-old Archie Moore were matched today for a world heavyweight championship fight at Yankee Stadium on Sept. 20.

Announcing the match, promoter Jim Norris said heavyweight champion Moore would receive 40 per cent of the total net receipts and light heavyweight champion Moore 20 per cent.

He said there would be no home television but that he expected it to be made available on theater television throughout the country. In addition, he is negotiating for radio to the homes.

The match shapes up as a great attraction because it pits unbeaten Marciano of Brockton, Mass., against the most dangerous puncher on his list since he won the title from Jersey Joe Walcott on Sept. 23, 1952, with a sensational 13th round knockout. The Walcott who tried to recapture the title on May 15, 1953, had faded to a pitiful shadow of himself. Rocky's other defenses were against Roland LaStarza, Ezzard Charles twice, and Don Cockell.

Thirty-eight-year-old Moore of San Diego, Calif., is not only a dangerous puncher but a smarter and more cunning boxer than 30-year-old Rocky. As the sixth challenger for Marciano's title, Archie will be the most confident, for he is riding a string of 21 straight victories.

Another Dodger Catcher Injured

Brooklyn (U.P.)—The injury-riddled Brooklyn Dodgers finally won a photo finish today—X-rays on catcher Al Walker's bruised left shoulder showed negative and he will be back in the lineup in a day or so.

Walker suffered the injury in a collision at home plate when he tagged out Willie Mays in the Dodger victory over the Giants Thursday. He was carried off the field in considerable pain. Dr. Harold Wendler, the Dodger trainer, made a preliminary examination and said he thought Walker might be out some time. Howell Upped

Until Walker is in shape to play again, third stringer Dixie Howell, who has been the chief bullpen catcher, will take over the mask and pads.

Meanwhile, Roy Campanella, who had clinched the job as the National League catcher in the All-Star game at Milwaukee, rested comfortably, trying to get his injured knee in shape without surgery. He has a loose spur from a previous injury floating in his kneecap, and his doctors have prescribed rest.
