40 and 8 Planning To Raise Funds for Nurses Training

A program of nurses training in Jackson county is being planned under the sponsorship of the 40 and 8 here, it was announced last week.

Costs of the program will be underwritten by the American Legion's fun and honor organization, and projects are under way to raise the money, which is administered by the child welfare committee of the 40 and 8. The program will allow for training as a nurse in any class A hospital, according to Ernest Winkle, 40 and 8 president. "The goal is three girls," Winkle added. "They will receive training at hospitals either in Portland or Eugene".

To Give Away Ford
The current fund-raising plan is a "give-away" project, with the big prize a "brand-new" Model T Ford. The Ford is complete with a new paint job, new tires, new battery, and a renovated starter, generator, running gear and motor, with paints and labor mostly donated by Mitchell's Paint Shop, Staats Service Station, Nickle Silver Battery Co., Electric Supply Co. and Macks Garage. It is equipped with Old Timer's license plates and is "all ready to go".

Free tickets for the drawing on July 30 are available from any member of the 40 and 8 in Medford, Ashland and Central Point. Donation to the fund are solicited.
Mayor Receives First
Mayor Earl Miller, recipient of the first ticket to be given away by the 40 and 8, lauded the group for their program, declaring that the entire community should get back of the nurses training program.
"My dollar may be the one that would start a girl in nurses training who later might be the nurse to save my life", Mayor Miller said.
Ernie Winkle, chief of the 40 and 8 here, urged everyone to get the free tickets on the Model T. All donations will be used in their entirety for this program, with no deductions for expenses or administration costs, Winkle added. Nurses training programs are being sponsored by the 40 and 8 all over the state.

No Delay Planned On Coast Highway

Portland — (U.P.) — Preliminary work on the new coast highway route between Astoria and Seaside will not be delayed, despite Friday's objections by a Clatsop county delegation, the state highway commission announced.

Chief Highway Engineer R. H. Baldock's recommendation that the road should be rebuilt over a proposed two-lane bridge across Youngs bay southwestward from Smith point, was approved Thursday by the commission.
The decision was protested by Francis H. Harrington, a Portland attorney representing Clatsop County Development League.
Harrington said the group wanted time to present figures on an alternate route along the Lewis and Clark river which had also been considered for the relocation.
The commission plans to formally approve the Smith Point rule when it meets July 11.

Prospect Sets Fifth Annual Hill-Billy Jamboree July 23-24

Prospect — The fifth annual Hill-Billy Jamboree will be conducted here July 23 and 24, it was announced last week. Plans for the community-wide event are well along, sponsors said.

The jamboree is a unique plan of the small mountain community, and raises funds for a "community fund" to "keep things going" during the winter months, when logging shut-downs often create unemployment here. It is administered by the community club, and is used to finance activities and charities.

The jamboree will begin at noon on Saturday, the 23rd, with a parade through town, ending at the Jamboree grounds, where entertainment is planned throughout the afternoon. Square and ballroom dancing will be featured in the evening, following the crowning of the Jamboree queen.

On Sunday, a variety of contests and entertainment will be featured in conjunction with a community-wide old-fashioned "family picnic."
Six girls of the Prospect area are competing in the queen contest. The one selling the largest number of jamboree tickets will be the queen, and the other girls will be members of her court.

80-Year-Old Makes Cross Country Jaunt On Motorscooter

Portland — (U.P.) — Eighty-year-old Burt Thompson of Enid, Okla., is convinced the best way to travel from Oklahoma to Portland without being bothered by hitchhikers is to make the trip in a motorscooter. And he's done just that.

Thompson, who quips that he's too young to drive a car, arrived here Friday to visit his foster son, Leo Schneider. It's his second trip to the Pacific Northwest on his ancient, umbrella-equipped scooter. Thompson said that last time, the trip cost him about $40 for gas and oil.

"But I had to change spark plugs ever so often. This time I'm burning ethyl and climbing the hills in high. I can make nigh onto 25 miles an hour now," he says.

Thompson expects to put about 5000 miles on his speedometer this trip, returning home by way of Casper, Wyo.
