Grandmother Misses Day at Work After Answering $32,000 Question in TV Quiz

New York—(U.P.)—If the folks at the naval supply depot at Mechanicsburg, Pa., don't mind too much, Mrs. Catherine Kreitzer doesn't think she'll come to work today.

She didn't get away from New York until half past midnight, and then there was the long train ride to Harrisburg, Pa., and she didn't get to her eight-acre farm near Camp Hill, Pa., until a very wee hour.

It takes a bit out of a body, winning $32,000 on a television quiz show. And, after all, Mrs. Kreitzer is 54 and has six grown sons and nine grandchildren and she has slowed up some these last few years.

A Bit Nervous

Last night she was tense as she prepared for the next-to-last question on the TV "$32,000 Question" show. Her left eyebrow twitched, flicking upward, as she talked. And she came close to missing the $32,000 question about the Bible, although it was about Jesus' 12 disciples, a subject she knows well.

Mrs. Kreitzer must spend the next seven days worrying with her husband, Joseph, and her father, Joseph Bucher, 82, who lives nearby, whether she will risk her $32,000 to try for $64,000 next week. If she should try and lose, she'd get only a Cadillac convertible as consolation prize.

Grange

Phoenix Grange A pot luck dinner was enjoyed by the Grange at their last meeting and was followed by a Father's day program prepared by Myrtle Ferns.

Mrs. Eve Prentice's pupils gave several lovely accordion numbers, those participating included Cynthia Owens, Connie Goehring, Cilia Putman, Monte Noble, Donald Carnes, Roger Wiley, Richard LaFleur, Sandra Charters, Lelia and Lee Ann Prentice, Sharon Roberts and Virginia Walters, Sandra Charters also sang several solos.

Little Luana Loffer sang "Daddy's Report Card." Olive Floyd gave a humorous reading. Bernie Lewin won the prize for having the oldest child and Warren Loffer the youngest and Harold Dinsmore for traveling the greater distance to Grange.

The annual picnic will be held July 7 at the home of the Dinsmores in Gold Hill and all Grangers and their families are urged to attend. The DeGroats, Swinglers and Mona Ferns will be co-hosts.

Butte Falls Grange

The Butte Falls Grange will meet in regular session July 11 at 8 p.m. The social night for June was a picnic held at the Fish Hatchery park, and was well attended. The next social night will be announced later.

Denver—The highest automobile road in the United States may be that which leads to the summit of Mt. Evans, which is 14,260 feet, according to the calculations of the Colorado Automobile club.

Answering questions about the Bible, she has won for three straight shows. Last night, this was the question. A three-part one:

Names Disciples

"Jesus had 12 disciples. Peter and Matthew were two, and two others both were named James, often distinguished from each other as 'James the Greater' and 'James the Lesser'."

"Now—for $32,000—give me the names of the eight additional disciples."

"Then tell me the work that

Peter did to earn a living and the work that Matthew did to earn a living.

"Then tell me the name of the father of James The Lesser." Mrs. Kreitzer took the full seconds allowed her to ponder. Then she named eight, in this order: Andrew, Phillip, Bartholomew, Mathew, Thaddeus, Thomas, Simon, and Judas Iscariot.

What she had done was leave out the disciple John, who was among the eight additional required, and put in Matthew. She was then told to name all the disciples. That was easy, and the name of John fell into place. Then she breezed through the rest of the question. Peter was a fisherman, Matthew a tax collector and James the Lesser was the son of Alphaeus.

Mrs. Kreitzer pressed her left hand above her heart. She smiled, and her brown eyes softened. But she said she didn't believe she'd go to work today.
