Washington Studs Don't Take Medford Nine Lightly For Series This Week End

The Washington Cheney Studs—the Evergreen State's stand-out semi-pro baseball team for two straight years, reportedly won't be taking anything for granted Saturday night and Sunday afternoon when they come here to meet the Medford version of the Cheney Studs.

For two straight years the Washington nine has won the Seattle and Washington state American Baseball diadems and last year it was the northwest ABC titlist. This year already the Seattle-Tacoma area powerhouse has compiled a fine winning record while the Medford Studs, cellar team last year, are currently floundering in the basement of the Southern Oregon league.

Reports from Seattle, nevertheless, are that the Southern Oregon loop is considered much tougher than the semi-pro competition in the Washington Studs home region. And the Medford squad does have a 7-win, 1-tie, 1-loss record against non-league rivals.

At any rate Business Manager Bill Askwith of the Medford organization states that the Washington Studs plans to come here with their top players. A squad of 15 will make the trip to Medford.

At the Medford end—the local Studs are anticipating their hardest series of the season, despite the consideration that their league may be stronger. This forthcoming match between two Cheney Lumber company clubs is being regarded as Medford's top semi-pro attraction this season.

Youth, ability, hustle and desire form the key to success for the Washington nine. It represents the cream of the crop of the Puget Sound area and it has the background of Seattle Rainiers boosting as well as sponsor Ben Cheney's high interest in developing young players.

Exact personnel of the visiting nine should be known by tomorrow. The squad undoubtedly will include Luther Carr, sensational outfielder and all-around athlete billed as the next Willie Mays. Others are Bob Jacobs, shortstop and most valu-

Medford Beaten At Grants Pass

Grants Pass tipped Medford 3 to 2 yesterday in a Cub League baseball encounter which went 11 innings, four over the standard number.

The Climate City boys won the fray on their home diamond with two hits and a fielder's option in the 11th for a run which busted a 2-all tie.

Errors hurt both clubs in the contest and allowed GP to tie the score after Medford held a 2 to 1 lead. Wayne Allen gave the GP nine only five hits. He struck out 16 batters and walked four. However, Medford could get only two hits, both off starter Larry Cochell. He and Smith combined to whiff 1 and walk six Medford players.

Medford won a pick-up pee wee fray 9 to 8 at Grants Pass also yesterday.

Studs, Loggers Knot 3-All in 11 Innings

McCloud's Loggers, high-powered front running club of the Northern California League, settled for a 3-all deadlock with the Medford Cheney Studs baseball crew here last night after the clubs had battled for 11 innings and the tussle looked as if it might go on into the night.

Medford had several chances to pull a victory out of the fire in late innings but couldn't press their opportunities quite far enough. The Studs had three men on base with two out in the bottom of the 11th frame but Pitcher Don Nichols whiffed Third Baseman Bill Askwith to end the threat.

While the Studs didn't quite make it, they preserved their unbeaten status against NCL opposition. The non-loop scuffle was their sixth this season with a Northern Cal nine. McCloud look over sole possession of the NCL lead last week end by trouncing Tulalake and Dorris.

Run Looks Big
Medford scored once in the second inning last night when Bill McLean walked, Howard Morris sacrificed and Jim Kelly singled McLean home. That run looked mighty big as Kelly hurled effectively for the Studs for six innings. He gave up only one hit in that time.

It took a bad hop single in the seventh frame to spoil the spell. Kelly issued his second walk of the fracas to Harry Milkian. Then Bill Mayer rapped one which looked like a sure double play ball. However, the pellet hopped over Second Baseman Ed McCullough. Milkian tallied on a ground out by Bob Paolinetti. Sid Seeman next singled to bring home Mayer, giving the Loggers a 2 to 1 edge.

The side retired when Shortstop Bob Selsor fielded Ted Toreson's swat, stepped on second and threw to first base for a double play.

Kelly struck out the first batter he faced in the eighth inning. But Jim Berryman and Jim Bambino hit successive singles through the box and over second base. Marv Scherpf came in to relieve Kelly. Allie Reynolds flied out to deep centerfield, permitting Berryman to go to third. Berryman scored on a hit by Milkian for the last McCloud marker of the fray.

Two for Studs
The Studs came back in the bottom of the eighth for their tying runs. Selsor doubled and went home on Harvey Tonn's single. Ron Maurer followed with a safety, and Scherpf walked to fill the bases. Derald Wooton waited out a full count and drew a free pass which forced home the tying counter with two out and three men still on base. Jack Cooney then groundered to retire the side.

Selsor two-baggered with one out in the ninth inning but Nichols fanned two batters to conclude the inning. Maurer walked and Ed McCullough singled to put two men on base in the 10th inning. Cooney mashed a sizzling liner which looked like a certain game-winning hit. But First Baseman Bambino somehow nabbed and hung onto the ball, taking a moment to realize that he had it.

In the 11th, Maddox doubled and Tonn and Maurer walked to load the bases.

Kelly Fans 12
Kelly struck out 12 Loggers, walked two hit one batter and threw one wild pitch. He gave five hits in 7 1/3 innings. Scherpf allowed the other three McCloud hits and walked none in 2 2/3 frames. He fanned one. Wooton struck out two batters in an 11th inning mound appearance. Each of the McCloud pitchers, Conrad Munatones, Toreson and Nichols gave three hits. Munatones whiffed eight and walked four and Nichols fanned six and gave also four bases on balls. Toreson walked one.

Berryman socked two for three and Bambino two for four for the Loggers. Selsor hit two doubles and Terry Maddox a double and single for Medford. McCullough and Selsor displayed some hustling infield play.

The 11th inning ended about 11:30 p.m. and the long distance home for McCloud and California's daylight saving time were factors in discontinuing the game.

Oroville Challenges Sandpoint CC Anglers

Oroville — (U.P.) — Oroville Chamber of Commerce officials said today they would try to beat the Sandpoint, Ida., chamber at their own game of catching Kamloops trout.

Officials said the Kamloops in Lake Osoyoos are just as big as the ones in Pend Oreille lake in northern Idaho. The group has offered to do a street cleaning job in the Idaho town if they lose and they're asking the Sandpoint chamber to sweep Oroville streets if the border city wins.
