

Cast-Off Diamonders Spark White Sox, Brave Triumphs

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

Next to getting paid, a ball-player's biggest kick comes from getting even—especially against the club that traded him away— which explains why Walt Droop, Dick Donovan and Andy Pafko all enjoyed the same special satisfaction today.

Droop and Donovan, both of whom were cast off by Detroit, fixed the Tigers but good Thursday in pacing the Chicago White Sox to a 12-1 victory while Pafko, who was dealt away by the Chicago Cubs four years ago, hammered a pinch two-run homer against them to help Milwaukee win, 3-2.

Droop, traded away by the Tigers only last winter, laced his ex-teammates for a grand-slam homer and two singles, driving in five runs. Donovan, who didn't impress the Tigers when he was with them during the spring of 1954, certainly impressed them Thursday by hurling a five-hitter for his 10th victory and collecting three hits himself at the plate.

The homer by Pafko went a long way toward moving Milwaukee into second place in the National league. Sam (No-Hit) Jones was coasting along with a 2-0 lead until Pafko came off the bench in the seventh inning to hit his homer with Del Crandall on base. Bobby Thomson's single drove in Ed Mathews with the deciding run in the eighth. Bob Buhl pitched a five-hitter for his sixth victory.

In other National league games St. Louis nipped Cincinnati, 9-8, Brooklyn topped Pittsburgh, 4-3, and New York defeated Philadelphia, 8-5.

Indians Four Games Out
The Indians moved to within four games of the American league lead by licking the Athletics, 9-1, and the Red Sox beat the Senators, 6-5. The Yankees and Orioles were idle.

Outfielder Bill Virdon's seventh inning homer proved to be the deciding run in the Cardinals' victory over the Redlegs although Cincinnati made the game close by storming back to within one run of a tie after trailing by five runs. Southpaw Harvey Haddix was the winner although he was chased in the sixth. Ken Boyer and Sam Mele also hit homers.

Billy Loes racked up his ninth victory although the Pirates gave him some anxious moments when they scored two unearned runs in the ninth inning. Junior Gilliam homered off loser Ronnie Kline in the second inning and tripled home another Dodger run in the fourth. Preston Ward homered for Pittsburgh.

Limited to one hit by veteran Murry Dickson until the sixth inning, the Giants exploded for six runs in that frame to wipe out a five-run deficit and chase the Philadelphia right-hander. Willie Mays slammed two home runs for the Giants, his 26th

Bearden Aided in 13th Win For Seals; Portland Victor

By PETER HAYES
United Press Sports Writer

San Francisco's Gene Bearden is the first Pacific Coast League pitcher to win a baker's dozen games, thanks to a sterling relief job by Maurice Fisher.

Bearden was credited with his 13th victory against four defeats as the Seals measured Sacramento, 7-3, last night but the veteran southpaw gave up 11 hits before bowing out in the sixth inning with two on and nobody out.

Fisher coolly took over and forced Rex Jones to ground into a double play and Richie Myers to ground out. Fisher allowed only three hits the rest of the way.

The Seals stopped their downward plunge into the cellar by rallying for three runs in each of the first and third innings against loser Bud Daley (11-10), first of five Sac pitchers. Walt Judnich's two-run double and Johnny Ritchey's two-run single featured the two innings.

Other Games
Elsewhere in the loop, Seattle

downed Los Angeles, 8-4, and pulled to within two games of the front-running San Diego Padres, who lost out to Hollywood in the ninth inning, 5-4. Portland downed Oakland, 4-1, behind Bill Werle's tight pitching.

Werle, Portland's "dearming southpaw, fanned six, walked only one and scattered eight hits in challenging up his sixth straight win. His overall record is 11-3. Oakland's George Bamberger (9-5) also went the distance and also yielded eight hits.

All-Time Marks Could Tilt Odds Heavily in Favor of National League All-Stars

By CARL LUNDQUIST

New York—(U.P.)—Duke Snider, Ted Kluszewski and Don Newcombe have a chance to bring all-time high marks into the All-Star game at Milwaukee next Tuesday which could tilt the odds heavily in favor of the National League.

Early odds have the National League a slight 7-5 favorite for the classic but if their star performers keep up their good work the figures might be as high as 2-1.

Snider of the Dodgers and Kluszewski of the Redlegs already have 28 home runs apiece. The all-time high on homers for a player in the All-Star game was 28 by Gil Hodges of the Dodgers in 1951, when for a time the Brooklyn Musclemans was keeping pace with Babe Ruth's record of 60 set in 1927. The American League high on and 27th of the season, while Hank Thompson, Alvin Dark and Gail Harris hit one each. Richie Ashburn homered for Philadelphia.

Garcia Wins Fifth
Two home runs by Larry Doby and one by Al Rosen were the big blows in Cleveland's 12-hit attack on three Kansas City pitchers. The Athletics led 1-0 until the Tribe rallied for three runs in the seventh. Mike Garcia scattered six hits for his fifth victory while rookie southpaw Caccarelli, who held the Indians hitless until the fifth, suffered his fifth loss.

Grady Hatton's single with the bases loaded highlighted a three-run rally in the seventh inning that earned the Red Sox their seventh victory in a row and 12th triumph in the last 13 games. Norm Zaichin provided Boston's first three runs when he hit his 18th homer with two on off loser Bob Porterfield in the first inning.

Relief pitcher Ellis Kinder notched his third win although George Susce rescued him when the Senators scored twice in the ninth. The Red Sox are now only 6½ games off the pace.

All-Star home runs at the time of the game is 26 by Jimmy Foxx of the 1934 Athletics.

Snider Top RBI Man
Snider, with 87 runs batted in through Thursday's game with the Pirates, already is assured of being the top RBI man ever to appear for the National League.

The previous high brought into the game was the 84 by Mel Ott of the Giants in 1934. However, the highest runs batted in mark going into the summer extravaganza was the total of 100 amassed by Hank Greenberg of the 1935 Tigers when the teams recessed for the mid-season interlude.

Newcombe, if he beats the Giants tonight, will have a season mark of 15-1 which would make him the all-time for winner ever to pitch for the National League in the dream game. His present total of 14 wins assures him of a tie with the previous N.L. best. On five occasions pitchers brought records of 14 victories to the game. Dizzy Dean did it twice, in 1934 and 1936 with the Cardinals. Ewell Blackwell of Cincinnati in 1947, Bucky Walters of Cincinnati in 1944, and Robin Roberts of the Phillies in 1953 also had 14 wins apiece.

Feller Holds Pitching Mark
However, the best mid-season mark ever for the All-Star game was brought in by Bobby Feller of the Cleveland Indians, 1941 vintage. Feller had won 16 games by mid-season of that year and seemed on the way to his greatest season. He slowed down and won only nine more games to finish with a total of 25.

Contrasted with the American League leaders in those important departments, the marks of Kluszewski, Snyder and Newcombe are all the more impressive.

Mickey Mantle of the Yankees and Al Kaline of the Tigers are the coleaders in home runs with 18 apiece, or 10 less than the total of Kluszewski and Snider. Jackie Jensen of the Red Sox leads in runs batted in with 69, or 18 less than Snider.

Newk's pitching mark of 14-1 is considerably more impressive than that of the top American League All-Star flingers, Early Wynn of the Indians at 11-3 or Dick Donovan of the White Sox at 10-2.

Hilman Robbins Eyes 5th Crown

Memphis, Tenn.—(U.P.)—Lanky Hilman Robbins of Memphis today opened his bid for an unprecedented fifth straight Colonial Invitation crown over a field of 31 crack Southern golfers.

Posing as one of the biggest threats was jolting Jim Mangrum of Shreveport, La., who took medalist honors with a two-under-par 68 Thursday and a qualifying total of 141. Mangrum forced Robbins to go three extra holes before bowing in the 1953 tournament.

Robbins, still trying to shake a lingering virus flu, blasted off against Frank Edens of Lumberton, N. C., in the 18 holes of opening match play today.

Don Bisplinghoff of Orlando, Fla., a semi-finalist in the recent British Amateur, finished two strokes behind Mangrum at 143 in qualifying, carding a 70 Thursday. Bisplinghoff shared second place with Ed Brantley of Chattanooga, Tenn., who added a 71 to his opening round 72.

Barber Leader In St. Paul Open

St. Paul, Minn.—(U.P.)—Jerry Barber, the littlest pro in golf, led the way into the second round of the red-hot St. Paul Open golf tournament today with a nine-under-par 63 under his belt.

The smiling little Los Angeles pro, using a battered old putter, headed a 142-man field that was ripping par to pieces in the 72-hole, $15,000 event over Keller course.

But even with his 30-33 in Thursday's first round, "the hottest round of my tournament career," he was only one stroke ahead of Fred Hawkins, St. Andrews, Ill., and Art Wall Jr., Paconia Manor, Pa.

Only one more stroke behind at 65 were peppery Tommy Bolt of Chattanooga, Tenn.; Young Walker Inman Jr., Augusta, Ga., and Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa.

Fifty golfers smashed par and 10 others equaled it in the opening round despite a mid-day downpour.

Hardtop Driver Interest Upped By Added Money

Ashland—A total of $50 added money should boost the incentive of hardtop drivers and thereby make a more interesting evening for the fans when auto races are staged Saturday night at the Ashland speedway.

Promoters look for a slam-bang program and feeling that interest has soared with opening of the track to A cars on June 25. A full card of races is scheduled.

Lou Kurz drove a hard race to take the main at the last evening of rivalry at the track and will have to go just as hard if he wants to repeat since a flock of other drivers are just as interested in the pay-off.

Monty Hall among the A drivers and Crock Hunter among the B boys are current point leaders. Hall has 33 and is followed by Bob Wilcox with 32, Bill Metzger with 32, Kurz with 30 and Al Root with 28. Hunter has a big B lead with 229. Wally Cannon is next with 179. Other highs are Floyd Bodfield 144, Joe Ellison 138 and LeRoy Kenney 128.

Time trials are set for 7 p.m. with races at 8 p.m.

40 Little League Clubs In South Carolina Drop Out Over Negro Issue

Columbia, S.C.—(U.P.)—All but 15 of South Carolina's white Little League baseball teams have withdrawn from competition because "it is impractical for a Negro team to participate in the state Little League tournament this season."

The withdrawal of the 40 teams was revealed Thursday night by Danny Jones of Charleston, director of the state program. The resolution stating the participation of the Negro team—the Cannon Street YMCA of Charleston—"is impractical" was drawn up at a meeting Wednesday night.

To Join Rainiers

Seattle—(U.P.)—Vern Stephens, long-time major league star, has agreed to terms with the Seattle Rainiers and will join the Pacific Coast League club here tonight, the Rainiers' front office announced.

The 34-year-old slugger, who had a major league career of 15 unbroken seasons, was expected to solve the Seattle team's problem at third base.

Stephens was made a free agent by the Chicago White Sox a few days ago.

Heath Suspension Cut to 3 Days

San Francisco—(U.P.)—President Claire Goodwin of the Pacific Coast League has cut the suspension of San Francisco Seals Manager Tommy Heath to three days for beefing with Umpire Al Mutart last Sunday.

Goodwin at first imposed a $50 fine and added an indefinite suspension after Heath and Mutart indulged in shoving tactics over a close call at first base during Sunday's doubleheader with San Diego.
