

Mr. and Mrs. Loyd Lee Albern (Anders photo)

Afternoon Rites Wed Miss Phillips And L. L. Albern

Central Point—An afternoon ceremony Sunday, June 26, wedded Miss Barbara June Phillips, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter L. Phillips, Central Point, and Loyd Lee Albern, son of Mr. and Mrs. Edd Albern, 480 Charlotte Ann road.

The double ring ceremony read by the Rev. Lewis Collins took place in the Community Bible church in Central Point at 2 p.m.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon lace, designed with fitted bodice. Her finger tip veil was held in place by lace and pearls. She carried a bouquet of white gardenias and sweet peas.

Miss Pat Albern, maid of honor, wore a pink nylon ballerina frock, and carried a bouquet of white gardenias.

David Frederickson was best man. Seating guests were Harvey Joe Phillips, brother of the bride, and Charles Waldron.

The bride's mother wore a suit of light blue, with white accessories. Mother of the bridegroom wore a light blue dress with white accessories. Both had corsages of white carnations.

The reception was held at the home of the bridegroom and Mrs. David Frederickson cut the wedding cake. Mrs. William Struggs, assisted by Mrs. Marton and Mrs. Edimson, served punch and coffee.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Emma Cooper of Smith River, Calif., the bridegroom's great aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Cooper, Eureka, Calif., Mrs. Bessie Franklin, Salinas, Calif., Mr. and Mrs. Frederickson, Hillcrest, Ore., and Mrs. Marguerite Evans, Smith River, Calif., grandmother of the bridegroom.

The couple made their wedding trip to Reno, Nev., and left July 8 for Ketchikan, Alaska, where the bridegroom is employed.

During the question period Mrs. Gage-Colby was asked about the attitude of United States representatives to the UN, and she said that with some there is "a holding back"—that full cooperation is not always given. She further said that the press of this country does not give "the whole story of the cold war" and added that probably this is a condition to be expected and unavoidable.

Mrs. Gage-Colby in closing urged her listeners "to stop being afraid."

Bruce Manley, president of the UN chapter, introduced the speaker, and also spoke of the San Francisco conference, which he attended. Mr. Manley, also impressed with the tone of the speeches, said "no delegate expressed any fear and everyone seemed to want peace." He added that Russia's Molotov was "conciliatory" and said he believed "the next 10 years will bring more improvement in world problems."

The audience which attended the meeting filled the church auditorium, and was welcomed by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas McCamant. A social hour preceded the talks, with Mrs. Justin Smith serving coffee, and H. P. Bosworth Jr., and Moore Hamilton serving punch.

The Oak Grove Club will meet for a covered dish luncheon Tuesday, July 12, at the home of Mrs. E. G. Trowbridge on the Rogue river. All will meet at 10:30 a.m. at Mrs. Trowbridge's home, 3237 Jacksonville highway, and go to the cabin from there. Table service is required.

The speaker opened her talk by telling of the early work of Unicef in helping the millions of "lost" children of the second World War, and of the effort to control such diseases as tuberculosis and malaria. She pointed out that children suffering from malnutrition and disease cannot be educated and properly trained to become good citizens of their countries. The majority of the world's children suffer from four or five diseases at a time," she said and added that the people of this nation cannot expect to have all of the good things of life for their children unless they strive to see that the children of other nations also have some of them.

Mrs. Gage-Colby said it is necessary that children everywhere be taught to respect the religions of others and said we must "remove that most unjustifiable of all causes of war" the one based on differences of religion.

She mentioned the specific comments of several world leaders at the UN, including Abbe Ebban of Israel who said "the UN has changed from a world policeman to a world diplomat," the Mexican representative who said "we have re-affirmed our faith in life" and Henri Spaak, Belgium foreign minister, who at the end of the meeting laid aside his formal prepared statement and instead read the UN preamble in the manner of one saying a prayer and added "so be it."

During the question period Mrs. Gage-Colby was asked about the attitude of United States representatives to the UN, and she said that with some there is "a holding back"—that full cooperation is not always given. She further said that the press of this country does not give "the whole story of the cold war" and added that probably this is a condition to be expected and unavoidable.

Mrs. Gage-Colby in closing urged her listeners "to stop being afraid."

Bruce Manley, president of the UN chapter, introduced the speaker, and also spoke of the San Francisco conference, which he attended. Mr. Manley, also impressed with the tone of the speeches, said "no delegate expressed any fear and everyone seemed to want peace." He added that Russia's Molotov was "conciliatory" and said he believed "the next 10 years will bring more improvement in world problems."

The audience which attended the meeting filled the church auditorium, and was welcomed by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas McCamant. A social hour preceded the talks, with Mrs. Justin Smith serving coffee, and H. P. Bosworth Jr., and Moore Hamilton serving punch.

The speaker opened her talk by telling of the early work of Unicef in helping the millions of "lost" children of the second World War, and of the effort to control such diseases as tuberculosis and malaria. She pointed out that children suffering from malnutrition and disease cannot be educated and properly trained to become good citizens of their countries. The majority of the world's children suffer from four or five diseases at a time," she said and added that the people of this nation cannot expect to have all of the good things of life for their children unless they strive to see that the children of other nations also have some of them.

Mrs. Gage-Colby said it is necessary that children everywhere be taught to respect the religions of others and said we must "remove that most unjustifiable of all causes of war" the one based on differences of religion.

She mentioned the specific comments of several world leaders at the UN, including Abbe Ebban of Israel who said "the UN has changed from a world policeman to a world diplomat," the Mexican representative who said "we have re-affirmed our faith in life" and Henri Spaak, Belgium foreign minister, who at the end of the meeting laid aside his formal prepared statement and instead read the UN preamble in the manner of one say-

Mr. and Mrs. Bud L. Truax

Married in Reno, Couple Make Trip To Lake Tahoe

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Truax are now at 115 Elk street, Medford, following their recent marriage in Reno, Nev., and wedding trip to Lake Tahoe.

The former Miss Gayle Ingle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Oliver Ingle, 1978 Table Rock road, Medford, and Mr. Truax, son of Ralph Truax, Medford, and of Mrs. Leonard Killian, Empire, were married at St. Luke's Lutheran church, Reno, July 2, at 11 a.m. It was the 15th birthday of the bride's brother.

The Rev. George C. Schroeder performed the single ring ceremony. Mr. and Mrs. Jack Milhoan, 1403 East Main street, attended the couple.

The bride chose a white sheath dress with tan, and white hat and white accessories. She carried a heart-shaped bouquet of white carnations and stephanotis. Mrs. Milhoan wore a pink sheath dress with white accessories and carried a triangular-shaped bouquet of pink carnations.

A small bridal dinner was held at the Mapes hotel, Reno, after the wedding.

The bride and her family came to Medford in 1949 from Portland. She attended Portland schools and is a 1951 graduate of Central Point high school. The bride has been employed as assistant head bookkeeper at the U.S. National bank here.

The bridegroom has lived in Medford since 1945. He attended Yuma, Ariz., schools and Prosjonier High school and served in the Army Aviation from 1952 to 1954. He is now employed by the C. J. Hamilton Logging company here.

During the question period Mrs. Gage-Colby was asked about the attitude of United States representatives to the UN, and she said that with some there is "a holding back"—that full cooperation is not always given. She further said that the press of this country does not give "the whole story of the cold war" and added that probably this is a condition to be expected and unavoidable.

Mrs. Gage-Colby in closing urged her listeners "to stop being afraid."

Bruce Manley, president of the UN chapter, introduced the speaker, and also spoke of the San Francisco conference, which he attended. Mr. Manley, also impressed with the tone of the speeches, said "no delegate expressed any fear and everyone seemed to want peace." He added that Russia's Molotov was "conciliatory" and said he believed "the next 10 years will bring more improvement in world problems."

The audience which attended the meeting filled the church auditorium, and was welcomed by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas McCamant. A social hour preceded the talks, with Mrs. Justin Smith serving coffee, and H. P. Bosworth Jr., and Moore Hamilton serving punch.

The speaker opened her talk by telling of the early work of Unicef in helping the millions of "lost" children of the second World War, and of the effort to control such diseases as tuberculosis and malaria. She pointed out that children suffering from malnutrition and disease cannot be educated and properly trained to become good citizens of their countries. The majority of the world's children suffer from four or five diseases at a time," she said and added that the people of this nation cannot expect to have all of the good things of life for their children unless they strive to see that the children of other nations also have some of them.

Mrs. Gage-Colby said it is necessary that children everywhere be taught to respect the religions of others and said we must "remove that most unjustifiable of all causes of war" the one based on differences of religion.

She mentioned the specific comments of several world leaders at the UN, including Abbe Ebban of Israel who said "the UN has changed from a world policeman to a world diplomat," the Mexican representative who said "we have re-affirmed our faith in life" and Henri Spaak, Belgium foreign minister, who at the end of the meeting laid aside his formal prepared statement and instead read the UN preamble in the manner of one saying a prayer and added "so be it."

During the question period Mrs. Gage-Colby was asked about the attitude of United States representatives to the UN, and she said that with some there is "a holding back"—that full cooperation is not always given. She further said that the press of this country does not give "the whole story of the cold war" and added that probably this is a condition to be expected and unavoidable.

Mrs. Gage-Colby in closing urged her listeners "to stop being afraid."

Bruce Manley, president of the UN chapter, introduced the speaker, and also spoke of the San Francisco conference, which he attended. Mr. Manley, also impressed with the tone of the speeches, said "no delegate expressed any fear and everyone seemed to want peace." He added that Russia's Molotov was "conciliatory" and said he believed "the next 10 years will bring more improvement in world problems."

The audience which attended the meeting filled the church auditorium, and was welcomed by the pastor, the Rev. Thomas McCamant. A social hour preceded the talks, with Mrs. Justin Smith serving coffee, and H. P. Bosworth Jr., and Moore Hamilton serving punch.

The speaker opened her talk by telling of the early work of Unicef in helping the millions of "lost" children of the second World War, and of the effort to control such diseases as tuberculosis and malaria. She pointed out that children suffering from malnutrition and disease cannot be educated and properly trained to become good citizens of their countries. The majority of the world's children suffer from four or five diseases at a time," she said and added that the people of this nation cannot expect to have all of the good things of life for their children unless they strive to see that the children of other nations also have some of them.

Mrs. Gage-Colby said it is necessary that children everywhere be taught to respect the religions of others and said we must "remove that most unjustifiable of all causes of war" the one based on differences of religion.

Medford Man's Engagement Is Told in Fresno

Mr. and Mrs. Donald J. Dettinger, Fresno, Calif., have announced the engagement and approaching marriage of their daughter, Patricia Ann, to H. Robert Hall, son of Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Hall, 139 Highland Drive.

The couple plan a late August wedding and will make their home in Ashland, where Mr. Hall will be employed.

Mrs. Hall journeyed to Fresno to attend the Dettingers' open house party heralding the engagement. Her son will arrive in Medford for a visit next week.

Miss Dettinger and Mr. Hall have been students at Fresno State college. A graduate of Fresno High school, she has been an education major and a member of Kappa Alpha Theta sorority.

A graduate of Fresno High school also, Mr. Hall has been an accounting major and president of the junior class. His fraternity is Sigma Alpha Epsilon.

The Halls came to Medford recently from Fresno.

Day Camp Sessions Closed for Season

The Girl scout day camping program in Jackson and Josephine counties closed July 1.

Over 615 girls attended day camps in Medford, Grants Pass, Ashland, Rogue River, Talent, and Grayback park north of Cave Junction. Sixty-six adult volunteer staff members and 40 program aides helped provide a camp program for girls from 7 a.m. to 10 p.m. Camp sessions varied from five to eight days in the different localities.

Basically a "livinette" is designed, says the Gas Appliance Manufacturers association, so that the home maker may enjoy the company of her family in the room where she spends most of her working hours—the kitchen. The low partitions that divide the various areas from each other permit her to see what's going on and to carry on a conversation with her husband or children as she cooks, cleans up or dries the laundry.

Miss Peggy Benton

Engagement Told For Peggy Benton To Winston Kurth

Mrs. Edna Benton, 256 Berrydale avenue, has announced the engagement of her daughter, Miss Peggy Benton, to Winston Kurth, son of Mr. and Mrs. Charles Miller, 1980 Barnett road.

No date for the wedding has been set.

Both young people are graduates of Medford High school. Miss Benton is now employed at the Medford Branch of the First National bank, and Mr. Kurth recently completed a tour of duty with the Navy.

Relatives Visit From Out-of-Town

Several out-of-town visitors were here during the week to visit relatives. Mrs. Evelina Lemire of Bellflower, Calif., was here to visit her son-in-law and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lewell Dupray, 921 South Holly street, and other relatives.

Mr. and Mrs. Emmett Sura and children, Susan, Mary, Michael and Dian were here from Tulare, Calif., and from Cottage Grove were Mr. and Mrs. Leslie Corey and children, Kathy, Jeannie, Mary, Mike and Bernadette.

They also visited with the Duprays, and with Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Darlands, 922 South Park street, and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Lemire of Ross lane.

Visitors Plan To Leave Today

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Hamlin, Oakland, Calif., have been guests this past week of Mr. and Mrs. Howell B. Murphy, Ross lane, Mrs. Hamlin's parents. Mrs. Hamlin is the former Marilyn Murphy.

During their visit the Hamlins have also been guests of Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Anderson, Ashland, at the Andersons' Lake of the Woods home. The visitors are leaving for home today.

District Council Meeting Scheduled By Townsend Clubs

The fourth district council of the Townsend club will meet today in the Caprenters Union hall, 12 1/2 West Main street. Roll of district officers will be called at 10 a.m.

Eve Prentice's accordianists will entertain during a ham dinner served in the banquet hall at 1 p.m. In the afternoon, a report on a national convention held in St. Petersburg, Fla., is scheduled.

Japan Topic for Gorsline Circle; Items Required

Mrs. Wm. Green will speak on Japan at Gorsline Missionary circle of the First Baptist church's regular monthly meeting, Monday, July 11, at 7:30 p.m. The meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. Keith Hockersmith, 2608 Jacksonville highway.

Mrs. Vincent Smith will be in charge of devotions. The White Cross item to be brought to the meeting is Jello. Members are asked to bring scissors for the White Cross work.

Miss Carolyn Hall

Miss Carolyn Hall Engaged To Marry

Mr. and Mrs. Irvin E. Hall, 255 DeBarr avenue, announce the engagement of their daughter, Miss Carolyn Phyllis Hall, to Russell Leroy Melton, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry C. Melton, 299 Berrydale avenue.

Miss Hall is a 1955 graduate of Crater High school. Her fiancé is presently serving with the Navy at Tiburon, Calif.

No date has been set for the wedding.

Picnic

The Past Noble Grand club will hold a picnic with husbands as guests Saturday, July 16, beginning at 6:30 p.m. with a potluck dinner at the home of Mrs. Fred Daughtery, 2251 Kings Highway. The committee in charge is Mrs. Fred Daughtery, chairman, Mrs. Dana Bowers, Mrs. Clarence Jordan, and Mrs. Leona Gilino.

Faith in UN Borne Out at Recent Meet, Writer Says

Those who have faith in the United Nations saw that faith borne out at the recent UN anniversary conference in San Francisco according to Mrs. Ruth Gage-Colby, who addressed a meeting of Medford Chapter. Oregon United Nations association, held Friday night in First Congregational church.

Mrs. Gage-Colby, formerly a worker with UNICEF and now a member of a news agency covering the United Nations headquarters in New York, said the "cynicism of 10 years ago has been turned to conviction." She told how the high-ranking governmental officials attending the San Francisco meeting all had pledged themselves to work for peace and added "When you hear this 60 times, you cannot fail to be impressed."

The speaker further said that experienced reporters and commentators covering the meeting were impressed, and that some said they "played down" their reaction because they thought editors and readers would not believe what they had written.

Mrs. Gage-Colby indicated that the only disturbing incident was created when the representative of Cuba, Nunez-Portuondo, attacked Russia in his speech, with the support of General Carlos Romulo of the Philippines. She told how the presiding officer, Eelca van Kliefden, silenced them both and added that in her opinion, General Romulo seemed determined to keep the cold war alive.

Mrs. Gage-Colby spoke of recent events in Indonesia, Trieste, the Palestine-Arab area, in India and Pakistan, and said that while these efforts towards peaceful settlement of problems had been outside of the United Nations, they "had been initiated within."

She praised Secretary Dag Hammarskjold for his work in the United Nations and credited him with materially helping to bring about "the cease fire which actually exists in the Formosan straits." The speaker predicted that "great good will come out of Geneva" and said this will be true largely because of the conciliatory pattern, the "spirit of give and take" which prevailed at the San Francisco meeting.

The speaker opened her talk by telling of the early work of Unicef in helping the millions of "lost" children of the second World War, and of the effort to control such diseases as tuberculosis and malaria. She pointed out that children suffering from malnutrition and disease cannot be educated and properly trained to become good citizens of their countries. The majority of the world's children suffer from four or five diseases at a time," she said and added that the people of this nation cannot expect to have all of the good things of life for their children unless they strive to see that the children of other nations also have some of them.

Mrs. Gage-Colby said it is necessary that children everywhere be taught to respect the religions of others and said we must "remove that most unjustifiable of all causes of war" the one based on differences of religion.

She mentioned the specific comments of several world leaders at the UN, including Abbe Ebban of Israel who said "the UN has changed from a world policeman to a world diplomat," the Mexican representative who said "we have re-affirmed our faith in life" and Henri Spaak, Belgium foreign minister, who at the end of the meeting laid aside his formal prepared statement and instead read the UN preamble in the manner of one say-

Expert on Clothing Gives Homemakers Tips on Reclaiming

East Lansing, Mich. — (U.P.)—Making over old garments for children is a worthwhile project, but do a good job on the preliminaries.

That's the suggestion to home makers from Mrs. Margaret Hearn, a staff member of the clothing, textiles and related arts department at Michigan State college.

The first step in reclaiming a garment is to get it clean by dry-cleaning or washing. But, Mrs. Hearn warned, be sure to open the hems of the skirt and sleeves before cleaning. All the grime on the crease line can be removed then.

After cleaning, press the garment. Then examine the material. You may have to mend a tear or moth damage. You can do an expert job of mending by using threads from the same material and carefully weaving them to fill the holes, said Mrs. Hearn.

Now you're ready to start cutting and making the new garment.

Joint Ceremonies Install Club, Auxiliary Officers

Shady Cove — Joint installation of officers for the Shady Cove-Trail Lions club at Rogue River lodge, June 24, following an 8:30 p.m. dinner.

Donald L. Harmon is president for the ensuing year. Other officers include Ray Chubb, first vice-president, Everett Elrod, Lion tamer, Harry Goode, tall twister, the Rev. Mr. Currin, William Croucher, and O. L. Williams, directors. Installing officer was Larry Neeley of Medford, who is a past international director.

The local club received a plaque for the highest achievement for the year in this district, presented by Mr. Rupp of Central Point.

Mrs. Delbert Spain was installed as president of the auxiliary. Vice-president is Mrs. A. Dudley, secretary, Mrs. Everett Elrod, treasurer, Mrs. Earl Sheppard, and Lion tamer, Mrs. Thomas Quail. Mrs. Dan Dwyer was installing officer, and Mrs. William Croucher and Mrs. Ray Mullen served as pages.

THIS MAN CAN GIVE YOU BETTER HEARING

You don't want gadgets if you have trouble hearing—you need the help of an experienced, head hearing aid expert, backed by a nationwide organization producing fine instruments year in and year out.

That's what you will get for your money when you place your trust in Sonotone, world's leading hearing aid manufacturer and distributor. No high pressure selling but friendly help in finding the right hearing. We have helped hundreds of your neighbors—we can help you.

Before you buy any hearing instrument, find how good hearing can be—the Sonotone way.

SONOTONE

C. R. Adamson District Manager 839 East Jackson Blvd.

Rent a Brand New Gulbransen Spinnet PIANO from the Valley Music Co. 323 CHERRY LANE AVE.

117 S. CENTRAL Montgomery Ward PHONE 2-6241

Slip Cover Sale Save 21%

Chair Covers Reg. 9.98 7.88 Sofa Covers Reg. 19.98 15.88

Reg. 14.98 11.88 Daveno Cover

HEAVY WOVEN TWILLS—FIT MOST FURNITURE

Save now on long-wearing heavyweight twills in new harmonizing designs. Powerful two-way stretch Lortex backs hug furniture tightly, adjust to fit many styles. 15-in. dust-tight zipper closings make covers easier to put on. "Sta-fast" cords anchor cover under chair securely, prevent wrinkling and twisting. Smooth-fitting elastic closure cushion-covers are reversible for longer wear. Covers are hand washable—Newport floral pattern in cherry red, cocoa brown, green, smoke gray; Hampton in brown or green.

ONLY FEW STYLES SHOWN—MANY OTHERS AVAILABLE