Turncoat's Father Believes Sufficient Punishment Inflicted

Hillsboro, Miss.—(U.P.)—Farmer Elbert Bell said Saturday he believed his disillusioned turncoat son Otho has inflicted sufficient punishment on himself for deserting his country for a brief fling in Red China.

Bell voiced his opinion as he, his wife and their son made preparations to drive in their 1955 model car to San Francisco to meet Otho when he arrives aboard the President Cleveland July 29.

"I just hope he can come back home with us," Bell said. "He ought not to be punished any more."

Refused Repatriation

Otho G. Bell, Lewis Griggs of Jacksonville, Tex., and William Cowart of Dalton, Ga., refused repatriation at Panmunjom with 18 other soldiers at the end of the Korean war and chose to live with the Chinese Communists.

They became disillusioned with their new way of life and asked and received permission to return to the United States and face an uncertain future.

Bell's father, a 49-year-old poultry farmer, said he, his wife and son Lester would leave Hillsboro July 24 for San Francisco. Otho's stepmother, who reared him from a seven-month-old infant, was the happiest member of the family. She had at first planned not to make the trip because she "thought we wouldn't have enough money, and someone's got to stay here to look after things."

NLRB Aide Asks Vote At Ontario Set Aside

Ontario, Ore.—(U.P.)—Thomas P. Graham, regional director for the National Labor Relations Board, has recommended that a bargaining agent election conducted at the Oregon Frozen Foods Co. plant in Ontario April 28 be set aside and a new election held.

In a report released here today on objections of AFL Teamsters Local 900 at Pendleton, Graham said he found merit in the union's claim that employees were called into the company office individually just prior to the election and urged to reject the union.

Graham called the interviews "interference with free choice."

Employees rejected the union as their bargaining agent by a vote of 158 to 75 in the election.

Health Board Votes Vaccine Advisers

Portland — (U.P.) — The State Board of Health Friday voted to establish an advisory committee to help "assure equitable distribution" of Salk polio vaccine in Oregon in coming months.

The committee, expected to be named in the next few days, will be made up of two representatives of the Oregon State Medical Society, two from the State Pharmaceutical Association, and one each from the Parent-Teacher Association, a public health agency and the press, radio and television industries.

Dr. Harold M. Erickson, state health officer, said he hopes additional supplies of the vaccine will be made available for both public and private distribution in the state "within a short time."

The health officer told the board that while some 40,000 Oregon children received initial shots during school clinics earlier this year, only about 30 per cent of second shots had been completed because of the national production slowdown.

THAT 'GOOD EARTH' FEELING — Paratroopers of the 187th regimental combat team hug the "good earth" at Hamilton Field, Cal., after the plane in which they were flying from Japan survived the most perilous Pacific flight in history. Their crippled Globemaster limped home over 700 miles with two engines out.

No Freeway in Red Bluff; Klamath Man Pays Fine

Red Bluff, Calif. — (U.P.) — "I thought I was on a freeway," said Gary L. Kitt, Klamath Falls, Ore., explaining why he flashed through this small town at better than 70 miles an hour.

"Un huh," said Judge Robert L. Barbour and fined him $105.

New Effort Planned In M&M Dispute

Portland — (U.P.) — Federal Mediator LeRoy Smith Saturday said he planned to contact both union and management in a new effort to end a strike by some 1500 AFL plywood employees at five M and M plants in Oregon and California.

The federal mediator's efforts to "get the negotiations back on the road" followed union rejection Friday of a back-to-work proposal by the big lumber company.

Workers at M and M plants in Portland, Albany, Lyons, and Idanha in Oregon and Eureka in California voted 706-493 against returning to work while the company negotiated with the union.

The strike was called July 1 when the company refused to renew its union contract with "certain changes." The union demanded an unchanged contract.

Clay Brown, company president, said the company's position had not changed, and that the company was willing to resume operations under the same terms that existed prior to the strike.

Huge Hailstones Batter West Portland

Portland—(U.P.)—A freak July hailstorm battered Portland's West Hills Friday night with icy pellets the size of golf balls.

The hailstorm accompanied a sudden thundershower that drenched the city with upwards of .06 inches of rain. The weather bureau said it was the first hail to be recorded in Portland in July.

One Portland man, W. E. Goughnour, said the roof of his automobile emerged from the storm looking like a "wash-board" and he said hailstone punctured the canvas top of a neighbor's auto.

City police reported no damage from the considerable lightning.
