

Report on Boys State Given To Legion Post

Jerry Mathern, American Legion Post 15 representative to Beaver Boy state held at Corvallis, recently, gave a report on the week-long event at a post meeting last week.

Mathern described the week as "exceptionally well planned and supervised," and said the instructors were of the highest caliber. Mathern added that the boys' schedule started at 6 a.m. and ended at 10 p.m., with one hour of recreation in the afternoon and the balance of the time taken up with study and practical experience in city, state and county government.

Assigned

"As each group registered, they were separated and assigned to one of ten cities and five counties and their own city identities were forgotten," Mathern said. He added that the boys all became citizens of a new community, where each boy was on his own to make new friends and to learn about gov-

Argentina, Standard To Renegotiate Pact

Buenos Aires — (U.P.) — An influential congressman said Saturday Argentina's recent agreement with Standard Oil of California will be renegotiated to eliminate features found unacceptable by the pro-government majority in the Chamber of Deputies.

Peronist Deputy Eloy Camus, chairman of the special five-man committee group which has been studying the development contract, said Industry Minister Orlando Santos has agreed to reopen talks with Standard Oil.

Camus did not say which provisions of the contract are under fire, but certain clauses said to create a "state within a state" are known to have aroused congressional opposition.

These include stipulations that the company shall have the right to build its own roads, airports and railroads, and that any dispute between the company and the government shall be settled by an arbitrator who is neither an Argentine nor an American.

Las Vegas Hotel May Be Refinanced

Las Vegas, Nev. — (U.P.) — Refinancing and new control of the Riviera Hotel Saturday was reported pending the outcome of a meeting of stockholders.

The Riviera opened three months ago. Shortly afterwards it was reported to have financial difficulties.

Gus Greenbaum, former Flamingo president, and several partners opened negotiations Friday to gain controlling interest in the Riviera.

Southerners Urged to Retain Segregation

Washington — (U.P.) — Sen. Strom Thurmond (D-S.C.), Saturday attacked the Supreme Court for "violating states' rights" and called on Southerners to use "every legal means at their command" to retain racial segregation.

In a press release labeled "special segregation statement," he said recent federal court decisions against segregation were without color of law under the Constitution.

"Instead, the decisions hinged on the testimony of sociologists and psychologists in the school segregation case," he said. "Now it is clear that the lower courts feel bound to follow the political decision of the Supreme Court in the school cases."

He referred particularly to a decision Thursday by the fourth Circuit Court of Appeals in Richmond which held that South Carolina could not enforce racial segregation on buses within the state.

Thurmond, State's Rights presidential nominee in 1948, said the bus decision was "still another step in the attempts to destroy the rights guaranteed the states and individual citizens under the Constitution."

Indochina Elections 'Principle' Accepted

Saigon, Indochina — (U.P.) — Premier Ngo Dinh Diem Saturday accepted the "principle" of really free elections throughout Indochina.

But he said he doubted the Communists would ever agree to the necessary conditions.

Diem made the long-awaited statement in a nation-wide broadcast just before the Geneva Summit conference and only four days before the deadline set by the Indochina truce for talks to begin on plans for elections scheduled for next year.

The American-backed premier said he would never agree to any Communist proposals until the Reds decide to put national interest ahead of Communist goals, renounce terrorism and live up to agreements.

"Serving the national cause, let us fight more than ever for the reunification of our territory," Diem said. "Let us not reject the principle of elections as a peaceful and democratic means to realize this unity."

"Yet if elections constitute one of the true bases of Democracy they have their raison d'être (reason for being) on condition that they are absolutely free.

No law has ever been passed to designate how the stars in the American flag shall be arranged in design.
