Bathtub Per Bedroom Seen for Near Future

Springfield, Ill. — (U.P.) — The day is not far off when the average home will have a bath with each bedroom, according to Arthur F. Weiskopf, president of the Illinois Master Plumbers Assn.

Weiskopf said 70 per cent of all American homes are now more than 20 years old, and most of them have only one bath.

"A single bath is now considered inadequate where two or more persons live under one roof," he said.
