Maj. Gen. Donovan's Daughter-in-law Dies

South Dartmouth, Mass.—(U.P.) No outward signs of violence were detected in the death of the daughter-in-law of retired Maj. Gen. William J. (Wild Bill) Donovan, a medical examiner said today.

Dr. William Rosen of New Bedford said that a further toxicological autopsy in the death of Mrs. Mary Grandin Donovan, 37, would be performed at the Harvard University School of Legal Medicine in Boston.

Mrs. Donovan was found dead in bed at the general's summer home here Monday.

Her husband, David Donovan, was notified at the couple's Berryville, Va., home. He and General Donovan, who was in up-

Violent Typhoon Heads Nearer to Two Jima

Tokyo—(U.P.)—A violent tropical typhoon swept nearer Jima today with center winds clocked at 115 miles per hour.

Typhoon Georgia, ninth of the season, was located by U.S. Air Force weather planes early today about 185 miles southeast of the World War II island battleground. It was moving northwest at 18 miles per hour.

THE PRICE OF MILK

Our family living on $221 a month just can't afford to buy milk for six children. What other sources of calcium can you suggest? (Mrs. M. E.)

Other good sources of calcium for children or adults are cheese, skim milk, buttermilk, sour milk, egg yolks, beans, peas, nuts, peanuts raw turnip, raw cabbage, celery, lettuce and greens in general.

You do not mention the price of milk in your city, but unless it is much higher than the price in other cities, milk is the most economical food a family living on a low income can buy, particularly for the growing children.

Although milk is the best food source of calcium for anybody who suffers from calcium deficiency — and one might fairly ask who in Yankee land doesn't? — that isn't the only reason why recognized nutrition authorities call milk the most nearly perfect food. The protein (curd, cheese, albumen, casein, globulin, nitrogenous part) of milk is quite as good if not superior to the protein of meat in human nutrition. That is to say milk supplies all the amino acid compounds of protein that are required for human growth, building and repair. Hence there's no substitute for milk in the diet of an athlete. No other food gives more vigor or strength or fortitude or endurance.

Back, away back when most of our readers were in rompers, Anna Held, the French musical comedy star who introduced goo eyes and hyperbustosis, kept herself in the front row center, or on the front page, by taking milk baths — you know, to make her complexion beautiful.

All hokum aside, good nutrition authorities regard riboflavin (vitamin B2, formerly called vitamin G) as essential for the health of skin, hair and nails. This is the vitamin of which Prof. E. V. McCollum found an optimal daily intake "tends to preserve the characteristics of youth." Optimal intake means two or more times as much as the minimum daily requirement, the amount required merely to prevent manifestations of deficiency disease. An optimal daily ration of riboflavin is 5 to 8 milligrams. One would have to take

Communist Meeting Results in Divorce

Sheffield, England—(U.P.)—Edward Battams, 37, won a divorce Monday on the ground his wife committed adultery with a Communist who attended party meetings at their house.

"The wife and the co-respondent belonged to this political party and used the husband's house for branch meetings," Divorce Commissioner R. C. Esenigh ruled. "The husband realized what was going on."

The judge said the Communist, Herbert Smith, seduced Battams' wife, Ellen, 36, "under the guise of political friendship" and that "it is a very bad case indeed of taking away a wife."

He ordered Smith to pay $420 in damages.

REPRESENTATIVE IN CHINA TALKS

U. Alexis Johnson, U. S. Ambassador to Czechoslovakia, will represent U. S. at talks with Red Chinese in Geneva on 8/1. The meeting, to discuss return of 51 Americans held by Red China and "certain other practical matters now at issue between both sides," was announced by the State Department.

a quart of milk every day to get the minimum daily requirement of riboflavin, nearly half a gallon to get the optimal daily ration. Of course other foods which contain riboflavin should supplement milk in the diet, such as eggs, cheese, evaporated milk, plain wheat (cracked or ground fresh daily), beans, green peas, dried peas, beet greens, turnip greens, spinach, liver, lean meat, nuts, peanuts, fish, mackerel, canned salmon, sardines. Three glasses of milk (1½ pints) would supply approximately the minimum daily requirements of riboflavin.

But that isn't enough. If you want to preserve the characteristics of youth you had better make it four glasses a day—a quart a day. If you can afford it, I mean.

Work on Oregon Projects Proceeds

Washington—(U.P.)—Rep. Harris Ellsworth (R-Ore.) said yesterday he understands that work will go ahead on all Oregon projects allowed funds in a public works appropriation bill for fiscal 1956.

Several were included in a list of 10 mentioned by the President when he signed the bill. He said work would not be started on any for which engineering and cost studies were not complete.

Ellsworth said that he learned in "informal conversations" with people in the executive branch of the government that none of the Oregon projects would be "disturbed."

He said he also learned that two additional projects are slated for construction in the state next year—a 12-foot channel into Winchester bay costing $103,000 and a $147,000 project on Smith river.

They are included in a group of projects costing less than $150,000 which do not need specific appropriations, he said.

London—(U.P.)—Adm. Sir Percy Noble, head of the British admiralty delegation in Washington during World War II, died Monday. He was 75.
