

Dress Rehearsals For Festival Open Beginning Tonight

Ashland — Open dress rehearsals for the Shakespeare festival begin in the festival theater tonight with "A Midsummer Night's Dream."

The rehearsals, beginning at 8 p.m., use full costuming and all music and lighting effects that will be used in the shows.

Two people may be admitted to the theater during dress rehearsals on each season membership. Besides membership holders, the only people allowed in the theater for the next four nights will be out-of-towners who cannot be here for the shows, and members of the Stanford university field course in Shakespeare, taught by Dr. Margery Bailey.

"Macbeth" will rehearse Thursday night. "All's Well That Ends Well" Friday, and "Henry VI, part 3" Saturday. The season begins on Monday and rehearsals have been scheduled so that hardworking cast members and technicians will have Sunday off. Dress rehearsals for the season's fifth play, "Timon of Athens," will begin after August 1.

Beginning tonight, the theater box office will be open in the evenings from 7:30 to 9 p.m. Membership sales close on July 30, and only single admissions will be available after that date. Memberships and single tickets are on sale daily except Sunday at the theater box office and in the lobby of the First National bank in Medford.

Talk Slated By Indian

Chieftain White Feather, a grandson of the famous Indian leader, Sitting Bull, will speak in Medford Monday, August 1, under the auspices of Medford Council of Church Women. The meeting place will be announced later, according to Mrs. J. C. Sparks, council president.

A study of the welfare of Indians in this country is on the agenda for the Oregon Council of Church Women, and the necessity for this has been heightened by the recent decision of the federal government to terminate federal control of some of the Indians, it is stated. Those interested in Indian affairs are fearful that many of the Indians will be exploited by unscrupulous persons when supervision ceases.

The speaker, whose formal name is Dr. T. Ramar S. Bull, is a graduate of Friends university, Wichita, Kan., and has also studied at Shelton college and Columbia university. In early life he pursued a musical career under the guidance of the famous Walter Damrosch, and later turned to religious work and missionary work among Indians of various tribes.

Anyone interested in learning more about current Indian affairs in this country is invited to attend.

Sojourners Club To Meet Thursday

Medford Sojourners' club will meet Thursday, July 28, at 1 p.m. at the Medford hotel. Bridge, pinochle and canasta will be played.

Hostesses will be Mrs. J. E. Westlund, Mrs. Marvin Nelson and Mrs. Wilson Bjorge.

All women who have lived in Medford or the vicinity for not more than two years are cordially invited to attend and to become members, the organization states.

Card Party

Knights of Pythias plan a public card party Saturday, July 30, at 8 p.m. in the Pythian building. Bridge, canasta and pinochle will be played, and refreshments served.

Ed Bostwick is chairman of arrangements, with James O'Duane assisting.

Extension Agent Granted Leave; Name Successor

Miss Eula Wintermote, home extension agent for Jackson county, who will study this coming year at Colorado A and M college, will be temporarily replaced by Mrs. Joanne Weatherford as acting agent according to an announcement by F. L. Ballard, associate director of extension service at Oregon State college.

Miss Wintermote has been granted sabbatical leave from September 1, 1955, to August 31, 1956, and will study towards a master's degree, it was stated.

Mrs. Weatherford is a graduate of Northwest Nazarene college, Nampa, Ida., where she received a degree in home economics in 1949. She has since taught high school economics for four years at Kuna, Ida. The new agent has also taught home economics in adult vocational education and has experience in 4H club work.

The appointment is subject to approval by the state board of higher education, and is to become effective August 8.

Mrs. Weatherford is the wife of Ron Weatherford, who will be on the staff of the new Jefferson school here as teacher of physical education, health and social studies, and athletic coach. He is a son of the Rev. and Mrs. Fred M. Weatherford and lived in Medford while his father was pastor of the Church of the Nazarene here.

The Weatherfords are living at 215 North Ivy street.
