"Hit 'em where they ain't" is one of baseball's well known adages but the Medford Cheney Studs had trouble following the sage advice last night. A good share of their hard raps went "where they was" or where Lumberjack fielders managed to be. And that had much to do with Coos Bay-North Bend's 6 to 5 nod over the Studs in a series concluder at the fairgrounds park here.

Medford played the highly-regarded Jacks on close to even terms and hit the ball particularly well in the early portion of the tussle. But the blasts too often were within range of capable outfielders Jay Ragni, Bob Hayes and John Kovenz, whose catches, several of them sensational, held down Cheney hits and runs.

Ray Stratton, star and goat of an early season Bandon series here, turned out to be the hero last night as the Coos Bay-North Bend contingent added the triumph to a 10 to 8 Wednesday night decision for a series sweep over the Studs. The Jack third sacker singled home the winning run in the top of the ninth inning.

CB-NB and Medford went into the final frame knotted at 5-all after each had pushed over three runs in the eighth canto. Jim Ruggles drew a base on balls from Pitcher Terry Maddox to lead off the final stanza. Gordy Hersey sacrificed him to second base and Kovenz groundout to put Ruggles on third. Then Stratton slammed the pellet to left field to bring in the runner.

Hope, then disappointment loomed for the Studs in their ninth turn at bat. Ron Maurer got a walk from pitcher Jack Henkel and Eddie McCullough was same on a flub by Shortstop Roy Nicely. That put two on base with none away. But Bob Selsor popped out to Henkel in a bunting try. Jack Cooney fled to right field and Maddox's grounder forced McCullough at second.

The Studs never led in the mix but they caught up twice.

'Jacks Score

Coos Bay-North Bend put together a walk, a ground out by Kovanz and Stratton's single for a first inning score, and a double by Hayes, a base on balls, an overthrow error and Henkel's groundout for a counter in the No. 2 panel.

Medford deadlocked the scrape with two counters in the fourth inning. Maddox was hit by a pitch. Dick Wooton singled and Jack Fassett doubled. Terry tallied on Fassett's swat. Wooton tried to make it but was caught at the plate and Fassett went to third. Jack then raced home on a passed ball.

The Jacks used a base on balls, a sacrifice by Stratton which involved an error, a double by Nicely, a ground out by Ragni and a single by Hayes for its eighth inning runs.

Selsor led off with a two bagger on a high fly for Medford in the same inning. Cooney knocked a hot one that First Baseman Ruggles could not manage and Selsor was able to score. Maddox was safe at first on a miscue by Shortstop Nicely. Dick and Derald Wooton fanned but Fassett singled to score Cooney and Maddox came home on Nicely's bad throw to third base.

Nicely Three for Four

Henkel gave up seven hits to the Studs, walked five batters, hit one and struck out six. Maddox was tagged for eight bingles. He gave seven bases on balls and fanned two. Nicely socked three hits in four times up for the Jacks while Stratton slugged two for two and Hayes two for four. Fassett had a two-two evening for Medford.

Leftfielder Ragni made four of the first seven putouts for the Lumberjacks and robbed Maurer of a hit with a back to the fence catch. Centerfielder Hayes made a long dash to nab a McCullough liner that seemed Camp White and Butte Falls, both in strong contention for a season end play-off spot, contend in an important Rogue Valley league baseball mix on Sunday. The fracas is set for the Camp White field.

No matter what the outcome, each will still be in the running for a play-off berth. But chance of either club getting into the season ender without having to resolve a deadlock will be strengthened by a triumph this week end.

Butte Falls, victor earlier in the season over Camp White, now holds second positions in the standings by half a game over the Whitters. A Camp White win would boost the veterans domiciliary-sponsored gang into second.

Glendale Clinched

Grants Pass will attempt to keep play-off hopes burning in a Sunday session with Ashland. Loop leader Glendale is host to Ashland. Glendale is already a cinch to enter the season extra and can sew up the bunting for the regular slate with a decision this week.

The Glendale crew inflicted the most humiliation last week with a 27 to 3 pasting of Grants Pass in a fray which was halted after four innings.

Butte Falls accomplished a 7 to 5 decision over Ashland in a more entertaining manner. Pitcher Jack Turk struck out 20 batters in an outstanding six-hit performance. In the run department his mates responded with four homers. They were by Bill Rodgers, Eddie Ellis, Jim Lenderman and John Zimmerlee.

Camp White beat Ashland 13 to 8.

Quast, Lesser Vie in West Am

Chicago —U.P.— Seventeen-year-old Anne Quast, who upset co-medalist Wiffi Smith of St. Clair, Mich., yesterday, met former National Amateur Champ Pat Lesser of Seattle, Wash., today in the semi-finals of the Women's Western Amateur Golf Tournament.

Mary Patton Janssen, Charlottesville, Va., and Carol Diring, Tiffin, Ohio, met in the other semi-final match.

Miss Quast, the Western Junior Champion from Everett, Wash., knocked three strokes off par for 17 holes yesterday in beating Miss Smith, 2 and 1.

In other quarterfinal matches yesterday, Miss Lesser beat Vernie Pico, Galesburg, Ill., 3 and 1; Miss Diring beat Mrs. Mae Murray Jones, Southern Pines, N. C., 5 and 4. And Miss Janssen beat Mrs. Scott Brobasco, Chattanooga, Tenn., 4 and 2.

Ford Heads Rubber City

Akron, Ohio —U.P.— Favorite Doug Ford, newly-crowned PGA champion, led a tough competitive field today into the second round of the $15,000 Rubber City Open tournament which featured under par golf in Thursday's initial round.

The Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., pro, used a "hot" putter to card a six under par 66 to lead the pack, but he had stiff competition from 19 other golfers in the field of 150. Ford's lead was one stroke over six second place finishers and two strokes over seven others who carded 68's in the first 18 holes.

Ford went the front nine with a four under par 32 by eagling the No. 2 hole with a 50-foot putt and birdies on Nos. 6 and 7. He kept his "hot" putter in operation again on the back nine to come through with a two under par 34 to insure him the lead.

Stroke Behind

One stroke behind Ford at the end of the day with 67's were Mike Homa, Rye, N. Y., Al Baldwin, Erindale, Ontario; Ralph Bloomquist, Glendale, Calif.; Ed Oliver, Lemont, Ill.; Art Wall Jr.; Pocono Manor, Pa.; and Dutch Harrison, St. Louis, Mo.

Ford's 32 on the front nine was matched by Jack Burke Jr., also of Kiamesha Lake, N. Y., but Burke faltered in the backstretch and ended with a par 36 to tie for third place with six others.

They were Henry Ransom, St.

Yankees To Call Up Don Larsen

New York —U.P.— The sagging New York Yankees, now in second place and beset with pitching problems, sent out a call for help today to lanky Don Larsen — the "Don Newcombe" of the American Association.

Larsen had won nine games and lost only one for Denver.

The call for Larsen has not been made completely official yet, since the Yankees must make room on the roster for him by releasing one player. But Yankee officials said Larsen will be brought up before next Monday — the deadline for calling up minor-league players this season.

a sure hit. Larry Bigham and McCullough came up with some fine outfield catches for Medford. First Baseman Jack Cooney had a busy night defensively for Medford with 14 putouts, five of them unassisted.

Medford goes to Bandon for Saturday and Sunday games and plays Dunsmuir here Wednesday. The following week end the Studs entertain Drain here and on August 10 they play the famed House of David nine.
