Hollywood—UPI—Two of the brightest young stars on the summer programs are cousins, Cathy Crosby, but they're the subject of a current controversy over whether they'll last on their own.

Sixteen-year-old Cathy sings her father, Bob's afternoon TV show. Gary, son of Bing, croons on his own CBS radio program and appears once a week on Uncle Bob's show.

One trade paper summed up Gary's show as "nothing to get excited about, but nothing to run away from, either . . . pleasing and light . . . patterned after his father's . . ." Trade experts agree Cathy "does not have the vocal talent Gary has, but is so cute and ambitious she may wind up bigger in pictures."

Cathy sounds vaguely like a member of the Crosby family, but she plans to expand her skills with dancing and dramatic lessons so she can stand on her own talent.

Crosby Name Helped
"I know I wouldn't have gotten the job as easily as I did if I hadn't had the Crosby name," the pert brunette said. "And the name is a disadvantage in a way because you have to live up to it—I have to be as good as every Crosby."

"I'm taking the dancing lessons because that's what I've always wanted. They can say I inherited my voice, but the dancing will be my own."

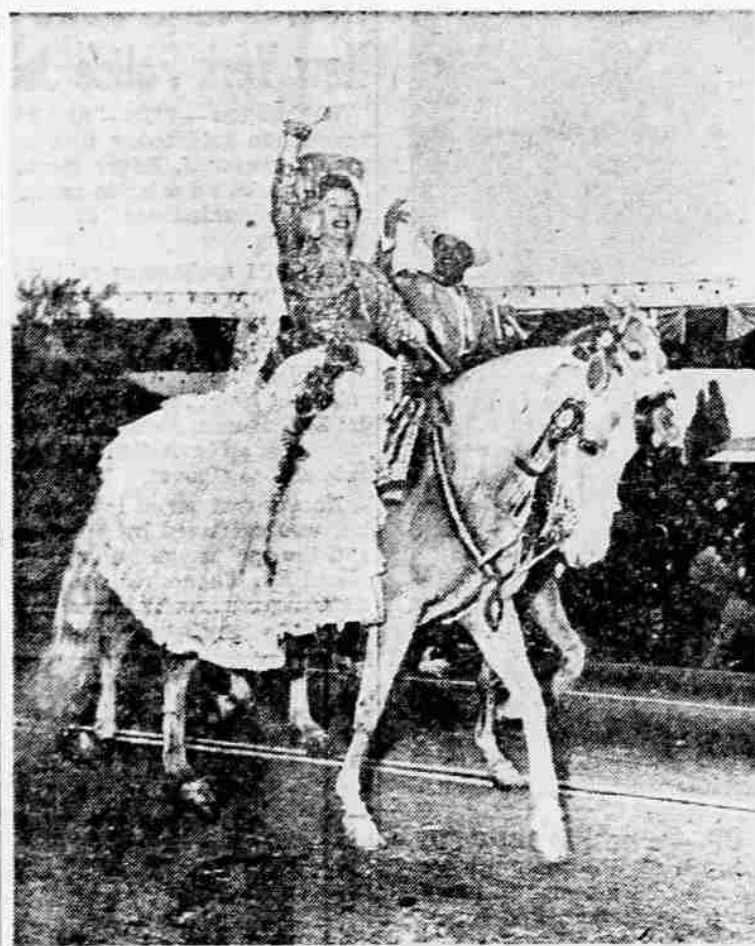

Cathy plans to take only one more year of high school. Gary quit school after his junior year in college to go into show business.

"I felt I was wasting my time at school and accomplishing nothing," he said. "I was going to make show business my life career and I wasn't getting any place with it through Stanford. Yes, I guess dad was disappointed when I didn't finish."

Gary said his agent "got me the summer radio show although dad probably helped a lot that I don't know about." Gary combined forces with a prominent young arranger and conductor, Buddy Bregman.

Sounds Like Dad
"Buddy and I decided we're two young fellows who are going to bring radio back, not that it ever went any place," he grinned.

He admitted, "I know a lot of the time I sound like dad on the show. But, after all, I spent 22 years with the company and

IN FRIDAY, SATURDAY PARADES — Keith and Clarice Moon, Klamath Falls, will ride their prize Palominos, "Country Wheat" and "Golden Linda" in the Rogue River Roundup parades in Medford Friday and Saturday afternoons. The matched show horses were in the Tournament of Roses parade in Pasadena last Jan. 1.

Brazil Plans To Buy United States Wheat

Rio De Janeiro —UPI—Brazil is planning to buy 500,000 tons of U. S. wheat under a surplus commodity foreign sales program, it was announced today.

The purchase will be made in Brazilian cruzeiros through the National Bank for Economic Development. Observers said this indicates the United States will loan the major portion of the purchase amount back to Brazil.

some of it is bound to rub off. A lot of the time I'll change the lines the script writers hand me so they sound more like Jack Leonard, say, than my dad.

"I don't mind taking my dad's advice," he added. "I'm a newcomer to show business—it's just my name that's old, really."

Gary has established himself in the movie colony by helping reactivate an old theatrical charity society, the Trailans. He also inherited the Crosby trait of being shy, modest and or tongue-tied around some of the press. He seems unhappy that he's a "two-some" in the gossip columns with young starlets.

"Garbage!" he snarled. "That's a lot of jazz. I wish I was half the ladies' man those columns make me out to be."
