Clothing, Other Items Needed for Navajo Indians

A program entitled, "Giving," was presented Wednesday evening by Intermediate Girls auxiliary members of the Temple Baptist church when a party was held in connection with gathering gifts to be sent to Indians of the Navajo tribe.

Mrs. Francis Gilchrist directed the program.

The party theme was "Christmas in July," and the gifts were placed under a trimmed tree. The tree will remain in the auditorium through Sunday for others who wish to give items.

Church officers point out that good used or new clothing is especially needed for adults and children. Other needed items are dolls and toys of various kinds and school supplies. The gifts will be shipped in time so that the children will receive them before school opens in September. Those who give are asked to label their gifts with information as to ages of children and whether for boys or girls, men or women.

The Women's Missionary union of the church will meet Tuesday to mend used clothing.

Anniversary Observances Scheduled at Camp White

Camp White—The Veterans administration has set aside Sunday, July 31, for special observance of the 10th anniversary of the chaplain service as it has functioned since the close of World War II.

The 176 VA hospitals and homes will conduct supplemental observances and receive from Administrator Harvey V. Hixley a recorded message that will be played over radio facilities and public address systems of each hospital and domiciliary, according to an announcement of Chaplain Edward A. McDonough, director of the VA Chaplain service.

"The importance and value of the religious ministry of VA's chaplain service as a part of the total care and treatment of hospital patients and domiciliary members will be the theme of our 10th anniversary observance next Sunday," Chaplain McDonough said.

The chaplain service has contributed in no small measure to the morale and well being of members of this station. Manager Eugene K. Ricker emphasized in making public plans for this special event in the VA calendar.

During the 6 1/2 years Camp White has been operating as a VA installation there have been five chaplains in the service here.

Pastors Named
They have been Father John Cummins, succeeded by Father Lawrence Eskay in January, 1954, representing the Roman Catholic faith, and Rev. Henry Anderson, now at Vancouver, the Rev. Perry Johnson, of Medford, part-time chaplain, and the present Protestant chaplain, the Rev. Samuel Feller, transferred last May from Roseburg VA hospital.

In addition to this resident service, visits are scheduled for Chaplain Philip Kleinman, of Portland, representing the Jewish Welfare board, who holds a quarterly congregation, and Fred G. Morris, of the First Church of Christ Scientist, Medford, whose services are held each Monday evening.

Present Head
Monsignor McDonough, present head of the VA chaplains, is the third director of the service and has held the post five years. Chaplain Crawford W. Brown, who served from 1945 to 1947, an Episcopalian, was the first. He was succeeded by the late Chaplain Alexander J. McKelway, a Presbyterian, who served from 1947 to 1950.

Chaplain McDonough visited Camp White in 1953. He is a native of Boston, Mass.

"Of the chaplains in the VA chaplain service, only a few are not veterans of World War I, World War II, or of the Korean conflict. Some have served in two of those conflicts," Chaplain McDonough stated.

Wyatt Criticizes Morse, Neuberger

Astoria—(U.P.)—Wendell Wyatt, Republican State Central Committee chairman, today criticized Oregon Senators Wayne Morse and Richard Neuberger for the postponement of Congressional hearings on the John Day Dam bill.

Wyatt labelled the postponement "a tragedy hindering the industrial development of Oregon and the Pacific Northwest." He said objections to the bill by the two Oregon Democratic senators were "largely responsible" for cancellation of the hearing on the measure.

The John Day Dam bill was sponsored by Rep. Sam Con (R-Ore.). Hearings on the measure were postponed until next year by the House Public Works subcommittee after objections were filed against it.

29 YEARS LATE
St. John, N. D. —(U.P.)— Mrs. Charles King chose matrimony in 1926 instead of graduating from high school. But she vowed some day to finish her education. Mother of three sons and three daughters—and a grandmother—she received her diploma along with eight other graduates here this year.

Valley Delegates To Attend Session

Among the nearly 2,000 delegates who will attend a Seventh-day Adventist layman's congress at Gladstone park, Gladstone, August 2 through 6 will be Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Jones, Mrs. Ella Stevenson and Mrs. Paul Pearce from the Medford Seventh-day Adventist church, and Mrs. Elford Anderson, now at Vancouver, the Rev. Perry Johnson, of Medford, part-time chaplain, and the present Protestant chaplain, the Rev. Samuel Feller, transferred last May from Roseburg VA hospital.

This will be one of three congresses attended by laymen from all parts of the United States and Canada. Others are scheduled for Kansas City, Mo., and Grand Ledge, Mich.

At the coming training convention there will be lectures by church leaders, but most of the sessions will be devoted to workshops, discussion groups, problem clinics, and demonstrations. Delegates will study all phases of lay evangelism. The congress will conclude with a dedication service.

Worship and play, study and sport time will form the basis of each day's program.

Director of the school's kindergarten department is Mrs. Harld Breazeale, assisted by Jean Wall. The primary department is headed by Mrs. Floyd Evernden, assisted by Phyllis Tompkins, and Delores Pool. Mrs. Charles Nelson and Mrs. Blanche Lininger will be co-directors of the junior division.

On Friday, August 12 at 8 p.m. children of the school will hold open house. At that time they will demonstrate work of the school, and provide a program for their parents.

The school is free and open to anyone desiring to attend.

Vacation Church School To Open

Vacation church school at the corner of Mary and Saling sts., will begin Monday, August 1 and continue for two weeks, through August 12. The school hours are from 9 a.m. to 11:30 a.m., each day.

Worship and play, study and sport time will form the basis of each day's program.

Handicapped Persons Day To Be Observed

The Sunday school hour Sunday, July 31, 10:30 a.m., at the Medford Church of the Nazarene, Holly and First sts., will feature observances to honor members of the home department of the church.

Especially honored will be the elderly and infirm. Delegations plan to attend from Camp White, Chin-Up club and several rest homes in the Medford vicinity.

Chairman for the day, Arnold Kornstad, has announced that favorite Bible verses and favorite songs of the home department members will be featured. A tape recording will be made to be played back later to shut-ins not able to attend. A souvenir award will be given each shut-in who attends. Transportation will be provided those who call numbers 2-9459, 3-2611, or 2-6333.

Opening of Camp Fir Point Told; Reservations Open

A number of valley persons including adults and children will leave Monday for Camp Fir Point near Glendale, Ore. The camp is designed for persons of all ages for recreation and spiritual development.

The camp is sponsored and paid for by the Siskiyou Baptist association and will be conducted Monday through Saturday morning, August 6. The mornings will be devoted to Bible and mission classes; the afternoons to games, hikes and swimming, and the evenings to worship and fireside services.

Those who wish to attend the camp should contact pastors of one of the following churches, Temple Baptist, Medford; Calvary Baptist, Ashland, or First Baptist, Phoenix.

New Minister Accepts Central Point Pulpit

Central Point—Paul O. Kroon of Cave Junction has accepted the Community Bible church pastorate replacing Rolf Hansen, who is leaving Aug. 1 for Spokane, Wash.

Kroon will assume pastorate of the church here Sept. 1, and during August members of the congregation and special speakers will have charge of worship services.

Kroon has been at Cave Junction three years. He is married and has four children. Hansen, who accepted a pastorate in Spokane, will be honored at a farewell supper at the church tonight.

CIO, Telephone Company Negotiate

San Francisco —(U.P.)— Negotiations for a new contract between the Pacific Telephone Co. and 7600 members of the CIO Communications Workers of America were scheduled to begin today.

The communications workers, who install and maintain telephones and equipment in Northern California and Nevada, have asked for "a reasonable general wage increase," recognition of seniority in transfers and promotions and a minimum pension payment of $100 over social security pensions.

The PT&T-CWA contract expires Aug. 28.

A TOAST TO YOUR TASTE!

Ever stop to think how many things that are good for you aren't particularly good-tasting, and vice-versa? Nature provides the most outstanding exception to this rule, and that exception is milk.

The high nutritional value of milk is an undisputed fact. And there's increasing evidence that folks drink milk, not for its health-giving properties alone, but because it tastes good.

Milk is cool and refreshing, smooth and soothing.

And milk feels good to the mouth and throat.

That's why, for a toast to your taste as well as your health...
