

Dodgers Increase Edge in NL With 4-3 Victory Over Braves

By UNITED PRESS
The Brooklyn Dodgers are as far ahead of the National league as they have been all season.

Brooklyn boosted its lead to 10 and one-half games over second place Milwaukee last night by beating the Braves, 4-3 in 10 innings.

The winning run scored when Don Hoak's grounder with bases loaded in the 10th. The Dodgers loaded the bases against Ernie Johnson on two walks and a single.

Sponner Gets Win
Milwaukee jumped to a 3-0 lead in the early innings... getting two in the fourth on a walk, a sacrifice and singles by Eddie Mathews, Hank Aaron and George Crowe... and one in the sixth when Mathews homered. Brooklyn tied it with three in the seventh on four straight singles, a sacrifice and a walk. Karl Spooner gets the win in relief.

Southpaw Don Liddle had help from all angles in pitching his first complete game of the season.

Liddle allowed only five hits in leading New York to a 9-1 win at St. Louis. But four Cardinal errors and nine walks by Harvey Haddix and three relief men made Don's job easy. Liddle struck out eight men while his mates collected nine hits, including a single, double and homer by Willie Mays.

Reds Top Phillies
Relief Man Hershel Freeman had to put down a Philadelphia rally in the ninth inning before the Reds won their fifth straight game.

Freeman retired Willie Jones on a force out to save a 4-3 Cincinnati victory for Art Fowler.

A double, a single and an infield out had scored one run before Freeman relieved Fowler.

The Reds scored the win.

Ashland, coming from behind, moved into a fourth place tie with Grants Pass with an 11 to 10 victory over the Cave-men in a Rogue Valley league game Sunday.

The win, along with GP's loss, left both teams with three wins and five losses each.

Ashland was trailing 10 to 3 going into the last of the eighth, when seven runs were scored to send the game into an extra inning. Howard Gang's single drove in Phil Sward for the winning tally.

In other league games Sunday, Butte Falls moved into undisputed second place with a 5 to 2 decision over Camp White, which now has an even 4-4 record.

League Leading Glendale had little trouble in whitewashing Eagle Point, in the cellar spot, 7 to 0.

ning run in the eighth when Wally Post, Gus Bell and Bob Thurman singled. Post doubled home a run in the first against Leroy Murry Dickson and the Redlegs added two others in the second on a walk. Roy McMillan's triple and Fowler's single.

In the fourth National league encounter of the day, Pittsburgh shaded Chicago by a score of 5 to 4.

Looking ahead to tonight, nine games are on tap. All four in the American league are under lights. Early Wynn (13-5) of Cleveland faces Bob Turley (11-9) at New York. The Indians and the Yanks are tied for second, one game behind Chicago.

The White Sox also open an important series at Boston with Connie Johnson (3-1) opposing Tom Brewer (8-8) of the Red Sox.

Fourth place Boston trails by three games.

Frank Lary (10-11) of Detroit gets the call against Dean Stone (5-11) at Washington. And Bobby Shantz (4-8) of Kansas City goes against Bill Wight (0-3) at Baltimore.

National Schedule

The National league opens with an afternoon game at Chicago. In that one it will be Vern Law (7-5) for Pittsburgh against Bob Rush (6-8). There is a two-night double-header at Cincinnati. Saul Rogovin (3-8) and Ron Negray (3-2) of Philadelphia oppose Joe Nuxhall (10-8) and Johnny Klippstein (2-6). In single night games, Johnny McCall (4-3) of New York opposes Willard Schmidt (2-1) at St. Louis. And Don Craig (4-0) of Brooklyn goes against Bob Buhl (8-7) at Milwaukee.

The second place Braves, who trail by 13 and one-half games, have filled the gap left when first baseman Joe Adcock was injured yesterday. The Braves bought 27-year-old Ben Taylor from their Beaumont farm club in the Texas league. The sale is conditional.

Taylor is batting only .270 but hits the long ball. He is a former member of the St. Louis Browns and Detroit Tigers and has 23 homers with Beaumont and 81 runs batted in. Taylor replaces Adcock who suffered a broken arm when hit by a pitched ball in a game with the Giants and is out for the season.

Maglie. The Yankees in the past had luck on National League waiver deals involving Johnny Mize, Jim Konstanty and Johnny Sain. And one person who thinks Maglie will help Cleveland is Yankee manager Casey Stengel.

Says Stengel—"Maybe Cleveland is copying from us—getting a man from the other league. But it seems to me that Cleveland general manager Hank Greenberg made a speech not so long ago about it was unfair getting players from the National League." Stengel adds—"And now what do you know? Cleveland is doing the same thing."

The former manager of Maglie admits he hated losing the 38-year-old righthander—and he also has something to say about his own job.

Leo Durocher calls it "The best job in baseball. And I never fight with my boss, Horace Stoneham, despite what is printed and said. It's his ball club—and he pays the salaries."

Durocher adds—"I have some-

Maglie Purchase Declared Insurance To Prevent Top Foes From Getting Hurler

New York — (U.P.) — An American league pitcher in the news is Sal Maglie, the veteran Cleveland obtained on waivers from the New York Giants yesterday. The Indians insist they paid $30,000 for Maglie because the canny right-hander can help them. But other quarters insist the Indians grabbed Maglie to prevent the Chicago White Sox and New York Yankees from picking him up. The seven other National league teams passed up Maglie and so did the teams under Cleveland in the American League.

The front running White Sox could have used Maglie now that Dick Donovan is out at least four weeks after an operation for appendicitis. The Yankees, now tied with Cleveland for second place, are running low on pitchers and would have welcomed

Eugene Tips Solons 5-4 In NWL Tilt

By UNITED PRESS
Don Rabung of Yakima turned in one of the Northwest league's best relief jobs of the year last night as the Bears edged Wenatchee 5 to 4.

Yakima was coasting along on a 5 to 0 margin when the Chiefs got going for four runs in the eighth on two hits, an error, two walks and a sacrifice. Rabung then took over for Starter John Kelly. He whiffed the first man to face him, got Herb Anderson on an outfield fly and John Marshall on a pop up.

However, Rabung got back into a kumb in the ninth when Jack Bukowatz led off for Wenatchee with a triple. But he settled down and got Dick Watson on a pop up and Chuck Lungren and Bob Duretto on strikes to close out the game.

Eugene used a four-run sixth inning to take Salem 8 to 6. The big frame came on a solo homer by Bob Thompson, two hit batters, a walk, a single by Art Preston and another walk.

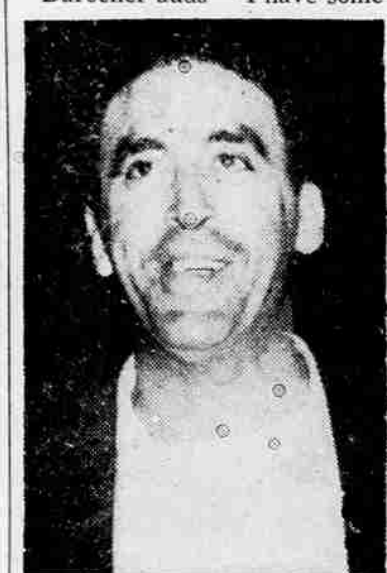

Lewiston got back on the winning side with a 10 to 7 verdict over Spokane. Jim Barrett hit a grand-slam homer in the first but the eventual winning Lewiston run crossed in the fourth when Joe Jacobs scored from third on an infield out.

Eddie Arcaro Rides Reneged to Victory

Saratoga, N.Y. — (U.P.) — The nation's oldest race track opened its gates yesterday at Saratoga for a four week meeting... and Eddie Arcaro scored a popular victory aboard "Reneged" in the feature race.

Arcaro moved Reneged to the front early in the five and one-half furlong Flash Stakes and kept him on top to beat "Head Man" by two lengths. "Tulchan" ran third in the small field of four.

A crowd of 14,257 turned out in good weather for the Saratoga opening.

thing I don't think any other manager has—an unlimited expense account. In the course of a year it will run maybe, say, $20,000."

The Giant manager disagrees with those who claim he refuses to "mingle" with baseball people. Durocher says—"I'm always available. Of course, I don't hang around with the crowd because I don't drink. Why should I sit around with a bunch of guys with a glass of soda pop in my hand? There's no pleasure in that."

Salem Bowler Wins Top Money at Ogden

Ogden, Utah — (U.P.) — John Ringquist, of Salem, Ore., today was handed $1,000 top money for his 8,218 score in the first annual 40-game endurance bowling classic at Paramount bowl here.

Ringquist bowled July 9 and was tops among 178 entrants in the men's division. Keglers entered from 31 states.

Lavish Tam-O'Shanter Golfing Jamboree Under Way at Chicago

Chicago — (U.P.) — Tam O'Shanter's annual lavish golfing jamboree is under way. And after 13 days some pro among the 600 plus contestants will pick up golf's richest cash prize, $50,000 plus an exhibition contract which could be worth another $55,000.

Of course, some amateur might come up with the lowest score in the 72 hole tournament tabbed by the sponsors as the "world championship of golf." But if he does, all he'll get will be the limit of $50 in merchandise and little glory.

Two Tournaments

The tournament — actually there are two of them, the so-called "All American" as a prelude to the "world" — is played in four sections... the men professionals, men amateurs and women amateurs.

Thus it's a complicated scoring problem. Some 85 exempt professionals don't have to begin play until Thursday, August 4, but the rest of the men pros have to qualify by playing 18 holes either today or Wednesday. The men and women amateurs and women pros, with some exceptions in each division, qualified yesterday, and the scorekeepers have to keep a record of the four separate tournaments, all going on at once.

The men pros play 72 holes this week for a top prize of $3,420 and a total purse of $25,000 in the "All American" women pros have $5,000 at stake with $1,000 to the winner.

Both men and women amateurs get $1,350 in merchandise.

Only Prelude

This go-around is only the prelude to the rich "world," though. After two days of "International cup play" matching the foreign players who do best in the "All American" with their American counterparts, the "World" opens with the same faces and same golf course. But this time the total purse for men pros will be $157,200, for women pros, $12,000 with $5,000 for first place, and for amateurs, $1,150.

Thus while there's cash money at stake in the "All American," most of the pros would be more than willing to use the four days for practice and shoot their best game in the far richer "World."

Actually the golf course isn't a good test of golf, even though the tournament carries the game's richest purse. The course isn't particularly long. The fairways are wide, the rough is thin, and there aren't many trees. It isn't hilly and there aren't many traps.

These factors explain why the course record is 63, nine strokes under par, set by Lloyd Mangrum in 1948 and why the best score for amateurs is a 65 by Bill Campbell in the same year. Babe Didrickson Zaharias hung up the record for women with a 69 in 1954.

Usually half of the field of pros manage to bust par on the first round and usually a fourth of the field is under par for the full 72 holes of the tournament. Only when rain, or exceptionally high winds come around do the scores go up and then only to par.

The tourney sponsors, in order to warrant their self-designated classification of the "world championship," guarantee expenses for top professionals from 20 foreign countries. These stars compete with the Americans in both tournaments and occasionally they come close to victory.

In the past, Bobby Locke of South Africa has won the "All American" twice and finished second once. None of the invaders has won the "world," although Peter Thomson of Australia made a brilliant bid a year ago.

The tournament, as always in golf, has had its fine show of luck for victory too. In 1953, Lew Worsham dropped his 104 yard approach shot into the cup on the 72nd hole of the "world" to win the championship. Four times there have been holes in one, by Byron Nelson, Gene Sarazen, Billy Sixty, Junior, and George Bayer. But in only one of these was the shot made by the winner, Nelson in the 1942 "All American."

Nelson boasts the best 72 hole score in the 14 years the tourney has been held, a 19-under-par 269 in the 1945 "All American. For that session, he was paid $13,600 in War Bonds.

Anyone in the field would be glad to settle for that total in the "World" this year. It would be a virtual cinch to be worth $105,000.

There's a Phantom Mechanic in every tankful

Now you can give your car a tune-up without tools. Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP* acts like an unseen mechanic to re-power your engine before you have driven 400 miles.

Here's what happens:

Your daily, short-trip driving causes an increase in engine deposits. In the combustion chambers these deposits glow red hot, and start the gasoline burning before the piston is ready for the power stroke. This results in pre-firing—a major cause of power loss. And the greater the amount of engine deposits, the greater the tendency toward pre-firing: TCP additive, blended into high octane Shell Premium Gasoline, actually neutralizes these deposits. In combustion chambers, they no longer set off the gasoline too soon. Pre-firing is stopped.

That's why Shell Premium with TCP acts like a phantom mechanic—re-powers your engine without lifting the hood.

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and Top Octane!
