Freight Trains Crash In Centralia Yards

Centralia, Wash. — (U.P.) — A 92-car Northern Pacific freight train plowed into the rear-end of an 80-car Union Pacific freight train early today, causing a 15-car derailment, but only minor injury to a brakeman.

The injured brakeman, Roy K. Johnson, Tacoma, who was riding on the Northern Pacific train, suffered a cut on the head, which required a few stitches.

The accident occurred in the Centralia freight yards shortly after 1 a.m., according to W. E. Thompson, Northern Pacific train-master here.

"The wreck caused quite a mess, but the trains are going through via siding tracks with a minimum of delay," Thompson said.

On The Side

(Distributed by King Features Syndicate, Inc.)

Most women think they are ballroom dancers. It isn't so. Just as many women need dancing instruction as men. Too many women try to lead their partners. Also many women cling too closely to their partners. They have sort of a clutching vine attitude. Then many females take back steps that are too short. This causes their partners to step on their feet. Of course the men, poor fellows, then get blamed for being clumsy dancers.

Lady Eden, the former Clarissa Churchill, niece of Winston, and wife of Anthony Eden, did not marry for the first time until she was 32. . . . Does your grocer know who Nicholas Appert was? If not, he should blush for his ignorance. Appert originated canned food when competing for a prize offered by Napoleon Bonaparte for a method of preserving food for armies in the field.

Freighters
Have you ever considered an ocean journey by freighter? This type of travel has a great appeal to those who have a bit of wanderlust in their character. There are innumerable passenger carrying freighters. No less than 48 European freighter lines cater to passengers. I once took a trip on a French freighter and enjoyed it very much. It was just from Los Angeles, Calif., to Vancouver, B.C., but we seem to have stopped at every Pacific Coast town that had a dock.

Golfing Miracle
If a golfing enthusiast, how well informed are you on the sport? Do you know where the "ginger beer hole" is? That's on the St. Andrews Course in Scotland. It is a 430 yard hole. Bobby Jones once made the "ginger beer hole" in two. His drive went 280 yards. He then holed out with a 150 yard approach shot. Ball hit the green, rolled right into the cup.

Oregonians Differ On FPC Decision For Hells Canyon

By UNITED PRESS

The Federal Power Commission decision granting Idaho Power Company's application to build three dams in the Hells Canyon stretch of the Snake river brought forth words of bitter criticism and glowing praise from Oregonians today.

Democratic National Committeeman Monroe Sweetland said "we will find some way . . . to invalidate this raid, the worst since Teapot Dome."

McKay Hails Decision
Interior Secretary Douglas McKay hailed the FPC decision as a "wise" one. "It was based on engineering facts and economics, not on emotions," he said at Neskowin where he is vacationing.

The National Hells Canyon Association threatened court action to forestall construction of the dams.

Gov. Paul Patterson praised the decision saying the most important point is that "it gives up approximately 800,000 kilowatts of power by 1964, which is the period of the critical power shortage now confronting the Northwest."

'Fantastic' Ruling
Rep. Sam Coon (R-Ore.) said he was glad the FPC decision was unanimous. Rep. Edith Green (D-Ore.) called it "a fantastic ruling." Rep. Harris Ellsworth (R-Ore.) said "I have always looked at it as an engineering problem." Rep. Walter Norblad (R-Ore.) was reported driving home from Washington and was not available for comment.

Democratic Sens. Wayne Morse and Richard Neuberger were critical of it. Morse said the battle was far from over. Neuberger said "The surrender of the priceless resources of the Columbia Basin to private monopoly is underway."

Kansas City Woman Believed Murdered

Kansas City, Mo. — (U.P.) — Blood stained clothing of a missing prominent young housewife was discovered early today in her abandoned automobile and police said she apparently was a victim of violence.

Mrs. Wilma Allen, 30, wife of Bill Allen Jr., owner of an automobile agency here, was reported missing by her husband at 10:30 p.m. yesterday.

A patrolman in a prowler car, Ronald Earhart, discovered Mrs. Allen's 1955 car parked and locked today on Kansas City's North Side.

Detectives were dispatched and forced open the car. The interior was blood spattered and Mrs. Allen's dark blue skirt and white blouse, also bloodstained, were found in the car trunk, which also had been locked.
