

Four Persons Hurt Early Saturday in Three-Car Mishap

Four persons suffered lacerations in a three-car accident at the corner of Hilton rd. and Crater Lake highway about 12:15 a.m. Saturday.

Taken to Community hospital by Medford ambulance were Warren S. Morgan, 36, of 517 West Fourth st., Medford, Ralph Fox, age 2, and Donald J. Fox, age 5, sons of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph E. Fox of Shady Cove. Mrs. Fox also suffered minor injuries. They were released from the hospital after treatment.

led by Bernice Ann Phillips, 2717 Howard ave., Medford, collided with the rear of a pickup truck operated by Ralph Elmer Fox, 31, of Shady Cove. The pickup pushed the truck into a boat trailer towed by a jeep operated by Sammy Lee Umberger of Jacksonville.

Parked by Highway
The jeep and pickup truck were parked on the right side of the highway about 150 feet south of Hilton rd., police said.

Umberger climbed up on the hood of the pickup truck when he saw the car coming, police said. The pickup truck was pushed forward and turned over, police said, throwing the Fox boys and Herbert Clark, 13, of Shady Cove out of the truck bed where they were lying down. Also in the truck was Charles Clark, 13, of Shady Cove.

The jeep and trailer were pushed about 106 feet forward, police said.

Morgan was a passenger in the car operated by Bernice Phillips.

Combs Holds Edge Over Chandler in Kentucky Election

Louisville, Ky.—(U.P.)—First unofficial returns from 280 precincts out of the state's 4,163 Saturday showed administration candidate Bert T. Combs holding a narrow lead over former baseball commissioner A. B. (Happy) Chandler in the Democratic gubernatorial primary.

The returns, the mostly from Louisville and the northern Kentucky metropolitan area, gave Combs 16,892 votes to Chandler's 15,067, as Chandler attempted to wrest the nomination from the state administration.

All indications pointed to a vote of half a million, much heavier than normal.

Tabulation Halting
Polls closed at 5 p.m. Central standard time as required by state law. Tabulation began shortly after but was halted by midnight and will be resumed Monday morning.

Chandler's opponent for the Democratic nomination for governor is Bert T. Combs, former judge of the Kentucky Court of Appeals, who has the backing of the Democratic organization of Gov. Lawrence W. Wetherby and Sen. Earle C. Clements (D-Ky.).

Republicans are expected to nominate Edwin R. Denney, of Lexington, for governor, over James L. Clay, Lexington attorney. They have watched quietly from the sidelines for the past few months as the Democratic candidates campaigned in nearly every major town.

Grants Pass Scout Tells of Preparations for 8th World Jamboree Slated Aug. 18-28

(Editor's Note: The following article is the first in a series written by Lorán "Silver" Hassett, Grants Pass Boy Scout, who is one of two Scouts from this area attending the Eighth World Scout World Jamboree at Niagara, Canada.)

By LORAN HASSETT

In the next month I hope that many of you and I can get better acquainted.

My name is Lorán Hassett (better known to some of the Scouts in the Council as "Silver"), and I am, with a boy named Rodger Thompson of Weed, Calif., to represent the Scouts and Scouters of Medford, Ashland, Grants Pass, Cave Junction, and Northern California at the Eighth World Jamboree at Niagara on the Lake, Ontario, Canada. I'll be sending these letters every week.

I graduated from Grants Pass high school this spring and plan to go on to OSC and take up engineering. My father is a logging contractor and has a small ranch specializing in Angus cattle and Arabian horses.

I've been in Scouting for nearly nine years and have attained the ranks of Silver Award in Exploring and Life in Scouting. I am now a Junior Assistant Scout Master at the VFW Troop and Post 22 in Grants Pass.

The Jamboree is a thing of which I wish we could all be privileged to partake. There will be 10,000 Scouts at the Jamboree with only 1,500 of them from the United States, who will be all divided by units into 10 sub-camps in which Scouts from every nation will be living intimately.

From this we will be able to gain first-hand opinions of a foreign country and get some opinions of our own about their countries by way of their descriptions. We, from the Northwest, will also get to see the whole northern side of the United States from Oregon to New York, as well as some of Canada.

Here are the itinerary and tours which we will be taking:
Itinerary: Leave Grants Pass Aug. 7; training session at Missoula Aug. 9-11; Chicago, Aug. 12; Washington, D. C., Aug. 13; New York, Aug. 14-16; Montreal, Aug. 17; Jamboree, Aug. 18-28; arrive home Aug. 31 or Sept. 1.

Tours: Aug. 13—Washington, D. C.; Old Ford theater, U. S. Treasury, White House, Washington Monument, National Capitol Building, Arlington, Christ Church, Mt. Vernon.
Aug. 15-16—New York: Guided tours of Manhattan, including

A Nichol's Worth of . . . Comment On This and That

By HARMAN W. NICHOLS
United Press Feature Writer

Washington—(U.P.)—Mrs. Wilma Davis was digging through a stock of forgotten lore at the Library of Congress when she came upon a treasure which had been lost for years.

Mrs. Davis is librarian of the copyright section and what she found is believed, to be a copy of the first copyright bill. The original was printed, but that record never has been found, either.

What Mrs. Davis found was a dusty old letterpress book. At the heading of what concerns copyrights was the notation: "H. R. 10, 1st Cong., 1st Sess."

In other words, the House of Representatives, bill No. 10, in the first session of the First Congress. It was offered by Rep. Benjamin Huntington of Connecticut on June 23, 1789.

Ends Long Search
Everybody had thought the historic bit of paper had been destroyed. The Library of Congress had made a continuing search. So, across the years, had people at the National Archives, and those in the office of the secretary of the Senate.

"It was an accident, really," Mrs. Davis said. "I was looking for something else. I can't remember what now."

The copy of the bill, letter press book and all, was turned over to George D. Cary, head legal advisor of the Copyright Office. He studied it and came up with an analysis.

The original copyright bill applied only to books. Copyright protection since has been extended to such things as sheet music, newspaper and magazine articles and the like.

Rights, according to Cary, extended to the author, the book-seller and the printer.

Money for Informers
"Unauthorized printing or importation from abroad of piratical copies was prohibited," Cary said.

Anybody caught violating a copyright was required to turn in the illegal book to the copyright owner, who according to the lettering of the bill "shall forthwith make waste paper of

Price Daniel Asks U. S. Hospital Use For Dope Addicts

Washington—(U.P.)—Chairman Price Daniel of a senate judiciary subcommittee on narcotics urged Saturday that facilities of Federal Narcotics hospital be used to fight the "socially contagious" narcotics habit.

The Texas Democrat made the suggestion to H. Chapman Rose, chairman of the government's inter-department committee on narcotics. He said statistics from the surgeon's general's office show that more than 500 people have voluntarily applied but have no hope for immediate treatment at hospitals at Lexington, Ky., and Fort Worth, Tex.

Seeks Information
The public health service, meanwhile, announced it has appointed a narcotics specialist to gather information on the problems of drug addiction in states and localities. Dr. Kenneth W. Chapman, a health service psychiatrist, was named to the newly-created post and will work through health service regional offices providing advice on rehabilitation of addicts.

Daniel said bed space at Fort Worth was made available to 518 mental patients last year compared with 297 narcotic addicts.

Long Waiting List
He said the Lexington hospital accommodated 110 patients while it had a waiting list of "several hundred addicts."

"It is obvious," he wrote Rose, "that if arrangements were made for treatment of these mental patients at other institutions, and if he narcotics hospitals were used primarily for the purpose for which they were established, all of the more than 500 drug addicts now on the waiting list could be hospitalized immediately."

Mrs. Peters was in bed under doctor's orders. She underwent a heart operation three months ago.
