

Music Planned For Benefit Tea At Lowry Home

A program of music has been planned for the entertainment of guests who attend the annual tea of Women's association, First Presbyterian church. The tea will be held Tuesday, August 16, at the home of Mrs. Bert B. Lowry, Fern valley road, between 2 and 5:30 o'clock.

Piano, organ and string ensemble numbers will be played throughout the afternoon as background music, and solo numbers are also planned. Miss Priscilla West, who was graduated from Lewis and Clark college in Portland in June with a degree in music, will be featured in organ numbers. Also playing organ selections will be Mrs. Dorothy McQuot, a specialist on the Hammond organ.

The string ensemble will be made up of Miss Nancy Walstead, first violin; Miss Shirley Stafford, second violin; Miss Mira Frohnmayer, viola and Miss West, cello.

In addition to the pleasure provided by the music, those in charge of the tea point out that guests will particularly enjoy the view from the Lowry home.

Located on a hilltop between Medford and Phoenix, the home provides a view of the encircling hills in all directions. To reach the Lowrys, motorists are advised to drive south on Highway 99 and to take the Fern Valley road which turns to the left at the entrance to Phoenix.

Funds raised by this benefit tea will go toward a fund which the national Presbyterian church uses to buy drugs needed in mission work both in this country and abroad.

All women of the valley are invited to attend the event.

Stephens College Names Students Senior Sisters

Two Medford students attending Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., have been named "senior sisters" for the coming school term, according to an announcement from the college.

They are Miss Sandra Rae Hubbard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Chester A. Hubbard, 2451 Lyman avenue, and Miss Gloria Nielson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Nielson, Plaza apartments.

Senior sisters aid new students in their orientation to campus life. Together with other campus officers, the senior sisters have been invited to return to the campus for a leadership conference September 8-10. Other students will arrive September 11.

Luncheon Given For Bride-Elect

Miss Welma Sundahl was honored at a luncheon and shower party given Saturday by Mrs. Chester Hubbard and Mrs. Jack Walker at the former's home, 2451 Lyman avenue. Miss Sundahl is the bride-elect of Philip Sanders, and the wedding is set for Sunday, August 14, at Fairmount Presbyterian church in Eugene.

The luncheon tables were arranged with bridal figurines and flowers.

About 25 guests were invited to the party.

Miss Sundahl, a daughter of Mr. and Mrs. William Arrendale of Forbestown, Calif., has been a guest of the Sanders for the past several weeks.

The family will go north Saturday for the wedding.

Past Noble Grands Plan Picnic Dinner Saturday Evening

Past Noble Grands' club, Olive Rebekah lodge, has planned a picnic for Saturday, August 13, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Jordan, 718 Beekman street.

The potluck dinner will be served at 6:30 p.m. and those attending are asked to take table service.

Amaranth Courts Announce Picnic

Members of Amaranth courts in Oregon and Southwestern Washington will hold the 26 annual picnic Sunday, August 14, at Jantzen Beach park, Portland.

Registration will be from 11 a.m. until 2 p.m. with lunch at 1:00 p.m. Coffee, cream, sugar, and ice cream will be furnished. Following the lunch hour, races and games will be held.

Mrs. William C. Pritchard of Portland, grand associate matron and Orra B. Cole of Seaside, grand associate patron, are in charge of the arrangements for this annual gathering. They are being assisted by the associate matrons and associate patrons of the subordinate courts of Oregon and southwest Washington.

Family Picnic Held by Police

Members of the Medford police department and their families held a picnic and outing at Table Rock estates Sunday. Games and swimming provided diversion.

The picnic was held from 11 a.m. until 7 p.m., in order that department members on duty part of the day might attend before or after their shift.

As We Live

Can't Seem To Cut High Cost of Dating

(Q) "I am 17 years old and will enter my senior year in high school this fall. I have a summer job, doing construction work, and I make good money. During the winter I have week end work, and sometimes I go out to stay with one of the neighbors' children during the week. I don't have much time to work, as I hope to go to college and I need my time for my studies. Now, my problem is dating."

"I like to have dates occasionally. I find if I don't I am out of things, as all the fellows in my class go on dates and most have steady girlfriends. But dating is so expensive that I sometimes wonder if it is worth it. I ask a girl for a date, and before I know it I have spent almost all my earnings for the weeks to take her out. I am not doing much dating this summer because I want to save for next winter. Would it be cheaper to go steady? Have you any suggestions on how to cut down the cost of dating?"

(A) I am afraid I haven't much advice that will help you. Girls of today are used to a fairly expensive kind of dating, and they expect this from any boy regardless of how much money he has to spend.

As for going steady, I question whether this would save you much. If you went steady you would be expected to date more often. The girl would expect you to take her to dances, movies, parties, and athletic contests. Then you would have to drop in somewhere for a snack afterwards, and there would be flowers for dances and gifts for special occasions. I doubt if you would save anything.

One thing you might do is get one or two boys who are not going steady to team up with you for dates. You could invite the girls for a movie and perhaps have one of your mothers have the crowd in for an after-the-movie snack. If one family would supply the car and the other the refreshments, you could cut quite a bit off the amount you would spend for a single date.

Former Residents Of Lake County To Picnic Sunday

Former residents of Lake county, Oregon, have planned a reunion picnic for Sunday, Aug. 14. The event is set for 1 p.m. in the picnic area of Lithia park, Ashland. Those attending are asked to take a picnic lunch, and a committee will provide coffee and ice cream.

Year round fresh California dates combine well with seasonal fresh fruits to make tasty and attractive salads. You can stuff them for plate arrangements, slice them for combination salads or cut them in pieces for molded ones. Right now use them with fresh strawberries, melons and apricots.
