Studs Lose, 7-1, To Davids; Meet Bend In SOL Play Next

The House of David combined nine hits and five Medford errors last night to hand the Cheney Studs a 7 to 1 defeat.

Studs' pitcher Jim Kelly, who collected two of Medford's seven hits, kept the bearded nine scoreless the first three innings, but the Davids tallied four runs in the fourth.

Miscues by Leftfielder Ron Maurer, Rightfielder Terry Maddox and Centerfielder Larry Bigham contributed to Davids' runs along with singles by Rocky Carlini and John Bodine.

The Davids added two more runs in the eighth when Carlini walked, Bill Kimball doubled and Jock Cartier singled, and garnered their final run in the ninth on an error and single by Ted Rust.

Lead Hitting
Kelly and Derald Wooton led the Studs hitting attack with two each in four trips to the plate. Kelly issued six bases on balls and struck out five in going the distance for Medford.

Cartier issued four walks, two of them in the ninth frame when the Studs tallied their only run, and struck out six.

In the ninth, Medford's Maurer ad Derald Wooton walked. Maurer scored on Dick Wooton's single to right field, but a double-play by the Davids stopped the Studs rally.

The Davids left 10 Stud runners on base, two of them in the first inning when Bob Selsor, who walked, moved to third on a single by Maddox.

Medford's only extra-base hit was a double into left field by Derald Wooton in the fourth frame. Carlini doubled in the David sixth for their only extra-base blow.

Comedy during the game was furnished by the Davids' clown, Bob Nickerson, termed "the screwball of baseball," who "assisted" the umpire, discussed pitching with Medford's Kelly, and amused the audience by circulating in the grandstand.

This weekend, the Studs re-sume Southern Oregon league play with two games at Bend, while in other conference contests, Grants Pass plays at Bandon and Roseburg meets Drain.

New Plywood Plant Planned at Merlin Hoover Fishing On McKenzie River

Grants Pass —A new Bate Lumber company plywood plant at Merlin, which will employ about 150 men is being constructed and is expected it will be in operation early in 1956.

J. Herbert Bate, New York City, president of the parent company which bears his name, took part in recent "ground-breaking" ceremonies at the site of the new plant, near the company's present sawmill.

The building is being built by Soule Steele company which will fabricate steel for the job in San Francisco. The first product of the new plant will be entirely plywood but the sawmill and plywood plant will be able to utilize almost all species of timber grown in this area.

Larry Linquist is general manager of the company's operations at Merlin. The present Bate sawmill employs about 175 men.

SPORTS

Stars Beat Portland; Seals Maul Converted Soft Baller Fesler

Portland —(U.P.)—Lee Walls smashed his 19th and 20th homers of the season last night to lead Hollywood to a 10-3 victory over Portland in a Pacific Coast League game.

Hollywood's 12-hit attack backed up a fine pitching performance by fast-balling Bob Garber, who racked up his 18th win against 10 defeats.

Walls' first roundtripper came in the second inning after George Freese singled. Walls homered again in the sixth after Freese singled, to account for four runs batted in. Six runs scored during the wild inning, four of them unearned after Portland's Eddie Basinski committed an error.

Losing pitcher was Glen Elliott who lasted until the stormy sixth.

Doctors Give Williams Chance To Play Again

New York —(U.P.)—Doctors gave Davey Williams of the New York Giants a "ray of hope" today that he may be able to play ball again next season because they said "he definitely does not have a slipped disc condition in his back."

Dr. Harrison McLaughlin, who supervised the examinations at the New York Medical Center, recommended a complete rest and further X-ray treatments for the little second baseman.

Williams will undergo more treatments for the next week or 10 days, then return to his home in Dallas, Tex., to rest.

Hospital Escapee Captured in Portland

Portland —(U.P.)—A man who told police he escaped from a mental hospital at Provo, Utah, 10 days ago was captured last night only a few minutes after he attempted a holdup of a Safeway store.

Police identified the man as William Thomas Brower, 31, a former Montana state prison inmate. He was jailed on a charge of assault and robbery by putting in fear.

Police said Brower called a taxicab and ordered the driver, William F. Farrell, to drive him to Union station, but asked that he stop at the Safeway store on the way. Brower picked up several cartons of cigarettes and a bottle of shampoo. When the cashier, Beatrice Bruegman, asked for the money, Brower pretended to be holding a gun inside his shirt. He scooped up the sack of merchandise and fled to the cab.

The cashier signalled to Farrell indicating Brower had a gun. The cab driver deliberately stalled in a traffic lane and police cruising nearby arrived to take Brower into custody. The police said Brower had no gun when arrested.

Banks May Pass Ruth's HR Record

Chicago —(U.P.)—Shortstop Ernie Banks of the Chicago Cubs might even break Babe Ruth's home run record if he gets a little more prodding from Duke Snider and Ted Kluszewski.

After Kluszewski smashed his 37th homer Wednesday in the fourth inning, Banks followed suit with his 38th in the bottom of the fourth. Last Friday, Snider hit his 37th in the first inning and Banks did the same in the bottom of the first.

Ruth hit his 38th homer in game 115, putting Banks only two games behind Ruth's pace. Banks needs only one more to tie the major league record for home runs hit by a shortstop set by Vern Stephens of the Boston Red Sox in 1949.

Lamberger Wins PGA Golf Title

Portland —(U.P.)—Larry Lamberger of the Portland Golf Club defeated defending champion Harold West of Eugene 4 and 3 yesterday in final match play in the Oregon PGA golf championships.

Lamberger finished the match five under par. West was two below par for the 33 holes. The new champion led 1-up at the end of nine holes, and was 4-up at the halfway point.

Lamberger shot an eagle two on the first hole in the afternoon round to go five strokes out in front, but West narrowed the gap to two strokes after six holes. West bogeyed the 13th and 14th holes to lose the match.

Youthful Mexican Dental Student Visits in Medford

Francisco Pineda, 22, Guadalajara, in the state of Jalisco, Mexico, is a Medford visitor this month.

The youth, who is studying to become a dentist, is now on vacation from his studies at Universidad A. de Guadalajara, to which he will return Sept. 20.

He picked Medford in which to spend some of his vacation because he had heard much about its mountains, its climate, its valleys, he said. He is not sure just how long he will remain during August, but he plans to attend at least some of the plays in the Shakespearean Festival in Ashland this month.

He arrived here last Friday, and is staying with Richard Cotton, 308 Ashland ave., Medford, who he said he met two years ago when both were employed in a cold storage plant in Watsonville, Calif., during an other vacation. That trip was his only other visit to the United States.

Visits Hospital
He expressed an interest this week in the Sacred Heart hospital, visited there, and wound up with a temporary orderly's job. He said he was having a little trouble, because "English to me is so difficult." He has a heavy accent, but his basic command of the language is fairly good, and he can understand quite readily if he is spoken to slowly and distinctly.

He will graduate in dentistry in two more years, he indicated. He is the son of Senor and Senora Augustin Pineda, and has 10 brothers and sisters. His father is a real estate dealer in the Mexican city.
