

Oregon Will Be Represented in Cathedral Sunday

Washington, D.C. — Oregon will be remembered in prayers at Washington Cathedral, Sunday, Aug. 14, when the state flag, together with the American flag will be carried at the head of the ecclesiastical processions during the 11 and 4 o'clock services.

Long a tradition at the cathedral, this state service is one of the many events of national and international importance which take place here. Throughout the year it becomes the scene of state funerals, of memorial services, of special days of dedication and prayer. Clergymen of many denominations are guest preachers in its pulpit.

The, as yet, unfinished cathedral has no local supporting congregation but is being built and maintained by Americans everywhere, thousands of whom are members of the National Cathedral association. Stones and other architectural features given as memorials or thank-offerings contribute steadily towards its building program. Such gifts range from single building stones costing from $10, up through much larger sums needed for carved and sculptured pieces, stained glass windows, turrets, arches and even complete bays.

In Oregon, as in other states, active National Cathedral association committees work constantly to aid in telling the story of Washington Cathedral and in raising funds for its completion.

Mrs. Charles Flegel of Ontario is regional chairman of eastern Oregon.

Mrs. George T. Gerlinger of Portland, is regional chairman of western Oregon.

Congregational Dialog Service, Lake Trip Slated

Two somewhat unusual services are on the schedule of the Congregational church next Sunday. The 11 a.m. service at the church will be a dialog sermon with the minister, Thomas McCamaat, and his son, Jim McCamaat, a recent graduate of Stanford university, as the participants. In the afternoon at 4:30 p.m. a vesper service will be held at Crater lake.

Topic of discussion between the pastor and his son will be "Questions About Christian Beliefs." It is intended that this should be a stimulus to fundamental thinking. Both will endeavor to express honestly the things that they believe and don't believe.

The vesper service at Crater lake will be held near a point on the west rim road 1.6 miles north of the Rim Village junction. A guide will direct persons to the spot of the service where the congregation will sit overlooking the lake. Visitors are invited. All should provide their own blankets or camp stools as desired and outing clothes will be suitable. A half-hour service is planned. The sermon will be on "Men and Mountains."

The Crater lake service will not be held if the weather is not suitable. In doubt, those interested should call the church or come to the morning service for the final decision.

Program Announced For First Baptists

The Rev. James W. Neely, pastor of the First Baptist church will speak at the regular 11 o'clock morning worship service on the subject, "Christ's Estimate of the Christian." Music will be provided by the adult choir. The pastor's sermon subject for the 8 p.m. service, will be "What Christ expects of the Christian." Monday evening the Men's fellowship of the church will sponsor an all-church picnic at Tou Velle park at 6:30 p.m. Each family is to take their own box lunch. The high school girls Sunday school class will present a playlet, and devotions will be given by John Roelf.
