Eugene — More than 1,200 freshmen have already been admitted to the university for fall term, according to J. Spencer Carlson, director of admissions and counseling, who estimated that around 400 more will be admitted by the time the term opens on Sept. 26.

New students are now being admitted at a rate of 15 per cent higher than at this time last year, Carlson says, and he expects the total of new students to reach 2,300 to 2,400. Total enrollment for the fall will probably surpass the 4,900 mark, he believes.

Graduate student applications are up over 1954, records show, while those of transfer students have dropped slightly.

Enrollment for fall term, 1954, was 4,439.

Old Central Point Building Torn Down

Central Point — One of the oldest buildings in Central Point, the old Pioneer club which was constructed in 1880's, is being torn down to make way for improvements at Pioneer Tavern-Cafe.

Ed Colpitts, owner of the building, said expansion plans for the tavern-cafe call for dining room and possibly a dance floor in the future.

The second floor of the frame structure housed the Woodman of the World lodge, and the ground floor was a confectionery-ice cream parlor and city post office operated by Postmaster Sam Moore.

Colpitts purchased the building, one of the first built in Central Point, in 1947 and operated the Pioneer club there until 1952, when he opened a new tavern-cafe just west of the building.

Despondent Mother Kills Sons, Self

Phoenix—(U.P.)—The coroner's office said today it did not expect to hold an inquest into the brutal murder-suicide in which a "good" mother cut off the heads of her two young sons and then took her own life.

Sheriff's investigators said Mrs. Shirley Zumstein, 25, killed her two sons, Roy Jr., 5, and Dennis, 4, and then cut her own throat yesterday in apparent despondency over her husband being out of work.

The three bodies were found in the living room of the family's small frame house on the desert near the Phoenix suburb of Sunnyside.

The medical examiner, Dr. Daniel J. Condon, said the two boys apparently had been struck on the head with a hammer before the decapitation. He said both a seven-inch hunting knife and a pair of scissors were used in their slaying. The mother, he said, probably used the knife to cut her throat.
