

Schmidt Will Fight For Custody of Son In Suit for Divorce

Sacramento, Calif. — (U.P.) — Airman Daniel C. Schmidt will fight for custody of his two-year-old son and his wife's mother will help him, it was revealed today.

Attorney Howard P. Welch revealed that Schmidt, 23, whose wife says she remarried while he was in a Chinese Communist prison, will fight for his son, Daniel Jr., when he files a divorce complaint against 21-year-old Una Schmidt.

And Mrs. Walter Ferguson, Una's mother, could be his star witness if a court fight develops. "The girl's mother is on Dan's side," Welch said. "Her sympathies are all with the boy. She doesn't like the idea of the airman being left while in the service," Welch said. "She believes, as we do, that the health and welfare of the child is best with the father."

In an interview with the United Press, Welch also said the Pentagon today legal questions surrounding allotment checks sent to Una. Some of them were received after September, 1954, when Una says she married Alford D. Fine, 21, a husky Sierra logger, in the belief that Schmidt was dead. The Air Force said earlier it notified Mrs. Schmidt as early as June that her husband was believed alive and a prisoner.

Welch announced yesterday that Schmidt will seek a divorce from Una on charges of "extreme cruelty." Una indicated last week end she preferred to remain with Fine.

Welch said Schmidt and he believed the airman "could do a better job of raising the child than they (Una and Alford) are now doing."

"Fine is living in a trailer. Conditions are not standard. The child can be accorded better treatment with the airman," Welch said.

Schmidt now is on a 30-day furlough.

Schmidt's mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters, of Portland, Ore., has said she would be glad to take care of Danny if her son gets custody.

Schmidt returned home Friday after spending 32 months as prisoner of the Reds. He was one of 11 American airmen whose B29 was shot down during the Korean war.

DOG SAVES LIVES — Portland — (U.P.) — A small dog was credited today with saving the lives of Mrs. Marie G. Acheson, 65, and her two grandchildren after fire broke out in a home early yesterday.

Mrs. Acheson told firemen her dog jumped on her bed and scratched her on the head to awaken her. The house was almost destroyed by the time firemen arrived.

Boy Arrested — A 12-year-old boy was arrested by city police last night on charges of stealing clothing from private yards, according to police department records.

The boy was released to his parents and his case was referred to the juvenile office, police said.
