

First of Turncoat Hearings Scheduled

San Francisco — (U.P.) — A pre-trial hearing was scheduled today for William Cowart, 22, Dalton, Ga., one of three alleged turncoats who returned to the United States recently after deciding they did not like Communism after all.

The proceeding is the military equivalent of a Grand Jury hearing to determine if there is sufficient evidence to warrant an indictment.

Cowart is being held at Fort Baker here, along with Otho Bell, Hillsboro, Miss., and Lewis Griggs, Jacksonville, Tex.

Bell's pre-trial hearing will be held early next week, with Griggs' to follow after that.

Large Balloon Spotted 36,000 Feet Over Area

A bright, luminous object spotted over the Medford area at about 5 p.m. yesterday was a clear plastic balloon, floating at about 36,000 feet, according to airport sources and Guy Vinson, astronomer at Camp White.

Vinson said the balloon was funnel shaped. The local weather bureau reported it was not one of their balloons and expressed the opinion that it may have been released by military sources.

A jet pilot flying over this area at about 5 p.m. reported it was at the 36,000 foot level at that time.

SOC Enrollment Said Stabilized

Ashland—Summer session attendance figures indicate that Southern Oregon college's rapid growth within the last few years has assumed a permanent status, according to President Elmo N. Stevenson.

"In spite of the falling enrollment of veterans whose government benefits have been exhausted, our total enrollment for the summer is down only one and two-tenths per cent," Dr. Stevenson said. He also pointed out that there was no "forced enrollment" as on the preceding year by those who had to meet the July 1 deadline for the awarding of three-year diplomas. From that date on, according to Dr. Stevenson, a BS degree will be awarded under a four-year curriculum plan.

Including the post sessions, total enrollment for the summer was 635.

Army Man Refused Purchase of Home; Ancestry Blamed

Garden Grove, Calif. — (U.P.) — Two-time U.S. Olympic diving champion Dr. Sammy Lee was denied a chance to buy a home in a land development because of his Korean ancestry, it was learned today.

Mrs. Leola Johnston, wife of the land developer, D. E. Johnston, said they turned Lee and his expectant wife down "two or three months ago" because of the "financial risk involved."

"We've invested just about everything we've got in this, and to sell it to someone like that could put a damper on a good number of other sales," Mrs. Johnston said.

Lee now is a major in the Army Medical Corps stationed at Camp Carson, Colo.

The development in which Lee tried to buy a home consists of 16 lots amid an orange grove. Johnston is building three-bedroom homes ranging in value from $27,000 to $30,000 on the lots and selling them to carefully screened buyers, Mrs. Johnston said. Five homes have been built so far.

"As far as we ourselves are concerned," Mrs. Johnston said, "we would have no objections to having the Lees as our neighbors, but anyone spending that much money for a home would think twice."

Johnston is a 34-year-old Navy veteran, Mrs. Johnston said. He was a contractor before opening up the development.

In a copyrighted story, the San Francisco Chronicle said that Lee on two occasions was turned down in his efforts to buy a home in the area.

Pair Released From Jail After Fine Paid

Two men jailed here this week on a charge of possession of untagged venison have been released following payment of fines.

They are Melvern Boyd Stanislawski, 20, and James Alpheus Inlow, 25, both of 415 Berrydale ave. Teddy Wayne Ruth, 25, of 1502 Prune st., arrested at the same time, was released earlier.

All three were fined $75 and costs in district court.

The three men told the court they accidentally struck and seriously injured the deer with a car. They said they then killed the animal with a gun and were bringing it in to officials in Medford when they were picked up.

Prospect Welcomes New Business Firm

Prospect — Local residents welcomed another new business into their community this week when they attended an open house at Mill Creek Falls Cafe.

The area, growing rapidly, now contains about 3,500 people. A good climate and beautiful scenery, especially this time of the year, have helped in drawing visitors and future residents to the valley.

Fishermen, attracted by the Rogue's fast, tumbling waters, have traveled from all parts of Oregon to fill their creels. As an aid to fishermen, the Oregon state game commission has planted 40,000 legal-size trout in the upper portions of the river in both 1954 and 1955.

Timber produced in the area is declared to be an important product for the entire valley. 72,000,000 board feet have been harvested annually from the U.S. lands, and another 30,000,000 board feet are cut from private lands.

Schmidt To File Own Divorce Suit

Sacramento, Calif. — (U.P.) — Airman Daniel Schmidt will personally file his own divorce papers at a secret location, it was revealed today.

The divorce suit will charge Una Schmidt with "extreme cruelty" and will demand custody of Schmidt's young son, Daniel Jr.

There will be no mention of adultery or bigamy in the suit. Howard P. Welch, attorney for 23-year-old Schmidt, said earlier "We will not drag Una's name through the mud."

The decision for Danny to personally carry his papers to the courthouse added a dramatic touch to the stories of a modern-day "Enoch Arden."

Schmidt will come out of hiding in the Sacramento area to file the papers. From the filing, he was to turn and head for Portland, Ore., to see his mother, Mrs. Nellie Peters.

Speculation persisted that Una might try to contact Danny there for a reconciliation. Schmidt has recently flatly opposed reconciliation.

Trailer House Burns Near Central Point

Central Point — A small trailer house at the Dale Higinbotham home, Central Point Market rd., was destroyed by fire yesterday afternoon.

The trailer was not occupied except for use as a playhouse, Central Point rural firemen reported. They said the cause of the fire was not determined.

Rural firemen extinguished a small fire at the V. R. Stickle home also yesterday. The fire involved grass, a fence and stored lumber. An incinerator spark was thought to have started the blaze, firemen stated.

One rural truck was on stand-by service this morning while West Side school officials burned off grass on the playground.
