

Potter-Rice Wedding Rites Held in Sacramento Manor

Miss Marion Claire Rice and Garon Douglas Potter were married in an informal ceremony held July 24 at the Wedding manor, Sacramento, Calif. The Rev. Winston Dennis read the double-ring service at 11 o'clock in the morning.

The bride, a 1954 graduate of Medford Senior High school, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph William Rice, 707 South Holly street, Medford, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Potter of Sacramento.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a dress of white brocaded nylon with long fitted bodice and full street-length skirt over white taffeta. Sennins' trimmed the neckline of the dress and the bride's hat. She wore white accessories and carried an orchid on a Bible which had been presented to her mother's great-grandmother 100 years ago. The Bible was covered with satin and heirloom Irish Limerick lace inherited from her father's family. For the tradition "something borrowed" the bride wore the same pearls her mother had worn at her own wedding 25 years ago. Mr. Rice gave his daughter a lucky threepence from Ireland which she wore in her shoe.

The matron-of-honor was Mrs. Randolph Middleton, Dubuque, Ia., only sister of the bride who flew west for the wedding. Leroy Potter, only brother of the bridegroom, was best man. Mrs. Middleton wore a princess style dress of navy blue gabardine and her flowers were white carnations.

Roland Rhodes and Charles Wilton, Sacramento, seated the wedding guests. The chapel was decorated with white tapers in candelabra and baskets of white gladiolus. About 50 guests were present for the ceremony and reception. For her daughter's wedding Mrs. Rice wore a dressmaker suit of navy blue crepe with pink accessories and a corsage of white carnations. The bridegroom's mother wore a light blue flowered dress and jacket with white accessories and corsage of white carnations.

After the ceremony the guests gathered at the home of Mrs. John Sherrell, grandmother of the bridegroom, for an informal garden reception. The bride cut and served the first piece of wedding cake with a silver cake server which had been her bridesmaid's gift from her sister, Mrs. Middleton, at the time of the Middleton-Rice wedding June 19.

Mrs. Charles Wilton and Mrs. Roland Rhodes, Sacramento, presided at the serving table which was covered with an Irish linen handmade cloth, a family heirloom. Mrs. Jack Simmons, Marysville, Calif., and Mrs. P. T. Reznor, Sacramento, aunts of the bride and bridegroom, poured punch. Miss Harriet Campbell and Miss Marianne Moore, Medford, took charge of the guest book and gifts.

The newlyweds spent their honeymoon at Russian River, Calif., and are now at home at 2228 28th street in Sacramento. The bridegroom is employed at the Sacramento General hospital. The bride was a freshman at Sacramento Junior College School of Nursing this past year and vice-president of the 1955 student nurse class at Sacramento General hospital. She is taking a leave of absence from nurse's training and plans to continue her studies at the Junior College School of Cosmetology this fall.
