Competition Told At Chamber Meet

"Communities are in competition with each other," Don McNeil, manager of the Jackson County Chamber of Commerce, told a chamber roundtable luncheon at the Jackson hotel yesterday.

McNeil, in a brief talk, outlined latest activities of the chamber and described the "competition" existing between communities.

He said to attract industry an area must have industrial sites prepared. County zoning is becoming a big factor in choice of industrial locations, McNeil added. The area with county zoning, all other factors being equal, will generally be preferred over the one without zoning.

Turning to tourists, the chamber manager said people don't go where they're not invited. He pointed to the various colored folders put out by the chamber describing the Rogue valley, to attract tourists.

McNeil presented several folders to the luncheon group, including facts and figures on Jackson county, an industrial survey summary, a comparison of water, electricity, tax, and other rates in Medford with 18 surrounding cities, and a description of the advantages of locating wholesale distribution warehouses in Medford.

In conclusion, McNeil said the key to the whole competitive program is the people in the community willing to work to bring the things that make it grow.

Non-High Students Need Tuition Slips

All non-high school students planning on entering Howard school this fall must have tuition slips in order to register, according to Howard Boner, principal. The slips must be obtained by the student at the Howard school's office, Boner said. Office hours will be from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. and one p.m. until four p.m. on weekdays and from 9 a.m. until 11 a.m. on Saturdays.

Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS

Former President Truman on the "best cure" for juvenile delinquency, stated in a letter to Sen. Estes Kefauver:

"The best cure is for the mommas and poppas to stay at home and raise their families. . . I do not believe in baby sitters or sending children to boarding schools just because the parents are too lazy to look after them. Besides, children nowadays have too many gadgets to fool with and not enough chores."

Gen. Mark W. Clark, president of The Citadel, announcing that the military school would feature a bagpipe band at football games this fall:

"I don't know if 'Dixie' has ever been played on bagpipes at a football game before, but it should be a stirring experience."

Algerian Governor General Jacques Soustelle, speaking over Algiers radio on Nationalist attacks which have resulted in nearly 1,000 deaths in the past few days:

"Those responsible for the horrible attacks are neither fighters nor defenders of a cause but purely and simply criminals. . ."

John M. Jacobs, Arizona farm expert who toured Russian farm areas with an American delegation on Russian women:

"I don't think I saw a straight hemline all the time I was in Russia."

Honolulu Federal Judge J. Frank McLaughlin to James Watson, 15, of South San Francisco, who stowed away aboard the liner Lurline to Hawaii:

"You're no hero. Nobody is going to pin any medals on you. You've been doing what you please and doing what you please may land you behind bars some day."

Nikita S. Khrushchev, Communist party boss, in a Bucharest speech celebrating the 11th anniversary of Romania's "liberation":

"The Big Four conference justified the hopes and aspirations of peace-minded people."

Mrs. Andrew Quigley of Chicago who is fighting a strike against the Harrison Sheet Steel company led by her husband:

"I think we're going to win. The last time I saw Andrew, he didn't look so big. I'm giving them until Monday to get back to work and start negotiating."

Challenger Archie Moore, at the official signing for his title fight with heavyweight champion Rocky Marciano, said to Marciano:

"I've been after you a long time. Now, we're going to give 'em the best fight in 50 years. And I'm going to win your title."

Flagpole sitter Bill Sherwood who went up June 23 and won't come down until the Milwaukee Braves win seven straight games:

"It's been a long summer."

FOOD POISONING PROBED
Yokohama, Japan—(U.P.)—At least 119 doctors, nurses and patients at a hospital here were recovering from food poisoning today. The Health Department was investigating to determine what had caused the mass food poisoning at the Yokohama National Hospital. There were no reports of deaths.

NO TALK
Hartford, Conn.—(U.P.)—The Connecticut State Federation of Women's clubs was about to hear a talk on communications by George F. Woodie. But when Woodie got up to communicate, he found he had temporarily lost his voice. The talk was cancelled.

20,000 Vehicles Listed in County

Almost 20,000 motor vehicles were registered in Jackson county during the period from Jan. 1 to June 30 this year, according to figures prepared by the Oregon Truckers association.

This number placed Jackson county fifth in motor vehicle registrations among the state's 36 counties.

The Jackson county figures included 16,536 passenger vehicles, 56 buses, 2,985 trucks, and 198 motorcycles, for a total of 19,775.

Total figures for other southern Oregon counties included Josephine county, 9,132; Klamath county, 13,157, and Douglas county, 19,795.

The number of motor vehicles registered during the period throughout the state totalled almost half a million. It included 381,861 passenger cars, 1,296 buses, 68,940 trucks, and 4,563 motorcycles, for a total of 456,660.

Race Restrictions Charged To Nixon

Beverly Hills, Calif.—(U.P.)—Democratic National Chairman Paul Butler has accused Vice-President Richard Nixon of "intellectual dishonesty" in the case of Dr. Sammy Lee who was denied to buy a home because of racial restrictions.

Butler, in a press conference Monday, accused Nixon of having signed property deeds both in Southern California and Washington, D.C., containing racial restrictions similar to those that prevented Lee from buying a home in Garden Grove, Calif.

Lee, famed Olympic diving champion, was turned down in his attempts to buy a Garden Grove home because of his Korean ancestry.

Nixon and others, including prominent Southern California officials, recently rallied to the support of Lee in the case.

marks the spot where TCP unlocks the full power of high octane gasoline

By overcoming deposits in combustion chambers, TCP* halts pre-firing — puts the full power of high octane to work

In an engine's combustion chamber, shown here in cross section, engine deposits capture power that high octane gasoline should be giving you.

And with the kind of "around-town" driving people mostly do, the tendency for these deposits to waste power increases—even offsetting the extra power today's high compression engines are designed to provide.

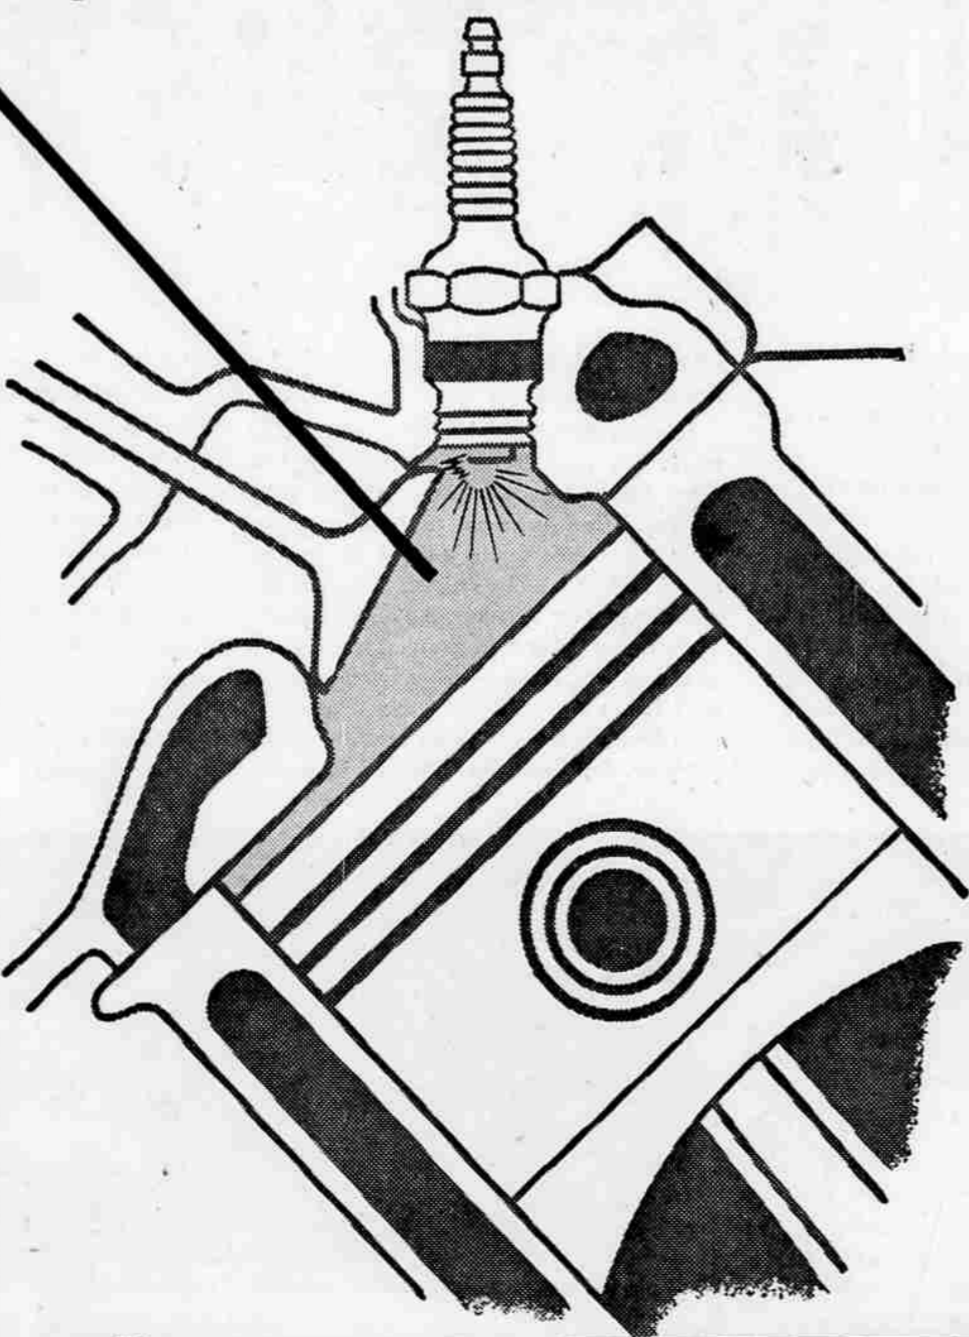

What happens is this:

On cylinder walls these deposits glow red hot, igniting the gasoline before the piston is ready for the power stroke. This is called pre-firing—and because of it, power that should be put to work is cancelled out.

On the spark plug, shown at the top right, deposits steal power, too. Here they conduct electricity away from the tips, short-circuiting the spark and making the spark plug "miss."

But the full power of high octane gasoline can now be unlocked. Shell Premium Gasoline with TCP "fireproofs" deposits in combustion chambers, and stops pre-firing. TCP additive also makes the deposits on spark plugs non-conductive, and prevents spark plug "miss."

Shell Premium with TCP works so fast you'll feel your engine has had a tune-up before you've driven 400 miles.

Only Shell Premium Gasoline has both TCP and Top Octane!

*Shell's Trademark for this unique gasoline additive developed by Shell Research. Patent applied for.
