Away back, about the time Topsy - the Beautiful - Sorrel's great grandmother, cavorting in the meadow, caught the eye of Topsy's great granddaddy, the doctors resorted to heroic measures in desperate cases, such as the application of iodoforn powder or ointment or a packing of iodoforn gauze.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS

Bare Legs
Your opinion on the wearing of long stockings by children in the winter time... (V. P.)
Answer:—It has no function in man. Tetany and Growing Pains.
Sister's son aged 6, cried many nights with what seemed to be "growing pains." Her doctor could suggest nothing—just let the boy outgrow it. She found an item in your column, sent for your booklet THE CALCIUM SHORTAGE, began feeding the boy his daily calcium and vitamin D ration, and he has never complained of any pain since then. His health seems more rugged in every way... (Mrs. H.)
Answer:—So-called "growing pains" as well as leg cramps of mature adults nights are often due to calcium deficiency. Send 25 cents and stamped self-addressed envelope for booklet on Calcium.

Iodoforn was as impressive to the laity of that era as a "shot" of this month's antibiotic is to some customers today. More so, for not only the patient and next of kin, but the entire population of the district knew that heroic measures were being used.

Just as I opened my office in Penn Yan—there is too, and I can prove it—a jar of iodoforn, to let everybody know there was a new doctor in town—some scientific killjoy published a report of his study of the anti-septic or germicidal efficiency of numerous agents then in use. The tests showed that iodoforn was not only of questionable antiseptic value but disease germs would readily grow in it! So, if I uncorked my jar then—well, it became a total loss.

In the twenties and thirties some physicians and nurses were fond of using a proprietary preparation of crude carbolic acid mixed, equal parts, with liquid soap. This had all the properties of crude carbolic, including the poisonous. Because of its "germicidal" odor and the tint it gave the water in which it was dissolved, many old age fogies were persuaded to consider it a good all-around antiseptic and germicidal agent for personal or household use.

I can assert without fear of contradiction that there is no evidence whatever to warrant the use of any such poison in personal or domestic hygiene.

Indeed, there is no evidence that anything more than washing with plain soap and water is necessary to disinfect or make perfectly safe the floors, walls, furniture or bedding of a room lately occupied by a person with contagious, infectious or other disease.

Only archaic institutions still practice "fumigation" of rooms or premises after scarlet fever, smallpox, diphtheria, meningitis. Whether for disinfecting utensils, personal objects, equipment, furniture, clothing, bedding, toys that have been used by one with a communicable disease; or for first aid disinfection of wounds; or for keeping mouth and gums and teeth clean; or for dressing old infected wounds, burns or ulcers; all I want is a cake of plain white soap and plenty of boiled water.

Question Asked as to the specific function of the appendix... (V. P.)
Answer:—It has no function in man. Tetany and Growing Pains.

LOST TIME

Muscataine, Ia. (U.P.)—Albert Hoeksema took his wife's new wrist watch to the field one day in April 1920 so he could quit plowing early and get a prompt start on an evening buggy ride to Muscataine. He lost the 17-jewel timepiece when it fell from his pocket into a furrow. In April 1955, Ed Wedekind found the watch while working in the same field. The hands and crystal were gone, but Mrs. Hoeksema's initials engraved on it were still plain.

DELATED MAIL

Ashley, Ill. (U.P.)—The widow of the late Rev. H. A. Hoover recently received a letter addressed to her husband 33 years ago. The letter postmarked April 22, 1922, was found when the post office floor was repaired.

Ceremonies Dedicate Restored Ft. Clatsop

Astoria, Ore. (U.P.)—Oregon dedicated a restored Fort Clatsop Sunday, with the help of members of the Celillo and Wyum Indian tribes.

Crowds gathered early for the initial event in the week-long observance of the sequentennial anniversary of the arrival of Lewis and Clark to the Pacific Northwest.

Twenty-seven Explorer Scouts and their leaders arrived at the Fort in four canoes similar to those used by the first white men to arrive in the Pacific Northwest from the interior.

At Seaside today, Sen. Richard L. Neuberger addressed a crowd at a dedication of the salt cairn used by the explorers 150 years ago.

Neuberger said the prevailing opinion in America always had been hopeful. He said that sentiment motivated Lewis and Clark when they moved into unknown country.

Portland (U.P.)—E. C. Sammons, president of the U. S. National bank here, said several hundred Portland business, industrial and educational leaders would be invited to attend the National Resources conference to be conducted here this fall by the Industrial College of the Armed Forces.
