

Rams Meet Giant Eleven In Portland

Portland — The pros came marching in for their concluding appearance of the season next Sunday night when the Los Angeles Rams and New York Giants collide here at Multnomah stadium at 8 p.m.

The Rams, off to a good start, and highly impressive in their 35 to 24 win over the Pittsburgh Steelers here three weeks ago, will be bolstered with the addition of little Tad Weed, the kicking specialist who won the all-star game in Chicago for the collegians, and fourth other players off of the all-star squad.

The quartet consists of Larry Morris, Georgia Tech center; Ron Waller, Maryland halfback; Jim Hanifin, California end; and Sid Fournot, LSU tackle.

The Giants will use a veteran backfield consisting of Charlie Conerly at quarterback, Kyle Rote and Frank Gifford at halfbacks and Eddie Price at fullback.

The game will not be televised anywhere and will start at 8 p.m. Reserved seat tickets are on sale here at the box office at J. K. Gill.

Cascade Lakes Getting Fish by Aerial Planting

Portland—Approximately 350 high lakes of the Cascade mountains will be planted by aerial lift this year in game commission operations, according to Bob Borovicka, fishery biologist, Oregon Game Commission.

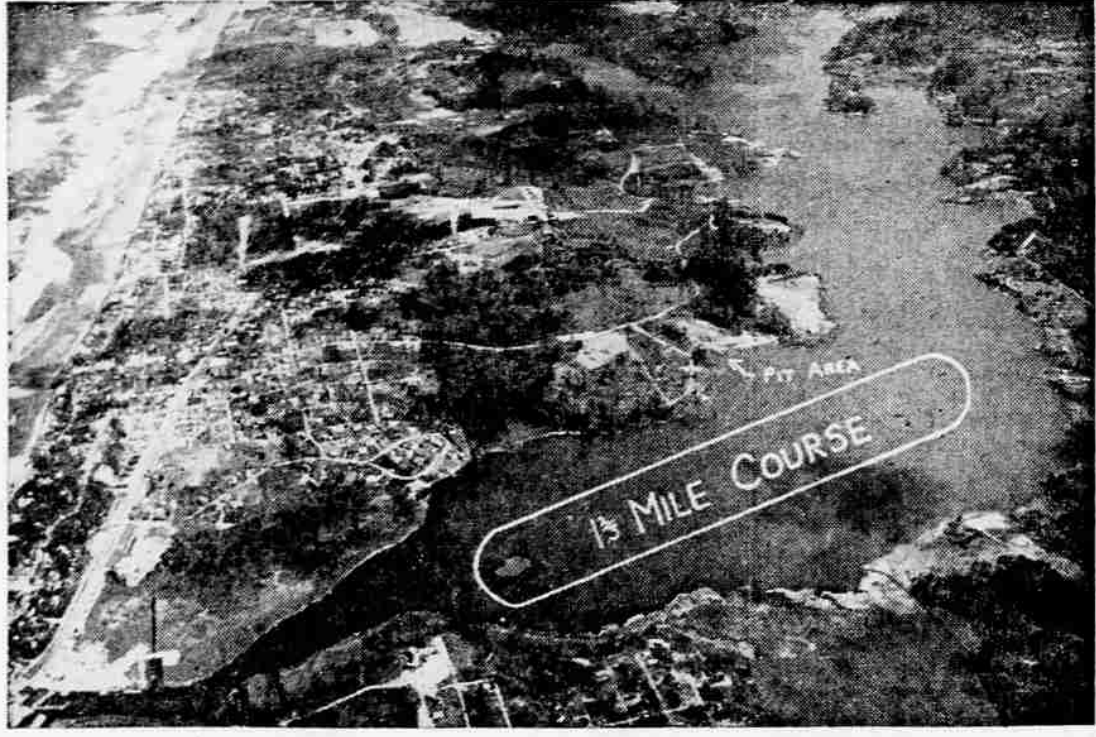

Aerial lift were under way from the Fall River hatchery where approximately 500,000 eastern brook and rainbow trout were scheduled for planting in the lake basin groups of the central Cascade area.

Last week fish were planted in the south Cascade lakes from the Klamath hatchery. Flying operations were based at the airfield near Klamath agency. Mount Hood forest lakes will receive their allocations later in the month from the Hood River hatchery near Dee. Operations will stem from the Hood River air strip.

A piper super cub will be used for all flying operations. The cub is fitted with three 15-gallon belly compartments which hold the fish and water. Flying over a lake at 200 to 250 feet, the compartments are opened allowing the fish and water to float down like "rain drops."

One-fourth to one-half pound of fish are carried per gallon of water, depending on the size of the fish. If fry are being planted, one pound of fish per gallon of water is usually carried.

Eugene Only Unbeaten Team In State Meet Eugene, Ore. — (U.P.) — Eugene was alone in the unbeaten ranks today on the strength of its 3-0 win over Oregon City in a winners' bracket contest in the state softball playoffs here last night.

BOAT RACE COURSE—Top water outboard racers of the U. S. will compete over this Devil's Lake course on Oregon coast during 1955 National Championship races August 27, 28 and 29. Lake has wide reputation for speed, with over half of current marks having been established there.

Located between Oceanlake and Delake, D-River empties lake into Pacific ocean and reputedly is world's shortest, flowing only a few yards westward under Highway 101 bridge.

QT Softballers Face Strong Opposition at Fairgrounds Sunday

The Rogue Valley QTs girls' softball team will try the Herculean task of beating two opponents in one afternoon at Fairgrounds baseball park here next Sunday.

The QTs will play Durham, Calif., in the first game at 3 p.m. and then will tackle the Orland Eaglets in the second game. The only between-game rest for the QTs will come when the field is being relined for the second game.

It was at first planned to have a fourth team to play Durham but when an opponent could not be found the QTs asked to take on both teams.

Durham and the Eaglets are members of the Sacramento Valley girls softball league. Durham finished second and Orland was third in regular season play.

Durham and Orland each placed four girls on the league all-star team and Orland gave some indication of its possible strength last week when the girls defeated San Leandro, champions of the Oakland recreation department league by a 26 to 5 score.

Meanwhile, Jerry Mosby, who now resides at Lakeview who has coached the QTs during the past three seasons, telephoned from his home to say that he would make the trip to Medford to handle the managerial reins for the valley girls.

Lewiston Wins NWL Twin Bill

The Lewiston Broncs, with Gabby Williams leading the way, spoiled Wenatchee's chances of joining idle Eugene at the top of the Northwest league standings last night.

The Idaho club bumped the Chiefs, 14-4 and 6-5, in one set of a round of doubleheaders in the class B circuit. In the other twin bills, Salem and Tri-City split, with Salem winning the opener 5-1, and Tri-City taking the second game, 4-2; and Yakima beat Spokane 7-5 in 10 innings. In an exhibition nightcap, Spokane was beaten, 2-1, by Fairchild Air Force base.

Williams was the particular pain to the Chiefs. He drove in four runs with his two hits in the seven-inning opener. Pitcher Dick Dodel got credit for the victory.

In the second game, Williams rapped a key double in the Broncs' big eighth inning when five runs crossed the plate. Clint Lee was the winner in that one.

Four unearned runs spelled the difference in the short game at Kennewick. Ron King got credit for his sixth win for Salem, against one loss. Duane Helbig and Eddie Holden blasted home runs to account for the Tri-City victory margin in the nightcap.

Lee Maye tripled home the winning run and scored a clincher himself in the 10th inning to give Yakima its win at Spokane.

Sports Officials Meet Wednesday

Football and basketball game officials will convene at 7:30 p.m. Wednesday at Central Point junior high school.

Rule changes and officiating procedures for football will be discussed. A commissioner for assigning basketball referees may be elected.

All men interested in officiating prep contests are invited to attend the session. A preliminary meeting was held last week in Medford.

Washington State Loaded; Looks For Fine Grid Year

(This is another in a series on the prospects of Pacific Coast Conference teams for the 1955 football season.)

Pullman, Wash. — (U.P.) — A Washington State eleven, loaded with veteran lettermen, looks for one of its best seasons in years and Coach Al Kircher thinks his Cougars may finish among the top three in the PCC standings.

If they don't, another long victory drought is in sight behind the banks of the Palouse.

The Cougars, as usual, have to risk burying their season right off the bat by opening against Southern California in Los Angeles, and play UCLA in the third game of their schedule.

Yet Kircher rates the 1955 slate as much easier than last year's which saw the Cougars finish up with a 4-6 record and in a two-way tie for fifth in the conference. Such brutal inter-sectional foes as Texas and Michigan State have been replaced by Kansas and San Jose state.

21 Lettermen This "softer setup" will be handled by 21 returning lettermen, 15 with two years of varsity experience.

Eight Compete For Queen for Outboard Races

Devils Lake —Queen of the 1955 National Championship Stock Outboard Races being held at Devil's Lake August 27, 28 and 29 will be announced at a ball Friday night, August 26, at the Coaster in Oceanlake.

Eight contestants are vying for the crown. The winner also will have her choice of a trip to Hawaii, a college scholarship or a savings bond.

Vying are Judy Vosberg, sponsored by the Eastern Star Social club and the DeLake chamber of commerce; Laverne Loop, entry of the Toledo chamber of commerce; Lois Roberts, choice of Ember Club No. 262 of Oceanlake; LeRue Roberts, sponsored by the Waldport Lions club; Beverly Smith, entry of the Tillamook county organizations; Sharon Gunderson, Newport chamber of commerce entrant; Sharon Meyers, north Lincoln county Junior Women's club entry; and Joyce Collins, under sponsorship of the McMinville junior chamber of commerce.

The fastest stock outboard drivers from all over the United States will be competing in the races at DeLake. Devil's Lake was chosen as the site for this year's event in part because it is rated one of the fastest bodies of racing water in the world.

Kabler Into 2nd Round of NWAGT

Charlotte, N.C. — (U.P.) — Two 17-year-olds from the North woods turned the National Women's Amateur Golf tournament today into a teen-age neighborhood tangle for the second round.

Anne Quast of Marysville, Wash., and Carole Jo Kabler of Sutherland, Ore., drew the attention from the older heads expected to finally fight it out toward the title round four days hence.

Miss Quast pulled the biggest of several upsets on the first day of the tournament, trouncing Mrs. Grace Demoss Smith, a Curtis Cupper from Coral Gables, Fla., 3 and 1.

Not even the luck of the blind draw figured that one, which put the apple-cheeked Washington miss up against Miss Kabler, the blonde who won the National Junior Miss golf title only last week. Carole Jo defeated Naomi Venable of Poughkeepsie, N.Y., 6 and 5.

There was a sentimental side-light, not to mention a considerable upset, in the open round when Mrs. Harrison Klippin of Ardmore, Pa., bounded former British champion Marlene Stewart of Fonthill, Canada, one up.

The Dalles Wins In Legion Meet

Hastings, Neb. — (U.P.) — The Dalles, Ore., exploded for seven runs in the seventh inning last night to defeat Lincoln, Neb., 9-6, in the opening game of the American Legion Sectional baseball tourney here.

The Dalles overcame a 4-2 Lincoln lead with the big inning, which included a triple steal. Pat Foley stole home on the play.

It was only the second loss in 34 games for the Lincoln club, which was off its usual form defensively with nine errors.

Arnold Palmer In Labatt Golf Tourney

Montreal — (U.P.) — Arnold Palmer of Latrobe, Pa., winner of Canadian Open Golf championship on Sunday, heads a field of 136 players entered in the $26,800 Labatt golf tournament opening tomorrow at the Summerlea Country club.

The entry list includes 82 Americans, 53 Canadians and Roberto Di Vicenzo of Argentina. Among the Americans are defending champion Bud Holscher of Apple Valley, Calif., and PGA Champion Doug Ford of Kipamesha Lake, N.Y., the 1953 winner.

Jockey Suspended

Del Mar, Calif. — (U.P.) — Jockey Ismael Valenzuela, who told Del Mar track stewards he missed Saturday's races because he was in jail, was suspended for the final three weeks of the Del Mar race meeting.

California's first foundry was established in San Francisco in 1849.

Major Leagues Resume Action Today; Twin-Bill Rained Out

By MILTON RICHMAN United Press Sports Writer The key to first place will be in the cellar tonight — in the keeping of the last-place Baltimore Orioles.

"Frankly, I don't give a hang whether Cleveland, Chicago or New York wins the pennant if we can't win it ourselves," says Baltimore manager Paul Richards.

But tonight, anyway, Richards' Orioles will determine which club shall head the American League. Here's why:

The White Sox are a half-game out of first place but they can take over the top rung by two percentage points if they sweep a two-night doubleheader with the lowly Orioles tonight. The pacesetter Yankees, who meet the Tigers in a night game, can't do a thing about stopping Chicago even if they beat Detroit.

Richards, who left the White Sox at the end of last year to come to Baltimore, thinks Chicago "has the necessary pitching to win the pennant," but he doesn't intend to make it easy for his old ball club.

The Orioles have given the White Sox as much, if not more, trouble than any other club in the league this season and Richards says there's liable to be a lot more in store for them.

Marty Marion, who succeeded Richards as White Sox manager, has nominated Virgil Trucks and Sam Rice for tonight's tell-tale twin-bill while Erv Palica and George Zverev will pitch for Baltimore.

The Yankees, who just swept three games in a row from the Orioles, will rest their hopes on fastballer Bob Turley against Tiger rookie Frank Lary.

Cleveland, only one game out of first place, will send southpaw strikeout ace Herb Score against Frank Sullivan of Boston in another key night game while in the other American League contest, Alex Kellner of Kansas City is scheduled to face Bob Porterfield of Washington.

Over in the National League, where Brooklyn's lead has recently been shaved from 16 games to a "mere" 11, the Dodgers will find out how much good Monday's 90-minute batting drill did when they meet the Cubs.

All big league clubs enjoyed an off-day Monday but Dodger manager Walter Alston, concerned by 9 losses in the last 13 games, put his charges through an hour and a half batting drill.

Don Newcombe will go after his 19th victory for the fifth time tonight against Bob Rush, who will be shooting for his 11th triumph.

The Milwaukee Braves, who still entertain faint pennant hopes themselves, oppose Robin Roberts, the majors' only 20-game winner, at Philadelphia, with Lew Burdette going for Charlie Grimm's second-place crew.

In the other two National League night games, Willard Schmidt of the Cardinals was nominated to go against southpaw Johnny Antonelli of the Giants, while Vern Law was the choice of the Pirates to face Art Fowler of the Redlegs.

Migratory Bird Flights Lengthy

Portland — Migratory birds make some long and strange flights between their summer and winter homes, according to Chet Kebbe, chief of furber and waterfowl, Oregon Game Commission. Band returns have shown that in some instances these flights have entailed distances of 5,000 miles or more.

Of special interest to Oregon hunters are the several thousand waterfowl banded each year at the management areas of the Oregon Game Commission.

Of the many returns by hunters, several of these birds were long range travelers who preferred the Mexican climate in which to spend the winters.

A male pintail banded at Summer lake in August of 1953 was taken by a hunter in February, 1955, at Matamoros, Mexico, located on the Gulf of Mexico, a distance of some 2,000 miles from the point of banding.

Another long range tourist was a cinnamon teal also banded at Summer lake in August of 1953 who preferred lower California for its wintering home. The birds was shot in February of 1955 at Hardy river, Mexicali, Baja California, about 1,200 miles from Summer lake.

The long ranged flyer, however, was a cool. Banded at Summer lake in August of 1954, the bird was shot near Ameca, Jalisco, Mexico, which is south of Mexico City, a flight of close to 2,500 miles.

Winter Sports Areas Attract 658,650 Fans

Portland — A total of 658,650 winter sports visitors were attracted to the winter sports areas on the 18 national forests of Oregon and Washington during the past season according to figures just compiled by the U. S. forest service. This represents a gain of about 57,000 more visitors than the previous season and is approximately a 10 percent increase.

Winter sports use has been coming to the front rapidly in the last few years. It is now the third largest recreational use of the national forest recreation areas, surpassed only by camping and picnicking use.

Most all of the major winter sports areas saw increased use with the exception of Timberline lodge area on Mt. Hood National forest. The decrease in use at Timberline was caused by its closing for a portion of the winter sports season because of a change of operators. Its reopening in July, 1955, with plans for additional uphill ski lift facilities should result in even greater use for that area during the coming season.

New developments and improvements are taking place at several of the national forest winter sports areas again this summer. These additional facilities and area improvements, which are being made by the operators, will add to the comfort and enjoyment of the skiers. The result is likely to be a continued increase in the number of participants in winter sports.

Dodgers List 3 Areas For Move

Brooklyn — (U.P.) — The Brooklyn Dodgers listed three areas near Brooklyn today as possible future sites for their team, but the Los Angeles City Council made a pitch to have the Dodgers transferred across the country.

"We want to stay in Brooklyn," insisted Dodger President Walter O'Malley. "We will go nowhere else if there is a chance to stay there."

But, with efforts to line up city help in obtaining a suitable stadium site in Brooklyn apparently slowed down, O'Malley said that the team would consider as possible sites — if Brooklyn is out — neighboring Queens and Nassau counties on Long Island, and Jersey City next season was discussed by O'Malley, Jersey City Mayor Bernard J. Berry, and other officials Monday. It is hanging fire while engineers study the cost of renovating Jersey City's Roosevelt stadium for the game.

In Los Angeles, however, the City Council invited both the Dodgers and the New York Giants to look toward Los Angeles if they want a new home.
