Proceeds for the race will go to the Junior Chamber fund for underprivileged children, with emphasis on an expanded program at the lake side camp above.

QTs Add Two Players To Bolster Team for Two Sunday Games

The Rogue Valley QTs, girls' softball team, faced with two tough games at Fairgrounds park here next Sunday afternoon, today added two seasoned players to their roster. They are Carole Foster, outfielder who has been playing this summer at Lakeview, and Pat Barron, catcher and pitcher with the Basinettes at Klamath Falls. Miss Barron played with the Basinettes against the Lind Florists here, in June.

The QTs play Durham, Calif., in the first game of the double header, starting at 3 o'clock, and Orland, Calif., in the second game. Both teams are members of the strong Sacramento valley league and finished second and third respectively. Orland also boasts a 23-6 victory over San Leandro, Oakland recreation league champs.

Pitching duties for the QTs probably will be handled by Joy Ingle against Durham and Doris Hickson against Orland, with Miss Barron probably seeing relief action. Pat Schroeder will do the catching. Other starting assignments are expected to go either to Miss Hickson or Miss Ingle at first base; Dorothy Shearin, second base; Dianne Tuttle, third base; Bernice Big-ham, short stop and Marvena Nelson, Barbara Conrad and Arlene Hoffman in the outfield.

Jerry Mosby, who has been coach of the QTs for several seasons but recently moved to Lakeview, will return here Sunday to again be at the helm of the team.

Lesser Wins, Quast Loses In Gals' Am

Charlotte, N. C. — (U.P.) — A spruced-up Betty Probasco hung out trouble signs today for the other three girls still left in the 55th Women's National Amateur golf tournament.

Mrs. Probasco met Jane Nelson, an Indianapolis grammar school teacher, in one semi-final today. In the other, Pat Lesser of Seattle met plucky Polly Riley of Ft. Worth, Tex.

Mrs. Probasco is Southern champion from Chattanooga. She has competed twice before in the National but never got beyond the first round and brought only three outfits with her to Charlotte.

She wore the same faded red sweater, with the initials of her maiden name, Betty Rowland, embroidered on it, for two days. But after she came from behind in courageous fashion Thursday to edge broken-hearted little Anne Quast, one up, Mrs. Probasco decided it was time to spruce up.

In the other quarter-finals matches, Miss Lesser, a sturdier girl than the kid who won the National Junior crown in 1950, defeated Jane Crum Covington of Orangeburg, S.C., 7 and 6; Miss Nelson took Barbara McIntire of Toledo, 5 and 3, and Miss Riley beat Margaret Wiffi Smith of Clair, Mich., 1 up.

New York — (U.P.) — Tony Gagliardo, 182, Brooklyn, N. Y., scored a unanimous eight-round decision over Johnny Orger, 168 3-4, New York, last night in the feature bout at the Eintracht Oval.

Studs' Final Scuffles at North Bend

SOUTHERN OREGON LEAGUE STANDINGS
	W.	L.	Pct.
Drain	20	2	.909
Bend	11	9	.550
Coquille	11	11	.500
Bandon	10	10	.500
Medford	10	14	.417
Roseburg	8	14	.364
Grants Pass	6	16	.273

Striving to end their 1953 semi-professional baseball campaign with a "winning" record, the Medford Cheney Studs travel to North Bend to tackle the Coos Bay-North Bend Lumberjacks Saturday and Sunday.

The Studs have wrapped up their Southern Oregon League slate and the scuffles with the 'Jacks will be non-league affairs.

If the Medfordites want to have a record of more wins than losses for the season, they'll have to take both games. Their record for the year now stands all even with 20 victories, 20 defeats and one tie. Chances for the Studs to cop a series sweep are good. The 'Jacks licked Medford twice in a series in July but both frays might easily have gone to the Studs.

Scores in the previous scuffles were 10 to 8 and 6 to 5. In the first of the fuses, Medford blew an 8 to 2 lead and was the victim of its own miscues. In the second hassle the Studs walloped the ball well and outstaidied CB-NB in fielding but too often their hard raps were within range of Jack fielders.

League Games

Whether Warren Noyes will be on hand to chuck one game for Medford was not known today. If he isn't, starting pitching assignments likely will go to Jim Kelly and Terry Maddox with Derald Wooton on hand relief. Tosses Marv Scherpf is still hobbled by a thigh muscle injury.

While the Studs are through for the year in the SOL there will be three league series this week end. Grants Pass will be at Coquille, Drain at Bandon and Roseburg at Bend. The games will wind up the season for the circuit except for a possible make up series between Bend and Bandon. Whether the clubs plan to get together, hasn't been learned. The series won't have any effect on the championship, which is already in Drain's hands, but could affect second place in the standings. Medford is now fifth place in the standings and results of other games can't give the Studs any worse than a tie for that position.

Air Force Sweeps All Five Tennis Mantles

Washington — (U.P.) — A clean sweep of all five titles at stake in the Interservice Tennis tournament was recorded by the Air Force.

Capturing the team championship with 11 points to eight for runner-up Army, airmen nabbed both singles and doubles crowns in both open and senior divisions. Navy finished a distant third with three points and the Marine Corps was last with none.

Dead line for Sunday Classified is at noon Saturday.

Lincoln Raps The Dalles In Finale

Hastings, Neb. — (U.P.) — The Lincoln, Neb., Optimists meet Tucson, Ariz., tonight in the sectional Junior American Legion Baseball Tournament championship.

The Optimists nailed down a berth in the finals by clipping the Dalles, Ore., Thursday night, 5-1.

A three-run rally in the seventh sparked by a 377-foot triple by John Douthitt, clinched the victory for the Optimists.

But the Lincoln team had to stave off a ninth inning The Dalles rally which ended with catcher Irwin Sandrey flying out with the bases loaded.

Duane Steffen struck out nine The Dalles batters, one less than The Dalles hurler, Denny Peterson.

Davis Rivals Open Action

Forest Hills, N.Y. — (U.P.) — U. S. champion Vic Seixas was the man on the spot today as he and Tony Trabert began defense of the Davis Cup against the same two foes they whipped to win the huge silver bowl in Australia last December.

Considered the weak link of America's two-man team, jittery Vic drew the opening singles assignment against little Ken Rosewall, who has defeated Seixas seven of the last nine times they played.

It was Trabert against Lew Hoad of Australia in a duel of slingers in the second match but, with Trabert near the peak of his game, U.S. Captain Billy Talbert had no worries about the chunky Wimbledon champion from Cincinnati.

One doubles match, often the key to Cup triumphs, will be played Saturday and, while the make-up of the teams hasn't been announced, it's almost certain Seixas and Trabert will be facing Hoad and Rex Hartwig of the Aussie side.

Then, on Sunday, come the final singles matches with today's pairings reversed — Trabert vs. Rosewall and Seixas vs. Hoad.
