Infection in Conversation

Do you remember, by any chance, the conclusions reached by Medical Research Council from a study of the hypothetical "common cold" made in England, over a period of several years? It included experiments on human volunteers under carefully controlled conditions. Compared to this British investigation the annual "scientific" expeditions launched in Yankeland, with the "promise" of finding the nature, cause, and cure of the trouble which every wiseacre understands but no physician or health authority can define, seem farcical.

One conclusion of the British investigation, made on the field and not in the headlines, is that ordinary "exposure" to cold, damp, draft, change of weather, such as everyone experiences in everyday life, has nothing to do with susceptibility to or immunity to the cri. I do not wish to imply that the British used the term kri (kree), but in my booklet this word expresses what they mean, namely, the Common Respiratory infections, that is, any of the indispositions, or illnesses (usually communicable) which stunts and stinks call "colds."

Title of the booklet is Call It CRI. For your copy send 25c and stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Twice Too Often

Granby, Conn. — (U.P.)—Paul Iskra of Simsbury went fishing twice this season on Lake Manitook. Both times, he fell from his boat and had to be fished out. "I'll either have to give up Lake Manitook," said Iskra, "or give up fishing."

Frankfurt, Germany — (U.P.)—Nobel Prize Winner Dr. Albert Schweitzer was an honored guest here Sunday when the French-German writer Anette Kolb was awarded the Goethe prize for literature.

MOO-O-O'S AND MUSINGS

According to scientists, everyone grows a new body every 7 years.

Husbands sitting around waiting for their wives to pour one like Marilyn Monroe are liable to be mighty disappointed.

QUESTIONS & ANSWERS
Line in Drinking Water
Please tell me whether lots of lime in well water is good. (J. K. M.)
Answer—Whether the body assimilates the lime in water is doubtful. But no matter how much lime (calcium) the water contains, if it is

DIFFERENCE IN BEULAH

Beulah, Mich. — (U.P.)—Seven traffic direction signs a mile from this northern Michigan resort community tell motorists how far Beulah is but each one has a different distance. "Beulah, Colo. 1,476 Miles." Below it are signs that give the distance to Beulahs in North Dakota, Mississippi, Kansas and Missouri and the bottom sign says, "Beulah, Mich., 1 Mile."

UNIQUE FISH

Sunapee, N. H. — (U.P.)—Lake Sunapee boasts a fish all its own—the rare Sunapee golden trout. The fish is believed to have survived in the lake since post-glacial times. It's a close relative of the Arctic charr.
