Quotes From the News

By UNITED PRESS

Col. Percy Walter Thompson, 56, father-in-law of Maj. John Eisenhower, announcing his retirement from the army after 30 years and his plans to study law at the University of Florida under the Korean GI Bill of Rights.

"I've always been interested in the law, but I never had a chance to do anything about it before."

John W. Kerr, United Press bureau manager at Portland, Ore., explaining how he scored a 24 hour beat on the news that returning Airman Danny Schmidt had been reconciled with his wife, Una:

"They wanted to hide out so I offered them the use of a cabin at the beach. I gave them the key and started them out on the highway."

Mrs. Harry S. Truman on published reports that her husband called off speaking engagements on the West Coast because he had had a disagreement with Democratic leader Ed Pauley:

"Pauley has always been one of my husband's closest friends. I don't know how any report like that could have got started. I have never heard a word spoken against him."

University of Michigan football Coach Bennie Oosterbaan, on reports that his Wolverines will win the Big Ten championship and trip to the Rose Bowl this year:

"I hope we will be as good as everybody says we will be."

Air Force 2nd Lt. Guy H. Bumpas Jr., who was held six days by Red Chinese and given little medical treatment for the fractured skull he suffered when his plane crashed in Korea:

"On the evening of the second day of my capture, I was taken into an operation room. They gave me a local and closed up my head. They took my blood pressure and temperature and that was the extent of my medical treatment. They claimed that was adequate treatment. I can't buy it."

CIO United Steel Workers President David J. McDonald, addressing supervisory personnel of Great Lakes Steel Corp. in a precedent-setting meeting of company and union personnel aimed at establishing labor peace at the company's plants:

"It is easy to find the causes of industrial strife. But it's difficult to find the causes of industrial peace."
