

Chilean Forester Visits Area On Whirlwind Trip Across US

Oswaldo Mario Alfaro, Santiago, Chile, is in Jackson county between Lake o' Woods and Union Creek today, inspecting large scale logging operations after a short visit in Medford yesterday and Tuesday.

The 30-year-old Chilean is an extension agent of the Point Four Soil Conservation Service in his country. At the behest of the Foreign Operations Agency of the United States, he is here studying all phases of timber management and production.

In the last three months Alfaro has been whisked through 14 states and the District of Columbia. As he puts it, he's "hardly had time to wash my clothes."

Visits Watershed
Wednesday he visited a Rogue River National Forest watershed in the Ashland area accompanied by Jack Wood, forest supervisor; M. L. Tedrow, timber management officer; and Harold Thomas, Ashland district ranger.

Alfaro crossed the U.S. border last September and spent nine months getting a forestry degree at North Carolina State college. He speaks with a rapid-fire Chilean-British accent. The latter inflection he says, is a result of study in a British school when he was six.

In Chile, where he attended college, the schools offer only generalized agriculture degrees, one of which he obtained. He came to the United States to concentrate on his chosen field—forestry.

Alfaro sees a tremendous pulp industry for Chile in the surprisingly near future. About 40 years ago, private land owners there began planting Monterey pine trees, a variety found in southern California. More than 500,000 acres of planted timber now stand in the coastal nation.

Fields Excellent Pulp
Monterey pine in this country is gnarly, knotty, and of practically no value. In Chile, for an unexplained reason, it reaches maturity (16 inch diameter) within 25 years and yields excellent pulp wood.

If planting continues at its present rate, 20,000 acres per year, Alfaro predicts the country will produce 1,500,000 tons of pulp by 1960. Only one small pulp mill now operates in Chile, but two are abuilding, each capable of producing 100,000 tons of paper material per year.

Chile's goal, according to Alfaro, is seven new pulp plants by about 1970. Since the country's own consumption is small, most of the product will be exported. Total earnings brought in by this may well rival the now chief export, copper.

Alfaro received a minor shock when he first arrived in Oregon and the Rogue valley. In Chile, he says, he always thought of Oregon and Washington as cold, rainy, forest covered mountain ranges.

Actually, the climate and topography here are much like that of Santiago.

Commenting on the customs of the two areas, Alfaro believes there are fewer differences between South America and the United States than between Europe and the U.S.

The most difficult part of his "adjustment" has been eating the evening meal at 6 p.m. In Chile, the people don't sit down to supper till 9 p.m. Also, in Chile, he added, the people drink wine with meals, where United States folk drink milk. (A liter, slightly more than a quart, of wine sells there for 20 cents).

Come the end of September, Alfaro will have to re-adjust to his native country's ways, a hectic year for the "estomago."

The Chilean exchange, accompanied by timber management officer Tedrow, will arrive in Union Creek over the week end. Tuesday he will return to Medford and be off for the last major interest point on his itinerary, the Forest Service Products Laboratory at Madison, Wis.

He will return to his post in Santiago within the month, by way of Washington, D.C. Once home, his real work begins: Teaching the "right" way of forest management... a new look in the economic life of Chile.

In and Around Jacksonville
Jacksonville — Henry W. Evans, Sacramento, Calif., visited at the home of his parents one day last week. He is a lumber broker in Sacramento.

Afternoon visitors last week at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Wilson were Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Briggs, Oakland, Calif., and Mr. and Mrs. Ed Vincent of Central Point.

Mrs. Briggs and her sister Mrs. Frances Russell of Medford called on Mrs. Pearl Whitney.

Mr. and Mrs. Guy Garrett are expected home this week from a two weeks visit at Kilton Hot Springs, Oakridge, Ore.

Mrs. Orville Mayfield left last week for a vacation in Portland where she will visit relatives.

Mrs. Adla Gwin was visited this week by her two daughters and families, Mr. and Mrs. James Massa and their daughter Marlene, and Mrs. Victoria Callen, all of Napa, Calif.

Judge and Mrs. H. K. Hanna are expected home the latter part of this week from a vacation trip to San Francisco, Calif., where they visited Judge Hanna's brother, Leon, and their daughter, the former Anita Hanna, Jacksonville.

A large group of Lions and their families attended their regular Lions picnic at McKee bridge on Sunday, Aug. 21.

Mr. and Mrs. Dale Flick, Roseburg were week end visitors at the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Peter Flick.

Mr. and Mrs. George Mayfield and daughter Carolyn left Monday to drive to San Francisco for a week's vacation. They were accompanied by Mrs. Arthur Johnson, a cousin. Mrs. Johnson plans to go to Los Angeles and take a train from there to her home in Pompano Beach, Fla., after spending the summer in Jacksonville at the home of relatives.

A surprise farewell party sponsored by The Christ Ambassadors, a young people's group of the Assembly of God church, was held in honor of Miss Doris Wall, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Wall, Aug. 26, at the Carl Wall home on Sterling rd. About 50 guests were present at the outdoor gathering. Miss Wall received many gifts. She will leave Monday for Santa Cruz, Calif., where she is enrolled in Bethany Bible college. Wall will drive her down to the school.

Mr. and Mrs. George Noble and three daughters, Bonanza, Ore., visited at the J. B. Noble home last Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Mitchell and three children, Bob, Susan and Tommy, recently moved out on the South Stage rd. Mrs.

Twice Pretty!
Two pretty dresses from one pattern—simply by varying the neckline! Make a mandarin collar for daytime wear, bare 'n' beautiful version for gala evening occasion! Lovely lines below (long, long torso of course) — most becoming of all to the Junior figure!

Pattern 9202: Jr. Miss Sizes 9, 11, 13, 15, 17. Size 13 takes 4 1/2 yards 39-inch fabric.

This easy-to-use pattern gives perfect fit. Complete, illustrated Sew Chart shows you every step.

Send Thirty-five cents in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 4-class mailing. Send to Marian Martin, care Medford Mail Tribune, Pattern Dept., 232 West 18th St., New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS with SIZE and STYLE NUMBER.

Air Force Deserter Held at Hood River
Hood River —(U.P.)—An Air Force deserter was arrested by Hood River county officers here yesterday in connection with an attempted bank robbery in Spokane June 15.

Joseph Santioana, head of the Portland FBI, said Hood River Sheriff Gillmouthe arrested Earl Palm Stanford Jr., 20, yesterday on warrants issued last month in Spokane. Two others involved in the robbery were already in custody in Spokane.

Stanford was accused of attempting to rob the Farmers and Merchants Bank in Deer Park, a Spokane suburb. He was also listed as an Air Force deserter from Lowry Air Force Base at Denver.

Santioana said the U. S. Marshal would take Stanford to Portland today. He was to be brought before the U. S. Commissioner to face removal proceedings to Spokane.

Federal proceedings against Stanford set bail at $10,000.

NEW LOCATION
Modern Plumbing & Sheet Metal Co.
613 East Jackson
Phone 3-3363

Society
Seven Educators Will Serve On OEA Committees

Seven county educators in Jackson county have been appointed to statewide committees of the Oregon Education association for the coming school year, according to Mrs. Antonia Carter, Newberg, OEA president.

Named were: Mrs. Ruth Dunn, Medford, centennial action program committee; De Vere Taylor, Medford, chairman of economic welfare committee; Joe Fader, Ashland, legislative committee; Alf Mekvold, Medford, school finance committee; Elliott McCracken, Ashland, teacher education and professional standards committee; Jerry McDougall, Medford, television committee; Mrs. Jo Anne Smith, federal legislation committee.

From these twenty-one statewide committees comes the action program of the teachers' professional organization which counts some 12,600 Oregon educators in its ranks. Goals for public education in Oregon as established by the various association committees will serve as guides for the over-all OEA professional program throughout the year.

Mrs. Carter said that committee assignments would be of special importance this year because of critical problems confronting the profession in Oregon. Some of the items listed for immediate attention were: inadequate teacher supply; raising of average Oregon teachers' salary from $300 to $500 for 1936-37 and improvement of salary schedules in many districts; school district reorganization; federal aid to education; increase of state financial aid to schools and distribution of the basic school fund and the 1936 Portland NEA convention.

Grants Pass Pair
Guests of Club
Mrs. Jack Barr and Mrs. N. B. Wright, members of Grants Pass Duplicate Bridge club, were guest players for a meeting of Riverside Bridge club Wednesday.

North-south winners were Mrs. J. P. Vachon and Roy Pruitt, first, 112 points; Gen. J. P. Vachon and William Isaacs, second, 108 1/2; Mrs. Richard Milestone and Mrs. George Choates, Mrs. W. W. Stevenson and Mrs. F. R. Baker tied for third and fourth places with 101 1/2.

East-west winners were Mrs. T. J. Fuson and John Solheim, first, 105 1/2; Mrs. Ben Todd and Mrs. Van Gilbert, second, 94 points; Mrs. Jack Barr and Mrs. N. B. Wright, third, 90 1/2; Dr. George Dean and Emery Wheat, fourth, 89 points.

Play on Wednesday, September 7, will be for master point.

Family Returns After Trip North
Mrs. L. Josephine Haupt returned home earlier this week after spending a few days in Corvallis. She traveled north with a friend, Mrs. Marguerite Chapler, Portland, who had been a guest of Mrs. Haupt here last week.

Mrs. Chapler is housemother for the Alpha Phi chapter at the University of Washington, Seattle, during the school year, and Mrs. Haupt will be housemother for the Kappa Delta Rho fraternity chapter at OSC beginning with the fall term.

Mrs. Haupt returned to Medford with her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Haupt and their sons, who spent the weekend in Portland. The Haupters live at 2123 Capital avenue.

Baby Set
QUICK CROCHET! You'll have baby's new booties, bonnet, jacket finished in a jiffy! They are made in open and closed shell-stitches in 3-ply baby yarn. Use white with pastel pink, blue, or yellow.

Pattern 7318: crochet directions for infant's bonnet, booties, jacket.

Send TWENTY-FIVE CENTS in coins for this pattern—add 5 cents for each pattern for 1st-class mailing. Send to Medford Mail Tribune, Household Arts Dept., P. O. Box 168, Old Chelsea Station, New York 11, N.Y. Print plainly NAME, ADDRESS, AND PATTERN NUMBER.

Order our ALICE BROOKS Needlecraft Catalogue. Enjoy pages of exciting new designs—knitting, crochet, embroidery, iron-ons, toys and novelties! Send 25 cents for your copy of this wonderful book now. You'll

Teacher to Leave
Miss White — Miss Marilyn Feller, daughter of Chaplain Samuel Feller, will leave Camp White Sunday for Palo Alto, Calif., where she will teach music and drama at the Castilleja school for girls. She received her masters degree in music at Stanford university last June, and is also a graduate of Mills college in California.

Miss Feller sang and explained the origin of a number of hymns at chapel exercises last Sunday evening.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild business session is set

Social Activity Centers Around Golf Tournament
Much of the valley's social activity this weekend centers around Rogue Valley Country club where the 28th annual Southern Oregon Golf tournament is being played. Scores of visitors have already arrived to take part in, or watch the tournament play.

This morning visiting lady golfers were entertained at a brunch in the clubhouse. Other social activity includes a cocktail hour every evening, and after-dinner dancing. Monday night the annual awards dinner will be held, with presentation of trophies and special entertainment.

Robert Lockwood and George Schuler are general cochairmen in charge of the tournament and all events. Mrs. Lockwood and Mrs. Schuler are assisting their husbands by serving as hostesses for social events and other members of Women's Golf association are also working on committees, working on concessions and also serving as hostesses.

Mrs. Warren Lesseg is chairman of Women's Golf association.

Two Grants Announced
Two vocational grants of $250 each from the International Altrusa founders' fund have been received by Medford Altrusa club it was announced today by Mrs. Maude L. Coddling, Medford president. The grants will be used to send two Jackson county women to school for training in practical nursing.

Mrs. Lena Castle, 112 Maple street, Ashland, Ore., one of the winning applicants, has applied for admittance to Oregon Technical Institute, Klamath Falls, which has a course in practical nursing, with field work in a Klamath Falls hospital, opening in September. The other winning applicant, Mrs. Lydia Downey, Medford, was unable to accept the grant as she has received employment in Alaska, and a substitute will be chosen.

Application for the international grants were made by the local club's vocational committee at the end of a campaign conducted last spring which culminated in the local club sending two women back to school on funds supplied by the club. The applications were handled by an international committee which has the spending of about $8,000 a year to benefit women who find they must return to the labor market after years of absence.

for 1:30 p.m., and the cradle roll program for 2:15 p.m. Members of Ruth circle will serve refreshments.

Craddle Roll Program
A special cradle roll program is being planned for a meeting of the Women's guild of Zion Lutheran church. The meeting will be held Tuesday, September 6 in the church social room. A guild