Tribe Aims To Settle Score With Senators

By MILTON RICHMAN
United Press Sports Writer

The Cleveland Indians aim to settle a couple of scores with the sad sack Senators tonight, the first one having to do with something personal and the second one with something like $10,000 per man.

On the personal side, the Indians are fed up with the increasing needling they have been subjected to from the seventh-place Senators, who have beaten them 12 out of 19 games this year.

Then there's the always vital matter of World Series money. The Indians, who lead the American League by 1½ games, are convinced they can eliminate the last major obstacle in their road to the pennant by capturing at least two games of the three game series which opens with a two-night doubleheader at Griffith Stadium tonight.

Two Veterans To Pitch
Toward that end, Cleveland Manager Al Lopez, who says "this series can make or break us," has nominated two of his pressure-tested right-handers, Bob Lemon and Mike Garcia, to pitch against Washington in tonight's twin-bill.

Chuck Dressen, the fiery little Senator skipper who vows he'll treat the next three games as if they were World Series contests, indicated his pitching choices may be southpaw Mickey McDermott in the opener and right-hander Bob Porterfield or

The Yankees, a game and a half in the all important "lost column" have troubles of their own. But their troubles could suddenly dissolve if they were to beat the Tigers today while the Indians lose their double dip to the pesky Senators. Such a series of events would result in a tie between Cleveland and New York for first place.

Yanks To Use Turley
Casey Stengel is sending his right handed fast-baller Bob Turley to the mound against Detroit today while Bucky Harris of the Tigers has given the nod to Bob Miller, a 20-year-old bonus hurler who has just returned to Detroit after compiling an 8-2 record with Augusta of the Sally League.

The third-place White Sox, who are 3½ games back, are at Baltimore for a two-night doubleheader, while the Red Sox, who insist they still have a chance even though they are six games behind, meet the Kansas City Athletics in a two-nighter.

In the only game scheduled Monday night, the last-place Pirates defeated the seventh place Cardinals, 9-3, behind the six-hit pitching of southpaw Lino Donoso. Dale Long and Frank Thomas each homered for the Pirates while Stan Musial clouted his 29th and 30th homers for the Cards.

Seattle Studs Nab First Three In Region Meet

The Washington Cheney Studs, who were not too impressive when they played the Medford Studs here this summer, are doing all right so far in the American Baseball Congress northwest regional tourney at Watertown, S.D. In three games they've scored 47 runs while goose-egging the opposition. They've collected 45 hits to seven by their foes.

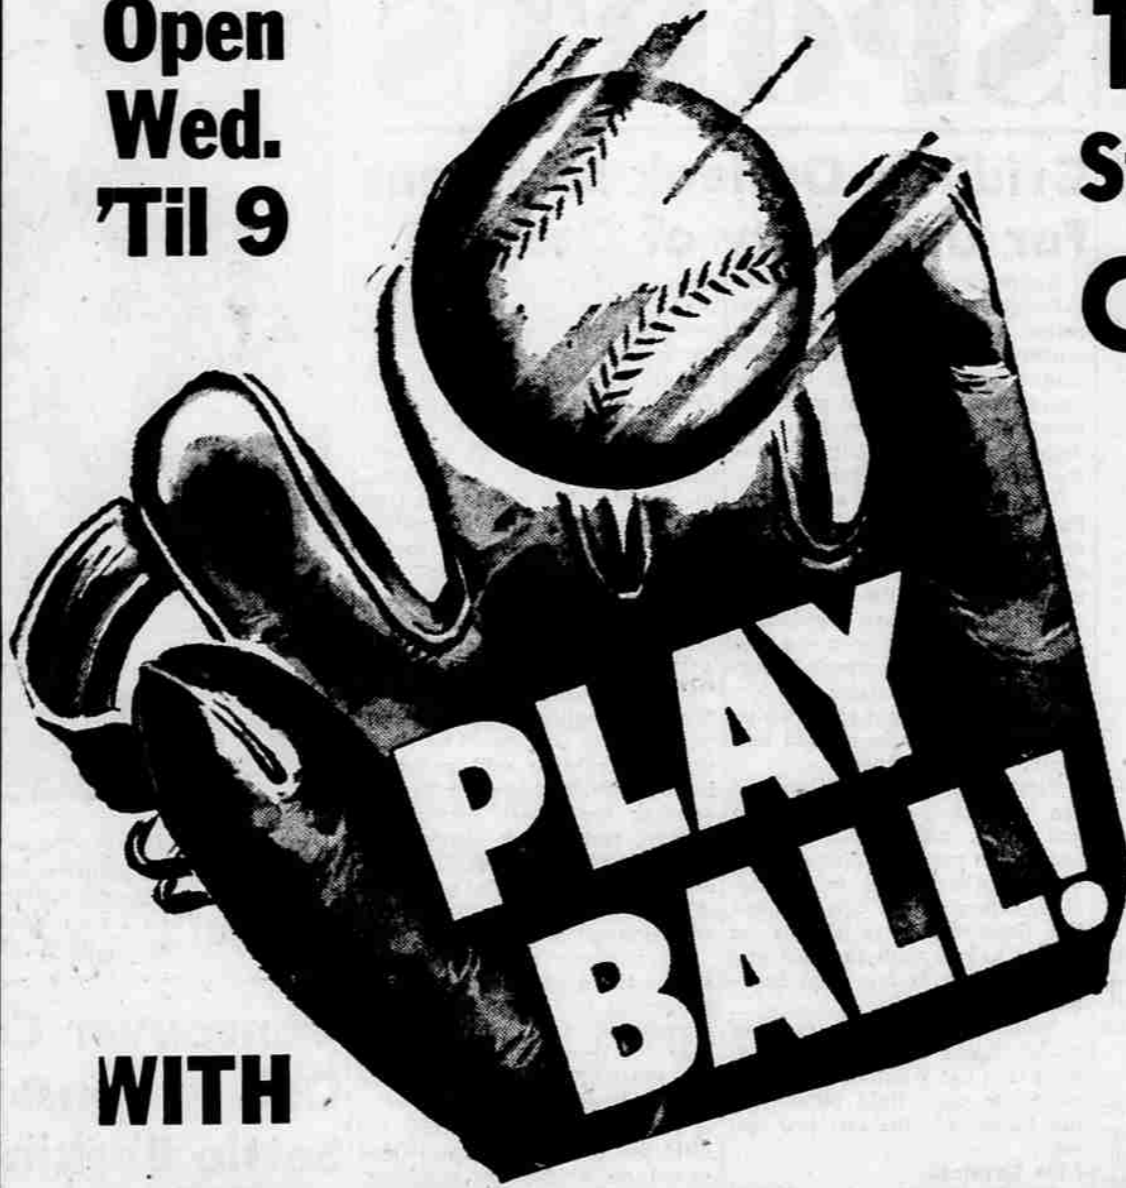

In their opener the Washington club beat St. Cloud, Minn., 24 to 0 as Farrar hurled a non-hitter. Next time out, Cheney licked Sumner, Ia., 17 to 0 as Monte Geiger threw a two-hitter. Third win was 6 to 0 over Archer Blower and Pipe of Portland. George Kritsonis tossed a five-hitter.

The Studs are aiming for a trip to the national tourney at Battle Creek, Mich.
