11 Lettermen On Squad at Talent High

Talent — Eleven lettermen are members of the Talent high football squad which has been drilling for the season starter against Mt. Shasta. The Bulldogs face the California team on Friday at 2:30 p.m.

Twenty-four men have been issued grid equipment by Head Coach George Bray. Daily turnouts have averaged 19.

Senior two-year lettermen are Jim Walker, moved this year to right half after playing fullback; Jack Barrett, now playing quarterback after previous experience at end, and Ray Weinhold, a tackle. Frank Long, who lettered as a sophomore, is back after a year in Idaho. He is an end.

Two-Year Juniors

A transfer senior candidate is Rollie Shimmin, end from North Salem. Heaviest man on the squad is Eldon McGarity, 220-pound tackle and non letterman senior.

One junior two-year letterman, Ron Weinhold, a guard who was switched to quarter and half, will miss six weeks because of an elbow fracture. Another junior monogram man, Dick Bradford, a tackle, has a dropped out. Gordy Thoreson, three-year letterman back is sidelined for the season with a knee injury.

Bray expects his squad to increase in size when school classes open next Monday.

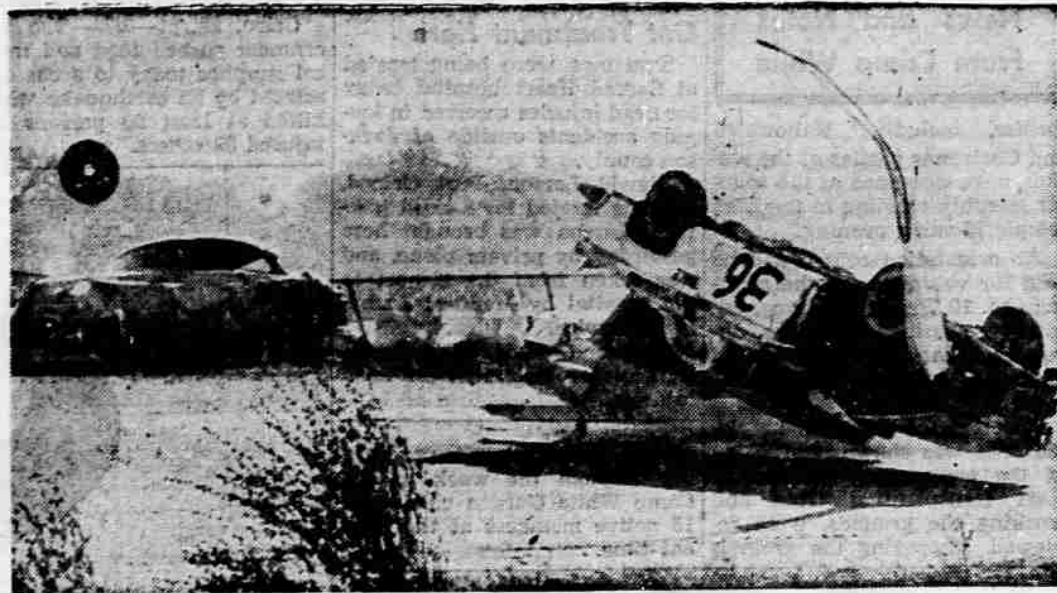

Logart Scores Win Over Wilson

New York — (U.P.) — Speedy Isaac Logart of Camaguey, Cuba, who has designs on the welterweight crown once worn by fellow-townsmen Kid Gavilan, was rewarded today for his clear victory over Al (Sugar) Wilson by a return bout with Virgil Akins of St. Louis.

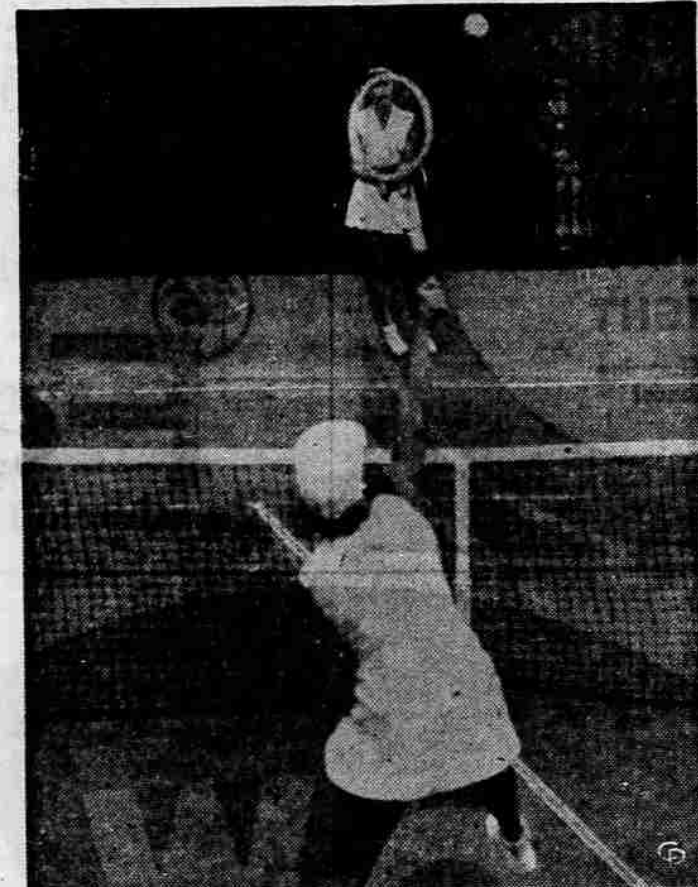

Logart and Akins, who split-decided Logart on Aug. 8, were listed today for a clash at St. Nicholas Arena, Oct. 3, provided Akins escapes injury in his bout at Indianapolis tonight against Harold Jones. Should Akins suffer some slight injury, the bout would be set back to Oct. 17.

Logart, the 8½ to 5 favorite, captured a wide margin in the official voting in Monday night's bout against Wilson, of Englewood, N.J., at St. Nick's. There were no knockdowns, but Logart bloodied Wilson's nose in the second round and kept it flowing the rest of the way, and also kept Wilson's right eye partially closed from the fourth round on.

Duretto, however, led in four other departments. His 123 run harvest topped the loop as did his total base mark of 291, his 27 home runs and 143 runs batted in.

Musial Near RBI Record

St. Louis, Mo. — (U.P.) — Stan (The Man) Musial of the St. Louis Cardinals now is only one season away from a National League runs-batted-in record held by Mel Ott.

Musial drove in two runs with a pair of bases-empty home runs last night as the Cards lost to Pittsburgh, 9-3. That lifted his runs-batted-in total for this year to 101, marking the eighth season in his career he has driven in 100 or more runs.

Ott, former Giant star, holds the league record of nine such RBI seasons. Babe Ruth holds the major-league record of 13 seasons.

Jacksonville Will Field Green Team

Jacksonville — Inexperience and a meager turnout has been a handicap in preparations of the Jacksonville high Redskins for their 1955 gridiron season.

The Redskins open Thursday night at Phoenix. They were to have met the Crater junior varsity last Saturday but a power outage at Central Point forced postponement of the scrape.

Daily turnouts here have been running 15 to 18 and Coach Fred Richardson has just five lettermen, only four of whom so far have been out for drills. Regular jobs and fire fighting have kept griders away from practices. Jacksonville doesn't figure to have too many hands on deck to go against Phoenix.

Positions in Doubt
 Most positions for the Thursday fracas were still in doubt today. Only three backfield slots were fairly set. The backs are Bob Guches, senior, and Clyde Smith and Gary Hueners, juniors. Only lineman reasonably sure of a starting job is Eldon Smith, an end.

Fourth letterman currently out is John Allen, sophomore, who is being moved from tackle to center. Gary West, junior guard who wears a letter, has not yet joined the squad.

Richardson has a predominant sophomore-junior crew.

Other games lined up for Jacksonville this year are Prospect at Central Point on September 29, at Rogue River on October 7, Talent at Central Point on October 13, St. Mary's at Medford on October 22 and Illinois Valley at Central Point on October 29.

Sam Bishop, a quarterback, was to be the most experienced man in the Redskin backfield this season but has moved to California.

Gene Fullmer Decisions Al Andrews at Ogden

Ogden, Utah — (U.P.) — Cyclone Gene Fullmer of West Jordan, Utah, notched his 32nd win in 33 professional fights last night by pounding out a unanimous 10-round decision over Al Andrews of Superior, Wis.

Fullmer, ranked fourth among the world's middleweights, swarmed all over his opponent in the early rounds and continued his relentless punching attack through the remainder of the bout to score the decisive win.

Two of the judges gave him eight rounds and the referee gave Fullmer nine.

Food Poisoning Cripples Idaho For Husky Tangle

Moscow, Ida. — (U.P.) — Food poisoning, which has sidelined 14 of the University of Idaho's football squad, today spelled finis to the team's chances of upsetting Washington, according to Coach Skip Stahley.

Stahley said the illness, which first hit the team last week, "just about kills" Idaho's chances for victory in the season opener at Seattle Saturday.

He said about a half dozen players became ill Sunday and linemen Eivind Resa, John Payne and Mike Hepler were treated at the infirmary.

The food poisoning, termed gastro enteritis by doctors, hit the squad last Tuesday and forced cancellation of a scrimmage. Eight players have been feeling badly since then. Stahley had only 46 men on the squad to start with.

Kretlow Heads Pitchers in PCL

San Francisco — (U.P.) — Lou Kretlow, Seattle hurler, and George Metkovich, Oakland outfielder, a pair of veteran ball players, led the Pacific Coast league during the 1955 season in the pitching and batting departments, according to statistics released today by William Weiss.

Kretlow won 14 games while losing only three for an 82.4 percentage. Metkovich topped the hitters with a .335 mark—seven points more than runner-up first baseman Steve Bilko of Los Angeles.

George Munger, Hollywood pitcher, had the most wins, 23, but lost eight times. Bob Garber of Hollywood topped the loop in strikeouts with 198.

Bilko led the league in home runs with 37 and also finished second in total hits with 204. The hits leader was Nippy Jones of Sacramento with 206. Earl Rapp, San Diego led the runs-batted-in with 133.
