Republican Women's Chairman To Speak in City; Poll Planned

Miss Bertha Adkins, national women's chairman of the Republican party, will visit Medford Tuesday, November 1, it was announced at a meeting of Jackson County Republican Women. Mrs. Stephen G. Nye, president of the group, told members during a picnic-luncheon meeting at the home of Mrs. C. Rease Bralley that Miss Adkins will speak at a luncheon meeting here on that date before continuing to Portland for the annual western states conference of Republican women.

Mrs. Nye stated that Miss Adkins' visit here had been arranged through the efforts of Mrs. Roy V. Rickard, who had conferred with Leonard Hall, national chairman of the party, and Miss Adkins during a trip east last summer. Mrs. Rickard's conference with the two was arranged by President Eisenhower, long-time friends of the Rickards, the president and General Rickard having served together from time to time during their Army careers.

Mrs. Nye also announced that the local club had been requested to take part in a national poll which the party will conduct this winter "to find out what the people are thinking." The poll will be conducted in one precinct in every city and town in the nation, and everyone in the selected precinct will be polled, regardless of party affiliation.

Mrs. J. P. Tobin reviewed the speech which Vice-President Richard Nixon gave for the young Republican biennial national convention in June. In the speech the vice-president stated that young people want a government which can keep the peace, one which is honest, loyal, and efficient, and a government which assures them a good living. He said that the Republicans had given the country this kind of government under Eisenhower, that the president and his program are extremely popular throughout the land and that Republicans "should associate themselves with and support wholeheartedly the leadership and program of our Republican president."

Mrs. Rickard told of her conferences with Miss Adkins and Mr. Hall, of brief meetings with the president and of her visit to the Eisenhower farm during which she spent several hours as a guest of Mrs. Eisenhower. She was taken on a tour of the house by Mrs. Eisenhower, and described it in detail for the women.

Mrs. Rickard was asked about the state of Mrs. Eisenhower's health and said that while the president's wife has never been a robust woman, and tires easily, that she is apparently in as good health as ever. Mrs. Rickard added that she believed Mrs. Eisenhower's health would be no factor in his decision to run for the presidency again.

About 60 women attended the meeting, first of the fall for the group.

Make way, Mommy, for a new telephone user! Comes a certain day and your little one's no longer a baby. Maybe you begin to realize this the first time he begs to talk on the telephone. All at once it's more to him than just a mysterious something or other. Of course, he's still too young to use it by himself. But already he's learned it's full of people and excitement. And what wondrous things he can do with it. With Mommy's help he can talk with Grandma, who lives ever so far away... or with Daddy at work. He can invite some of his little friends to a glorious birthday party. And as he grows up, he'll find the telephone growing more and more useful to him. In fact, there'll certainly be times, later on, when he wonders: What would I ever do without it? Pacific Telephone.

As a teen-ager, he'll talk on the phone about thousands of very important matters, such as girls and dances, ball games and cars.

As a parent, he'll use the phone in countless ways to get things done... to make life easier for his family and himself.

As a grandparent, he'll depend on the phone for easy personal contact with his widely scattered family and friends. Indeed, all through life, he'll constantly find new and important uses for his telephone.

You Who Work
GEO. N. TAYLOR
All things were made by Christ, said John the Beloved Disciple.—John 1:3. Christ created the earth, sun, moon, stars and this and every other universe. Ages passed and then He came down to this earth. He takes human birth; learns a trade, becomes the Carpenter of Nazareth. See Him rub His hand over the shoulder of that ox. Next He makes a yoke for the animal.—"Now my ox can pull, says the owner. Later, Christ tells the people—"My yoke is easy; My burden is light." And His will was ever to do God's will. Sum it up—Creation; human birth; the carpenter shop; 3 years public ministry before the people; then death for your sins; then buried but up from the grave He arose and ascended back to glory. Receive Him into your heart as your own Lord and Saviour and God gives you eternal life. And may you ever read the Bible and grow. This Message sponsored by an Oregon dairyman.—adv.
