High Bedroom Windows Said Fire Hazard by Big Insurance Company

Detroit—(U.P.)—One of the nation's largest insurance companies has warned against the current architectural trend to high horizontal windows in bedrooms. The company has stopped granting mortgage loans on houses which have only high strip windows in bedrooms because its safety experts claim they constitute a fire hazard. They say occupants can't get out of such rooms fast enough in case of fire. Each bedroom, the company says, must have at least one window at normal height.

The high strip windows have become popular because they permit furniture to be placed against nearly any wall. They also provide more privacy.

Singing Cards—New York—(U.P.)—It used to be Western Union messengers who sang birthday greetings.

Now it's Rosemary Clooney. One company is out with a happy birthday "card" in the form of a record, featuring the vocalist. She has made eight versions—addressed to your choice of wife, husband, sweetheart, mother, dad, sister, daughter and if you want to get sentimental, darling.

Card Detective To Speak Soon For Dinner Club

Ashland—Michael "Mickey" MacDougall, internationally famous card detective, will be the first speaker on the Siskiyou Knife and Fork club agenda this fall, delivering his amusing lecture, "The Inside Straight."

A great showman, MacDougall is reputed to have the "fastest hands in the world." As well as being an authority on alleged "games of chance" in which cards are the tool, he is also something of an expert on the antics of "galloping dominoes." He is the author of several books, among them "Gamblers Don't Gamble" and "Danger in Cards."

Harry A. Skerry, club president, states that Mr. MacDougall will be the first in a series of speakers which promise the "most varied and interesting season" the Siskiyou club has yet had.

Celebrities on the schedule this season include music critic and interpreter Sigmund Spaeth and Dr. Ralph Lapp, famous atomic scientist who heads the Manhattan project.

According to Mr. Skerry, a few additional couples will be welcome to join the club this year. Inquiries should be addressed to box 84, Ashland.

One manufacturer (Lewyt) will trade new cleaners for antique cleaning implements which will go in its museum of old cleaning gadgetry. The company says it has just
